

SUHS Seniors Present "Teen-Age Dracula"

"I Was A Teen-Age Dracula," a three-act mystery-comedy, will be presented tonight at the Sandy Union Hi School cafeteria at 8:00 p. m. by the senior class.

The play which spoofs and pokes fun at the standard horror films that teen-agers dearly love, will involve several stage effects and numerous sound effects throughout.

Action begins as Steve Draica, (Phil Barnard), a visitor from Transylvania, arrives under peculiar circumstances and makes his home with Aunt Emlid (Marna Dorman) and Uncle Clyde (Lynn Winchester).

Others staying in the same house are: Pete Marshall (Harold May and Sue Marshall (Karen Triplett), his sister, Marlene (Joanne Ellason) a superstitious maid and several house guests - Lola (Wanda Markwell) Maynard, a beatnik, (Jim Redmon) Dodo, (Karen Griffen, Jackie Marilyn Mahaffey.)

Other action is provided by Batty Glenda Shurtz, a persistent escapee from a nearby sanitarium; Dr. Cole (Roger York) who runs the local funny farm; Mrs. McIntyre Pat Lundsteen, and Steinbeck (Gene Searls), a policeman; and Dr. Coles two attendants, Dave Opperman and Gary Sandblast.

Production of the play is under the general direction of Mr. McPheeters. Assistant student directors are Wanda Markwell and Shirley Boring.

Sandy Wins 5-4 Over Orient

The Sandy Grade School baseball team, coached by James Duff, opened its baseball season with a 5-4 win over Orient on April 8.

Sandy's Chuck Croston was the winning pitcher, striking out 9 of the 19 batters to face him. Dale Carpenter came on to pitch the last two-thirds inning.

BULL RUN...

The Marion Darnelles are planning a trip to Tacoma and I sure hope this rain stops a little so they can enjoy the trip.

Last weekend Mrs. Ellen Rogers from Lonerock, Washington and Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong from Troutdale were Sunday afternoon visitors at the J.T. Nichols home in Bull Run. Mrs. Rogers is a great-aunt of Mrs. Nichols and the Armstrongs are her aunt and uncle.

Mrs. Nichols received word Tuesday that her grandmother had suffered a slight stroke. The Nichols family called on hand found her slightly improved the next evening but received a call late Saturday that she was worse and partially paralyzed. Mrs. Alder is 94 years old and was born and raised in Oregon. Up till the morning of her stroke she had done all her work and sewed and crochets and knits. Some of her great-grandchildren received quilts pieced by her this last winter.

The Ed Lindseys made a very hurried trip to the doctors last Sunday afternoon. It seems one of their small girls drank some furniture polish. After a session with the doctor and his stomach pump she is reported to be just fine again. Ed set a new record for getting to town in a hurry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Brooks spent Easter with the Roy Brooks family of Cottrell and in the evening they drove to Portland to visit relatives.

Mrs. Florence Rowley's mother is spending some time in visiting the Rowleys.

SANDY PARTY LINE

H. Francis Meeker and wife and daughter, Mrs. Aurelia Walsh, just returned today from a 2-day visit to Seaside to visit Mrs. Meeker's sister Mrs. Sadie Lambert and their daughter Mrs. Eileen Mercer. It rained most of the time and poured when they went down on Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Levison and Mrs. Ida Mae Meeker left April 4 for California. Mrs. Meeker stopped in Sacramento to see her oldest sister Dr. Katherine Schallef and the Levisons went on to Modesto and San Jose to see Mrs. Levison's two sons. They returned April 12 and reported beautiful weather with sun most of the time.

The Christ's Ambassador group of the Assembly of God presented a skit on Sunday evening. Those who took part in the skit: John Dyal, Jim Bennett, Gary McDonald, Dick McDonald, Leslie Connell, He-well Connell, Rebecca Dutton, Julie Osterback and Gayle Snider. Girls in the sextet who sang were: Yvonne Williams, Julie and Janice Osterback, Gayle Snider, Caroline Fritsche and Donna Wallace.

Rev. Ray Stonehocker of the Sandy Baptist Chapel is in the hospital in Portland.

Walter Duncan of Sandy is in Providence hospital where he underwent surgery last week.

The Ladies Aid of the Sandy Presbyterian church will meet in the annex April 27 at 1 p.m. A film, "End of Darkness" will be shown. Birthdays for January, February, March and April will be honored. Refreshments will be served and all ladies are cordially invited.

Sandy Ridge Extension Unit met April 14, 10:30 a.m. at the Kelso Grange Hall. Rosa German and Donita Ekmann gave a project lesson called "Time and You".

