At Damascus —

Mrs. Erna Batcheller recently returned home from a trip to Hawaii on a Grange tour. She was assistant tour director. She reports arriving in Honolulu during a tropical storm. It rained three inches with a 54 degree temperature on the first day there.

The trees and flowers grow lush and beautiful, the hills are covered with brush so thick only a rabbit can penetrate it.

Tree Climbed
The Grange group witnessed a native climb 50 ft. up a coconut tree with bare hands and feet.

The homeward trip by plane was started at 10:30 p.m. in 75 degree weather. On reaching Portland next morning at 5:30 a.m. there was ice on the plane steps and ice ¼-inch thick on the car windshield.

The group arrived home just in time for the snow and ice. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Addis, Portland, were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer.
