

AT BORING— Weather Causes School Closure

By MRS. JOHN OLDS
MO 5-6929

BORING — Weather has been of some importance the past week here — what with the icy roads Thursday and the winds Saturday and Sunday. Thursday, Boring Elementary school closed for the day as highways were treacherous.

The Sandy high bus went in the ditch on 212, right below the Meier Dairy farm. No one was hurt, although Boring teacher Miss Barbara Pig lost a head-light glass when her car chose to stop right back of the bus. The passengers alighted and walked to the Norval Naas home until help arrived.

In last Saturday's wind, the Tony Davises of Portland were visiting at the John Olds' home. When they left, the Portlanders' hat sailed off in the breeze, never to be seen again.

Fire Starts

The Boring Volunteer Fire department responded to a call on Cottrell road Saturday where a transformer was out and a fire had started, leaving a number of persons without electricity.

Glenn and Grace Althaus had a tree blow over onto their garage — discovered Sunday morning, too. No damage was done to the new truck recently acquired for their logging business, the Althaus Logging Co.

Turkey highlighted the Boring school Christmas dinner last week. Raymond Gran's and Mrs. Louise Shields' sixth grades decorated the cafeteria with snowy cotton trees, trimmed with glitter.

The coming holidays are reflected in other happenings. Shirley Boring, daughter of the Willard Borings, is home for Christmas vacation which began from her college studies last Friday.

The Matt Shields are planning to have as guests, his sister, Mrs. Lillian Heise, and her sons, Norman and Richard, of San Francisco. The Shields' daughter, Bonney, will be home for Christmas Friday. Her fiancé, Ron Baker, is bringing her from Eugene, where she is teaching.

The Matt Shields and Helen Irwin toured Lloyd Center Saturday.

The Boring Community Methodist church Christmas program was held Sunday evening. Mrs. Melville Richey, Sunday school superintendent, announced the numbers.

Colleen Meier gave a welcome and Mrs. Boring's preschool class sang "Two Little Eyes." Suzanne Byrd's class of primary folk gave a recitation: Patty and Mike Wheeler, Vicki Moore and Barbara Lewis.

Mrs. John Meier's class (3rd to 5th graders) each gave individual recitations as follows: Darri Kramer, "Candy Dreams;" Leon Verdoorn, "Many Things;" Judy Naas, "Candle Glow;" Curtis Meier, "Last Instruction;" Ken Meier, "The Bearers of Gifts;" Steven Gantenbein, "Many Things;" and Ricki Ann Patterson gave the closing recitation.

Christmas Message
"A Christmas Message" was given by Ken Naas' class.

Rev. Paul Ackerman spoke briefly.

The MYF presented a number called "God's Great Gift" with Carol Meier, Myrna and Melva Richey, Judy Gregson, Diane Jones, Roberta Rolli, Larry Verdoorn, Jim Boring, Mitchell Gordian, Carl Naas, DeLores Gregson, Michelle Gregson, David Chasteen, Rex Hanson, Carol Maulding, Lee Popenhagen, Michael McKay, Patty Byrd, Hilde Olds and Kay Markham.

Diane Gantenbein, a preschooler, gave the farewell talk. Sunday morning, Rev. Paul Ackerman and a neighbor had to chop a tree out of the road way in order for the minister's family to proceed to church.
