

FAMILY FUN TIME

Modern American families are moving out-of-doors this summer in larger numbers than ever before. And as a wonder, because picnicking is a perfect package of family fun time.

What's equally important, too, is that picnicking is one family entertainment that's convenient and economical. Just a few basic picnic necessities, some good food and a measure of sunshine—and you and your family are on your way to an enjoyable day.

High on the list of essentials for a successful picnic is a plentiful supply of cold, refreshing drinks. Romping in the warm summer sun brings on a big thirst in active youngsters—and adults, too. And this is when a cool drink is really appreciated.

Compact Container

In the above photo are two of the convenient jugs available for toting your picnic beverages. Both contain double layers of fiberglass insulation that'll keep liquids hot or cold for hours.

On the left is a striped, half-gallon jug. The compact size of this spiffy container makes it ideal for use on boats and in cars, as well as on picnics and outings. The jug is available in two color combinations: flowing dark blue lines against a light blue background; and flowing red lines against a white background. For easy identification, you can keep your cold drinks in the blue jug, and your hot beverages in the red one.

Does your family's preference lean to canned drinks and bottled sodas? Then the handy and attractive Scotch plaid cooler in the center is perfect for you. This circular cooler can be jam-packed with bottles and cans—and every one of the drinks will taste as refreshing as if it was just popped out of the home refrigerator. What's more, this same cooler can be used for carrying part of your picnic foods.

Lumberjack Appetites

A word to the wise. Even small eaters develop lumberjack appetites once they're out in the fresh air. So it's a good idea to bring along plenty picnic fixin's. Easy-to-prepare sandwiches, a healthy helping of salad, fresh fruit and cookies or cake ought to satisfy even the hungriest of the picnickers.

You can pack all of these goodies in the eye-catching sky blue portable ice chest shown at the right. Here's an item that's as essential to picnicking as sunlight and warm weather. Constructed of long lasting steel, this picnic chest is a veritable traveling refrigerator. It'll keep your foods fresh and crisp no matter how hot Old Sol gets. Big, easy-to-grasp handles make carrying the chest a minor matter, and bottle openers are built into both ends of the product.

Liquid Refrigerant

By the way, there's no longer any need to put up with soggy sandwiches in your picnic chest because the ice melted. Now available is a quick freezing, liquid refrigerant that's packed in an attractive Scotch plaid can—just about the size of a juice can. You can use this refrigerant over and over. After each picnic, just pop it into the refrigerator, and it will be ready for duty on your next outing.

Let's see now. Plenty of food, convenient picnic equipment in which to carry it, and an encouraging word from the weatherman. Looks like you're all set for a "fun in the sun" outing.

Eggs Proved Low Cost Buy

What protein food can you buy for 25 cents to 35 cents a pound? What protein food can you serve for 8 cents to 15 cents a serving? Eggs are the answer, says Mrs. Helen McDowall, Clackamas County Home Extension Agent.

This high quality protein food can provide interest and variety in family meals during these warm summer days. Use them to provide more protein in salads, for garnishes and for sandwiches. Now is the time for deviled eggs. Nutrition packed eggnogs make cool refreshing drinks when children's appetites lag in hot weather. Keep hard-cooked eggs ready in the refrigerator for quick meals or snacks.

During July and August small eggs will come to market in quantity at favorable prices. This sometimes creates a problem for the homemaker because recipes are developed for us of medium size eggs. Here is a guide for substituting one egg size for another. Five large eggs equal six medium eggs, or seven small eggs.

At present prices, you will get more for your money when you buy a dozen small eggs if they are 15 cents or more below the cost of large eggs. Medium eggs are a better buy if they are at least 7 cents or 8 cents below the price of large eggs.

Recipe for Convenience

An extension phone for the kitchen* keeps you in touch, saves steps and costs only about four cents a day. Available in colors, too. Call our business office today.

YFC Rally Due On Saturday

Three attractions are scheduled for the Youth for Christ rally Saturday night, July 23 at 7:45 p.m. in the Benson High School Auditorium.

A musical program will be presented by the BIOLA College Musical Team of La Mirada, California, often referred to by its corporate name, "The Bible Institute of Los Angeles. Musical selections will range from the rhythmic Southern and Negro spirituals to the religious classics. Vocal solos, instrumental embellishments and special arrangements combine to set the program apart as unique and interesting.

