INDEPENDENTS KEEP YOUR FOOD PRICES DOWN!

That's right — independent food stores like Zim's do keep your total food bill down. Stores like Zim's can be run far more efficiently than a big chain operation for a number of reasons. For example, there isn't a long, expensive chain of command to add to costs. Most of the extra hands in a chain are "executives" with the pay scale to suit the title. At Zim's everyone works. So you save. And have the friendly knowledge you're helping a home-based business.