A pot-luck luncheon was served. Easter was the theme for the table decoration. Hostesses were Evelyn Hed-

Runaways Plague Cops

Spring, and the forces of nature-human and otherwise-brought a tremendous upsurge in the number of runaways reported to the Sandy precinct office of the Clackamas County Sheriff's department. Sgt. Tom Cutsforth reported wearily he had spent at least 10 of the past 14 days chasing down two different groups of runaway juveniles, boys and girls. Their ages ran from 14 to 17. In two cases, adult men were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

On April 12, Larry Lee Logsdon, 20, of Boring, was charged with the contributing offense after sheriff's deputies had spent a week tracking down the man and a group of five juveniles, three girls and two boys. Logsdon has a record of prior offenses and is a "graduate" of McLaren School and according to officers is considered by many boys from the juvenile home as a model of behavior.

On April 14, Ronnie P. Wilcox, 20, of Boring, was arrested on the same charge as Logsdon. In his company were a 13-year-old girl, a 16-year-old girl and a 17-year-old boy.

The runaways had been missing four days when officers found them in the morning. The juveniles fled into the brush on seeing the police approach and it took until early evening before they were located again.

Measles Outpop Record For '59

OREGON CITY — According to the latest report from the Clackamas county health department, reported cases of measles in the county are more than double the amount reported the same time last year.

The health department reported 88 cases of measles last week — 66 "red" measles and 22 German measles.

Last week there were 28 cases of influenza, 8 of scarlet fever and two of strep throat.

Water Supply Outlook Brightens In The Valley

The 1960 water supply outlook for the irrigation season in Willamette Valley remains "fair" although improved slightly during the last month due to above normal precipitation over most of the valley, according to a report released today by W. T. Frost, Snow Survey Supervisor for U.S. Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, Oregon Agriculture Experiment Station and State Engineer, State of Oregon.

Reservoir storage is above normal for this time of year in the five multi-purpose reservoirs and soil moisture improved during the last month.

Snow cover along the Cascades had a good increase during the month but is only 61 percent of the 1943-57 average. In general, it is 23 percent better than last year at this time but was melted back to fairly high elevations during the month by warm temperatures and rain.

Soil moisture conditions were improved significantly during March by rains and snow melt on all but the higher watersheds under deep snow cover. These high watershed soils will still absorb some snow melt water.

Storage in the multi-purpose reservoirs in the valley is above normal for this time of year.

Streamflow was above normal in most streams of the valley during the last month. The Middle Fork of the Willamette flowed 137 percent of average (1943-57) last month but still contributed only 65 percent of average for the October-March period, furnished by U. S. Geological Survey, Portland, Oregon.

Forecasts of spring and summer runoff have come up on the larger streams and now vary from 69 percent on the North Santiam to 91 percent on the main Willamette at Salem. Smaller streams without reservoir storage are still expected to have a "fair" to "poor" late season flow.

Firwood Extension

The Firwood Extension Unit met April 12 with Mrs. Helen McDowell leading the demonstration "New Fabrics". Mrs. Genevieve Leech and Mrs. Hazel McQuaw were in charge of the plant sale which netted $10.85. About 30 members and guests attended.

Grace Lamb, chairman of the nominating committee reported this list of officers to be elected for next year's activities: Arleigh Hall, chairman; Mrs. Decker, vice-chairman; Mrs. Hazel McQuaw, secretary and Mrs. Muriel Anderson, treasurer.

Luncheon was served at 11:30 under direction of Mrs. McQuaw, Mrs. Pansy Iman, Mrs. Vera Hunt and Mrs. Velma Metzger.

The Daughters Majorettes of Sandy High School sent a letter thanking the unit for the $10 which was given them to send them to the State Basketball tournament.

Mrs. Leech, Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Josephine Lamb are in charge of Firwood's exhibit for the annual Achievement Day tea to be held April 25 at 11:30 a.m. at the Grange Hall in Kelso. Brightwood Unit will host. The tea will feature a cotton dress style show and colored slides of Japan.

Last meeting for the Firwood Unit is the second Tuesday in May at the annex of the Community Presbyterian church with Mrs. Carolyn Decker leading a demonstration titled "Time and You".

Guest To Speak On Phillipines

Guest speaker Friday at the Sandy Assembly of God Church will be Mrs. Elva Vanderbout, missionary to the Phillipines.

For the past twelve years, Mrs. Vanderbout has worked among the Igorot tribes in the Mountain Province, on the Island of Luzon.

She is known as the "Americana Among the Headhunters", having made successful contact with several villages of headhunters. She was the first and only white woman to go to one particular headhunter village.

Bible schools for the young people have also been an important part of her work, as has Bethesda Children's home which she established.

Mrs. Vanderbout will have a 17-year-old Igorot girl with her. She will speak and show pictures of the Phillipines on Friday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.