"GIDEON, The Liberator", 7th in the full-color summer film series will be shown. The story portrays Gideon, a courageous but humble servant of God, chosen to rescue Israel from the Midianites who threaten to destroy their land, he destroys their idols and drives out heathen invaders with 300 men.

Evangelist Tom Fair, a favorite of Youth for Christ, is guest speaker. Fair is a former radio and stage entertainer, sawmill and logging superintendent and rancher, called from a successful business life into full-time evangelistic work.

Reports will be given on the Youth for Christ Convention held last week at Winona Lake, Indiana. The seventeen teen delegates from the Portland area returned from Winona Wednesday morning.

Make Surprises To Turn Meal Into A Party

An ordinary picnic can be turned into a real party with the simple addition of a few "surprises!"

If you're planning an outdoor meal for your youngsters why not provide "Surprise Baskets" which can so easily be made up in a few minutes from pint-sized round paper containers to which pipe-cleaner-and ribbon handles are attached.

Here's a delightful way to fill the "basket": First, at the very bottom, hide the surprise—a little egg man. He's a hard cooked egg with bright pinpoints eyes, and a cheerful pinpoints smile—all nicely wrapped in transparent saran, so he can be admired before he's eaten. Next surround this with fresh carrots and celery sticks cut to bite size. Then put in a saltw crisp blanket of potato chips, and cover him up.

FINISHING TOUCHES

Finally, put the pretty "cover" on the basket. The "cover" is a round sandwich, made of your children's favorite kind of bread, cut into a circle just so it will fit the top of the basket and hide what's underneath. The sandwich is decorated with a carrot and green pepper "flower" and it, too, is in transparent wrap. The youngsters will get an enormous kick out of eating the "cover" and digging through the various layers of the picnic basket to discover

Sandy Locals

The Sandy Business and Professional Women's Club plans a pot-luck picnic the evening of July 27, Wednesday, at 6:30 PM at the home of Helen Sulzbach on Marmot road. The BPW will also have a booth at the Jaycee street dance carnival on Saturday, July 30. Members met July 13 at the home of president Ruth Howeller to plan the educational program for the coming year.

Martha and Diane Williams and Diane's fiancé, Larry Kilder, went to Pendleton over the weekend to visit John Williams and his family. Martha reported Saturday's temperature at 105 degrees and Sunday's temperature, 107!

me in gay colors and patterns which the young fry enjoy eating from, and best of all—for mom, no dishwashing.

Calico sandwiches will please the youngsters.

CALICO SANDWICH SPREAD

1 qt. cup peanut butter
1 qt. cup chopped cooked ham
1 half cup shredded carrots
3 tablespoons salad dressing
1 qt. teaspoon salt
12 slices bread
Carot slices
Green pepper sticks

Blend peanut butter with ham, carrots, dressing, and salt. Cut bread slices into 4-inch circles with cookie cutter or kitchen scissors. Spread one circle with filling and top with another. Arrange carrot slice and pieces of green pepper to form a flower. Make 6 sandwiches.

Roy A. Allen Passes Sunday

Roy H. Allen of Mom's Drive-In at Sandy died of a sudden heart attack Sunday morning at 2 AM in Rochester, Washington. Mr. Allen, with his wife and son, Jimmy, had been on vacation touring the Oregon beaches and were staying in Rochester at the home of Mrs. Allen's brother at the time of death.

Mr. Allen was born in Lewiston, Montana on December 28, 1885 and spent his early life in that area as a cowpuncher. He was a stagecoach driver in Yellowstone Park in 1907-08 and carried such famous people as Alice Roosevelt Longworth and H.B. Keellogg in his stage.

He did some mining and worked for the Forest Service before turning to the art of professional looking, in order to have time to travel around the United States.

He spent 13 years before coming to Sandy, working at Mollestrom Air Base in Great Falls, Montana. He has been in Sandy six years.

Funeral services were held at 11:30 AM, Thursday, July 21, at Bateman Funeral Chapel in Gresham with interment in Forest Lawn.

When your outdoor fires have served their needs, put them out! Cigarettes, campfires, trashburners and other flame sources are a real menace during summer fire weather; don't turn your back on them until they are out. Help Keep Oregon Green.
