

Forest Service To Sell Timber

Sale of 6,766,000 board feet of timber from the Estacada and Zig Zag ranger districts of Mt. Hood National Forest will be held at the forest supervisor's office at 340 N.E. 122nd Ave., Portland, April 2. Sale will be by oral bidding, according to the forest service.

Included will be Douglas and Noble fir, western red cedar and western hemlock, with minimum prices acceptable being from $19.75 to $25.60 per thousand feet on Douglas fir, $13.30 on Noble fir, $7.75 on western red cedar and from $5.60 to $14.35 on hemlock and other species. Much of the timber for sale will be blowdown resulting from the Oct. 12 windstorm. The greater amount of timber will be sold from the Estacada ranger district, including 1,700,000 feet of Douglas fir, 1,200,000 feet of hemlock, and 2,900,000 feet of hemlock. The remainder of the timber offered is in the Snowline and Little Lake areas of Zig Zag ranger district.

Pretty Plus —

Brown-Eyed Julie Eyes Stenography

A brown-eyed beauty in pink and apple green, Julie Osterback sat on the sun-warmed front steps of Sandy high looking as much like a blossom off one of those flowering trees as any girl could ever hope to. "I just love the outdoors!" she said, forgetting her initial shyness.

Julie is admittedly a shy girl, a quality that adds to the ethereal charm she possesses. But Friday's dancing sunshine was warm enough to dispel both shyness and the shock of finding out only seconds before that she had been chosen Pretty Plus of the month.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Martin Osterback, Julie lives on the east edge of Sandy. Her elder sister, the fourth member of the family, is now living in New Jersey, so there's only Julie and her parents at home now.

During her freshman and sophomore years Julie was a member of Girls Athletic Association, but she was not active in clubs in her junior year. This year she is a member of the high school Junior Chamber of Commerce Club. This group, Julie explains, works to raise money to support the school activities.

Likes Studies
"I like school work," Julie says. "I've liked it especially well this year as my schedule is not as tight as in other years."

She looks forward to graduation, she says, but admits she is going to miss Sandy high. She is taking business courses in preparation for secretarial work or perhaps secretarial school.

Her plans are to work this summer. In the fall she may go to business school, where she would take advanced courses in the typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and business machines.

Last year she was awarded a pin for being the most outstanding first year shorthand student. She is now taking second year shorthand and says she averages about 100 words per minute, although she has a few times taken 120 words a minute.

Julie's favorite sport is basketball. "I love basketball," she says. "I like to go to the games and yell—I get real excited!" She says she prefers basketball to football not only because it's faster but also because she understands it better.

Julie's hobbies are bowling and, in summer, swimming. She says she loves to be out swimming in the nice weather.

Enjoys Sewing
In the winter she enjoys sewing and makes many of her clothes. She always sews by patterns, she says, in preference to attempting to design the things she makes.

Julie doesn't dance, as her church, the Assembly of God, does not favor dancing. This has kept her out of some school activities, Julie says.

As might be expected, Julie has a boy friend. He is through school, but she prefers not to name him.

Asked about her plans for marriage, she says she will wait until she is older and more able to cope with responsibilities—maybe in a couple of years. She loves children and hopes to have a family.

Describing the qualities she will want in the man she marries, Julie says he should be easy to get along with—not moody. She'd like him to have a good personality and in this she thinks a good sense of humor is very important. She also would want him to be considerate and mature enough to handle responsibilities. And he should be fond of children.

Julie likes her home town and expects to continue living in the area, although she admits that circumstances could change her mind.

SANDY KIWANIS CLUB

By AL MORNER

A total of 101 Kiwanians are serving in the 88th Congress of the United States, according to information received by Clyde Sutherland, president of the Sandy Kiwanis club. The information came as the result of a survey conducted early this year. President Clyde said. There are 23 Kiwanians in the Senate, and 78 in the House of Representatives, he added.

In announcing the extent of Kiwanis participation in the 88th Congress, Kiwanis International President Merle H. Tucker, Gallup, New Mexico, pointed out that Kiwanis, which constitutes less than one per cent of the country's population, contributes more than a sixth of its national legislative leadership.

"This is in keeping with our traditional emphasis on the importance of assuming individual citizenship responsibility," he said.

Two well known members of the Senate, both long time Kiwanians, and both former Kiwanis District Governors, added their comments too.

Said the Honorable John Sparkman (D-Alabama), former Governor of the Alabama Kiwanis District and former nominee for the United States vice-presidency:

"When I first came to Congress 26 years ago I was pleased to find that fellow Kiwanians were in both the House of Representatives, and the Senate of the United States. Through the years it has been interesting to note the increasing number of Kiwanians that serve in the two houses of Congress. Kiwanis has taught through the years the principle of service and the principle of public responsibility. It is not surprising then that so many in whom these principles have been instilled seek to serve in this field."

The Honorable Karl Mundt (R-South Dakota), former Governor of the Minnesota-Dakotas Kiwanis District, said:

"The 1963 theme of Kiwanis International — 'Responsibility, the Key to Freedom' — is no more aptly demonstrated than in the Congress of the United States. Within this national legislative body are many members of Kiwanis.

Skip the sulphur and molasses— get a CHEVROLET SUPER SPORT

Chevrolet Super Sports* have a charm that soothes your springtime yen for romantic adventure as fast as you can slip into a bucket seat. (Especially the Impala's, with its adjustable new Comfortilt steering wheel*.) Front bucket seats are a great start, but Super Sports also feature plush all-vinyl interiors, special interior-exterior trim in tasteful touches, and a veritable feast of goodies we call performance options*. Chevrolet and Chevy II Super Sports invite adventure in convertible or coupe form. That same Super Sport zing applies to the Corvair Monza Spyder, very breezy with its air-cooled 150-horsepower rear-mounted engine, and 4-speed shift*. Ditto for the new Corvette Sting Ray, a magnificent thoroughbred among pure-blood sports cars with not a single sacrifice in comfort. Both Spyder and Sting Ray come in coupe or convertible styles. All Chevrolet Super Sports are like spring days—you've got to get out in them to savor them. So catch yourself a passing zephyr and waft on down to your Chevrolet showroom.

Charts Tell Sandy High Enrollment

By Charles Croston

It is both interesting and informative to look back over the growth of Sandy high school during the past few years. These figures have been taken from the monthly and quarterly reports of the years listed and refer to the actual number of students in school on the dates listed.

June 1951, 339 students; May 1952, 375; May 1953, 394; May 1955, 415; May 1956, 437; May 1957, 460.

May 1958, 493; May 1959, 466; June 1960, 491; May 1961, 512; May 1962, 528; Dec. 1962, 620; and Sept. 1963, ?.

In January 1963 when these charts were worked out, we had 147 juniors, 176 sophomores, 190 freshmen and 200 students in the eighth grade in our feeder elementary schools.

If these students all continue on at Sandy high school, without figuring intangible unknown data such as transfers in or out of the district, dropouts, etc., we would have an enrollment of 713 students next fall.

Demonstration Given by Artist

An old covered bridge on the upper Molalla river was the scene selected by Arthur Selander, Oregon artist, for the demonstration he gave in oil painting earlier this month at the Mt. Hood Art club. The artist explained his technique as he worked.

Selander brought about 50 pencil sketches he had made. These were put on display for the art students. A master of detail, the Oregon artist works in charcoal as well as in oil and pencil. The Mt. Hood Art club plans to present Selander again in a demonstration of another medium.
