

Marjorie Ann Suckow 1st Bride in New Church

Marjorie Ann Suckow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Suckow of Sandy, became the bride of Andrew J. Reeves, Jr., last month at the Sandy Immanuel Lutheran Church. Reverend Walter A. Luedtke performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Suckow was the first bride to be married in the new Immanuel Lutheran Church. Her grandmother, Mrs. Alma Suckow Widmer, was the first bride in the Old Lutheran church, 55 years ago.

The bride was gowned in white chantilly lace and taffeta with cascades of ruffles flowing into her chapel train finger tip veil which was held in place by an orange blossom crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenia and red rose buds.

The bride was attended by bridesmaid, Miss Sharon Suckow, sister of the bride, who wore a Christmas red velvet gown and carried white calla lilies and white showers with holly. Other bridesmaids were Miss Sue Joost, Miss La Rae Frank of San Francisco and Mrs. Frederick Long. All wore red velvet dresses and carried white calla lilies with showers of holly.

Louis F. Schmitz, Portland, was best man. Ushers were Edward Schwartz of Sandy, Arlin L. Ebert and Carl Norberg, all of Portland. Mrs. Dwane Gagner and Miss Margie Sandstrom were candlelighters and wore green silk gowns. The bride's mother wore champagne brocade, sheath style and a corsage of red rose buds. The bridegroom's mother wore pink lace and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the lower floor of the church. Mrs. R. J. Strasser, great aunt of the bride, poured and Mrs. Theodore Eggers assisted.

BRIEFS

Anton Malar, rt. 1, Boring, was given a real surprise party by his daughter and daughter-in-law last Sunday, January 24.

About 20 friends and relatives were on hand for the surprise party in honor of Mr. Malar's 72nd birthday.

The fourteen-year-old son of the Ted Ober family was sick with a sore throat during the deep snow when school was closed, so he didn't miss any school. He is now back in school.

The Dale Quinn family spent last weekend visiting Seaside friends, the Ed Clark family.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Reeves had a dinner guest Wednesday, January 20, Mrs. Andrew J. Reeves, Jr., who was formerly Marjorie Suckow. Marjorie now lives in Portland.

Mrs. Joyce Schultz is really a happy woman. She loves to sing at St. Michael's, especially with the new organ. Last week, Jimmie Jarvis, who is 10, and Lavonne Hickman, who is 12, came to stay with Mrs. Schultz, who is their Godmother. She is so happy to have them.

Julia Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nichols has been sick for three weeks with tonsillitis and infection but she returned to school on Tuesday, January 26.

Next week, the first Thursday of the month, a PTA meeting will be held at the Bull Run school in the gym. Intermediate rooms, grades three, four, five and six are having a science exhibit which will be on display Thursday night at the meeting.

Due to the bad weather Mrs. J. O. Swails was unable to attend the PTA meeting.

Marsha Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith, who is in the fourth grade, is working on water colors and is also in a new reader. Vicki Smith, who was in the same fourth grade class, moved Friday. James Cathy, also a fourth grader, was absent Monday, January 25, from school.

Harry Wade, who is on a week's vacation, has been snowed in for about a week and a half. Unfortunately he has had to spend most of his time chopping wood. He says this was the first white Christmas he has had up here since 1941. The Wades live on Weber Road.

Recent visitors at the home of John C. Sloan, Wildcat Creek, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrott of Aberdeen, South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Maier of Custer, South Dakota.
