

Nell's Notes

By NELL HOWE
Hood-Land Reporter

Summer must be just around the corner—the bear has been seen around Zig Zag, and will no doubt be looking forward to calling on us. From the looks of my garbage can he called here first.

You should stop in at the Weavary and meet Mert and Emma's new model. She may be made of wood and yarn and nuts and bolts but she is loaded with personality. Gals could get some very new and striking ideas from her hair-do. Especially the color. I am sure they called her Mehtable.

Jennie has some very clever and original bird houses, feeders, and shrines at the Antique Shop. Wouldn't mind moving into one of the bird houses myself, but they are in the small compact bird size.

The Golden Rule Sewing club journeyed to the city and had lunch with Beth Bradley at Beth's new home in the Terwilliger Plaza. Everyone enjoyed the outing very much.

Elsie Is Home

Elsie Creighton is home now and feeling ever so much better. Just being home has done wonders for her, also for Walter and Pearl. Pearl is the last of their bloodhounds. She may be blind but no one fools Pearl. She has even decided that I may come and go without too much fuss. There is nothing quite like the sound of a baying bloodhound. Love it.

Marty Amacher has been battling a vicious cold, and had to stay home from work for a few days. And she was missed, muchly.

Also the chicken pox is making its merry way around the mountain for the umpteenth time. Leanne Kasch is down with them, then Kent Blaisdell and so on to the rest of the family and friends. Just hope all the guys and gals of the graduating class make it through graduation without coming down with them. Every year they seem to show up about this time, must come out in the spring. I think this is supposed to be spring. For a while, it looked as if we were going to have the winter of the big snow in May.

Class Reunion

Attended my graduation class's 30 year reunion last Saturday night. From Sandy high school, that is. It was a ball meeting, again. Of all the characters that I went to school with I seem to be the only one that remained a character. With good luck, that is if the pictures they took come out half way decent, and if the paper will print one, I hope to have one in the paper when they arrive. More on that later.

Lamb Show Set At Fairground

Premium lists, entry blanks, and rules for the 17th Annual Clackamas County Spring Lamb, Wool Show and Sale went to 400 sheepmen of the county this week, announced A. Zundel, County Agent, who is secretary of the Clackamas County Stockman's Assn., sponsor of the annual show.

All fat lambs shown will be sold at the conclusion of the show. The large number of lambs exhibited usually attracts competitive buyers for a lively sale, says chairman Bernier.

The Rural Dell Womens club will serve a barbecued lamb dinner to all comers at noon on the fairgrounds.

Anyone interested who does not receive a premium list may get one at the extension office, says Zundel.

Fashions come and fashions go, but clothes are never really outdated to non-profit Goodwill Industries, where handicapped workers repair and clean them. Sales of renewed clothing in Goodwill stores are a major source of the income that provides jobs, job training and rehabilitation services for Goodwill's handicapped people.
