Two important advantages of automation on the farm, say Ohio State University Extension agricultural engineers, are the release of the operator from daily routine tasks for more important duties, and a definite increase in the accuracy of the work performed.

BUSTLING AROUND BORING

By MRS. JOHN OLDS
MO 5-6929

BORING—Work on the Boring elementary school's new gymnasium began May 24, the day report cards were handed out. Some trees had to be cut down, because they had considerable rot in their tops, and earth hauling preceded building of the forms.

The final day of school, teachers lunched together in the music room and heard Principal Norval Naas announce that the whole staff would be back next September—not one replacement in the school.

The May potluck dinner at Boring Community Methodist church honored this year's graduates, including Candy Ackerman, Ken Naas, Merritt Schilling, Myrna and Melva Richey, Larry Verdoorn, Rex Hanson, Linda Moore, Lee Poppenhagen, Diane Jones, Carol Meier, Rev. Paul Ackerman and Mrs. Melville Richey spoke briefly to the graduates.

Hosts for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Melville Richey, Mr. and Mrs. Don Verdoorn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Meier.

Wheeler's Leaving

Mrs. C. H. Poppenhagen, Mrs. Esme Jensen, and Mrs. Ruth Jones were hostesses for a morning coffee honoring Mrs. Bert Wheeler, last week in the Methodist church annex.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler have sold their home on Deep Creek Road and are moving soon to British Columbia, where they have purchased 900 acres and will reside there with their three children.

The contingent we took home from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis' party for music students at Sandy high school (the department which Mr. Lewis directs) pronounced it the best party of the year. Phyllis Comer, Corinne Nishakawa and Hilde Olds were sure Perle Mesta couldn't match Mrs. Lewis as a hostess.

Funniest stories of all concerned the baby shower with which students surprised the Lewises. A favorite was Jim Knoll's gift of a Tootsie sucker to be "Americanistic" and be born with a Tootsie roll instead of a silver spoon.

Shirley Comer and Karen Zulauf, next door neighbors, celebrated their respective birthdays on May 29. Shirley was 13 and Karen, 8.

Bonney Shields made a quick trip home Friday afternoon, although she is still teaching in Eugene, to attend her brother Matt's graduation exercises at Sandy high school Friday evening.

Fire Damages Home

Sunday a furnace at the Ulrich Imhos home became overheated and the resultant blaze, which Boring Volunteer Fire department men quenched, caused a $1,000 loss.

Response to the Bloodmobile visit was smaller than anticipated last month. There was some misunderstanding about time of the stopover, and men were responding to a call at property belonging to the Wickshams and to a brush fire off Epperson and Kelso roads at the same time.

Hazel Hite has changed car models recently, driving a new Impala now, but not colors. "Do they make them any way but green?" she asks. She takes considerable joshing, too, because she had to have her garage enlarged to accommodate the new model.

Cars Keep Growing

Incidentally, the story of that garage parallels the story of automobiles. Originally, the garage contained a workbench. When the Hites moved there, the workbench was removed to accommodate their pickup, and when Hazel bought her '57 model, there were only inches to spare—and this year renovation was the only answer.

end. The C. R. Zulaufs have acquired a cute black rooster spaniel this past week.

The A. B. Comers went to Short Sands last Saturday.

The J. P. Olds and Mrs. John Hegstrom and Hildur Hegstrom spent the weekend at Seaside.

4-H Leaders Elect Officers

Mrs. Walter Blaisdell, Wemme, has been re-elected president of the Clackamas County 4-H Leaders Assn. for the coming year.

Other officers elected at the leaders' meeting were Mrs. James Franklin, Milwaukie, vice president; Mrs. Helen Fleming, Concord, secretary; Mrs. J. F. Frentriss, Milwaukie, treasurer; Mrs. Larry Guthu, Barton, home economics director; Mrs. Sid Gorbett, Colton, general director, and Marion Stewart, Canby, agricultural director.

Preparation of exhibits, special contests, entries and other arrangements for the County Fair were discussed during the meeting.
