By Mrs. Lillian Ten Eyck

Like the Soules we, too, have bovine trouble. Being this time of year when flora and fauna are a-borning, our cows are adding to the herd. Most of bosses are good mothers and carefully guard their young but one unfeeling parent abandoned her calf when she came up for the night.

We thought we could easily catch the baby and bring it in the barn but only succeeded in scaring it so badly that it ran off into the woods and hid. So the next day when I had planned to go to a delightful Woman's club meeting, was spent hunting the missing calf.

We had heard that a calf lost will simply curl up and starve to death. It seems to be true as the calf was in that position when found. Anyway it was caught and dragged back to its mother who didn't seem too happy to get it. I am still mourning over the missed club meeting as I've heard it was an exceptional one.

Battle of Skunks
The battle of the skunks is still going on. Caught another big one the other night. Doesn't any one else get the benefit of their delightful company?

Was so pleased to hear that Brenda Beale, daughter of my English friend, 32 Couper Road, Mexborough, Yorkshire, England, has booked passage for New York next October. From New York she will fly to Oregon where she will spend a month with her pen pal, Mrs. Shirley Caddy. We hope Shirley will share her with some of the rest of us.

The next Woman's club meeting will be March 7, the topic, "My Lady's Accessories," chairman, Mrs. William Anderson. Hostesses—Mrs. R. S. Hall, Larry Armstrong, James Duff, Roy Hickey, R. S. Bunnell will serve a desert luncheon at 1 p.m. A business meeting at 2 p.m. will be followed by a program. All are invited.

The Saturday painting class will be taught by Mrs. Anna Kirwin, well known Portland artist. She must have at least six enrolled to have class and not more than 10 as Mrs. Kirwin thinks she can't do justice to any more.

Houses sided in wood can last 100 years or more if the wood is properly painted and protected.

Those seeking a friendly bathroom in durable woods like western red cedar now find that, by giving the panel boards an application of priming paint on the back, they can prevent moisture absorption.

Different parts of a garden can be separated by simple wooden screens made of a good outdoor wood like western red cedar. The children's play area with its usual clutter can be separated from the adult entertaining patio or deck.
