

BULL RUN...

By Elizabeth Haggstrom

The 'visiting' season is almost over with school time soon on the way. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Baker and Carolyn Baker spent three days this past week visiting relatives in central Oregon.

The Frank Dunlap and James Baker families visited the Magyer Union Sunday School last Sunday, ending with a visit along the Oregon Coast.

The R. H. Stuart's visited Aims on Sunday, bringing two small boys, James Stuart and David Haggstrom, for a few days visit with Mrs. Stuart's parents and taking Kathryn back home. Camp time at Trout Creek will bring the Haggstrom family more small visitors with the three Duerksen boys and Roy Haggstrom all home between camp dates.

Earl Weeks sang a solo at morning services last Sunday in Aims Community Church. This coming Sunday, August 24, is 'Family Day' at Trout Creek Camp, and all the regular activities of Aims Community Church and Sunday School will be turned over to the camp. All families are asked to participate in the following program: Sunday School, 10 AM; Church 11 AM and dinner served at 12:30 PM

Our pastor's smallest son, Peter Goertz, stepped on the edge of a tin can and suffered a cut tendon of his big toe.

MT. HOOD...

According to the Sage of Welches Road summer only begins when Hunchback Cliff is climbed and a symbol is left to prove the ascent. The ritual has been observed over a period of the last 50 years and the symbol is usually a sheet left blowing on the heights for all the world below to see.

Golfers at the Mt. Hood Golf Club, about ten days ago saw the white signal up on the and were all ready to form rescue parties, thinking it a sign that climbers were in distress, but were soon dissuaded by old timers who recalled the old custom.

Mrs. Sinclair Wilson of Truman Road entertained at the Golf Club Sunday evening with dinner for eight ladies.

Dwayne Hergert of Sandy has made quite a hit at the Golf Club with his effortless piano playing. Dwayne also plays at Zig Zag Inn on Saturday nights.

Millie and Gary Gaulke visited Gary's parents at Wemme last week. Gary has spent the summer at Fort Sill, Oklahoma with the Army. He and Millie are living in Corvallis where Gary has one more year of college at Oregon State.

New residents on the mountain are Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Morrison recently of Los Angeles, California. Mr. Morrison is Peggy Bowman's brother. He has just completed 22 years in the Navy. They are living at Rhododendron.

Hazel Kehr, Roe and Lynn have been spending some time at the beach recently with Mrs. Kehr's mother.

According to Bob Cooke of Estacada, 42 golfers showed up Sunday morning for the Estacada golf tournament at the Mt. Hood Club. Not many small towns can boast that many golfers.

GOLF CLUB NOTES

A wide choice of colleges are indicated by some of the young people employed at the Golf Club this summer.

Susan Scales, Phyllis Simmons, and Sally Hall are all attending the University of Oregon.

Lee Arnold, the 'pro', and Jim O'Dea have also chosen the University of Oregon for graduate work.

Jan Dickman to the University of Montana. This is the school her parents attended.

Sally Christianson and Joanne Wohlford back to George Fox.

Squire Bozarth will attend New York University for graduate work in law.

Harry Moore of Honolulu and Rhododendron has attained a tennis scholarship to the University of Wyoming. Harry is rated 8th best amateur tennis player in the country. Charles Sidebottom will also attend the University of Wyoming.

Judy O'Dea returns to Portland State this year.

Gloria Gaulke to the Guitard Art Institute in Los Angeles or to Oregon State.

And Joyce Bittman, Colleen Dolp and Marg O'Dea back to Sandy high school and looking forward to it.
