

Eyes on Eagle Creek

The recent rains in this area were really appreciated as pastures were getting very dry; nice to see them getting green again. It's been a busy week in Eagle Creek.

Mrs. Charles Starrett gave a pink and blue shower at her home on Judd road for Mrs. Jerry Douglas of Boring. Some of the ladies that attended were Mrs. Dora Clester and her daughter Nola, Mrs. L. O. Gerber, Florence Cloninger, Mrs. Douglas and three friends from Boring. Several ladies were unable to attend but sent gifts. Mrs. Federer from Walla Walla, Wash., sister of Mrs. Starrett, was spending the week end at the Starrett home and attended the shower.

An open house tea was held at the McGuire Rest Home near Sandy, Tuesday afternoon. Those attending from Eagle Creek area were Mrs. Hazel Beers, Ruth Olmstead, Florence Cloninger, Ann Judd, Ruth Jaylord and Emma Buhlinger. A pleasant time was enjoyed both by patients and visitors. It brings these people much happiness to know they are remembered. In this busy world we are inclined to forget those less fortunate than we so lets visit them more often.

A pink and blue shower was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Al Johnson Sr., for Mrs. Robert Johnson. Those who attended were Mrs. Hazel Pierce and two daughters: Jacky and Nancy, Mrs. Ernie Nero and her mother Mrs. Mabel Montgomery, Mrs. Ray King and her daughter Debbie, Mrs. Al Johnson Jr., Mrs. Chet Sneath and friend Mrs. Taylor from Fairview, Mrs. Edward Gzik and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Linden and daughter, Camilla, Mrs. Kurt Antoni, Mrs. Homer Ballentine and Mrs. C. C. Colwell. A daughter of Mrs. Johnson Sr., Shirley and her two daughters from Gresham also were there and Mrs. Jerry Hofstra from Tygh Valley.

Mrs. Lena Kershem of Oregon City spent a few days visiting at the L. O. Gerber home, Friday afternoon she visited at the home of Dora and Nola Clester.

Nola Clester drove a busload of Eagle Creek children to the Gresham skating rink Thursday evening.

The Eagle Creek Presbyterian church held a family night potluck supper at the church Sunday evening. A song fest was held afterwards. Have spent many an evening at this form of entertainment, and it certainly is to be commended. We are too inclined to rely on TV nowadays for entertainment... let's revive the Song Fests. World Fellowship meeting will be held this Tuesday at the home of Florence Cloninger.

Nola Clester visited a dentist in Gresham last Tuesday and we hope it was a painless one.

A Unification meeting was held at the Eagle Creek school Tuesday evening at 7:30. Guest speakers from the Estacada high school attended.

At 6:30 a school lunch was served to the parents under the auspices of the National School Lunch Program.

Thursday afternoon the Eagle Creek Mothers Club met at the Grange Hall to clean same in readiness for the annual luncheon to be served on Friday. There was a good attendance and many nice prizes were given away.

Saturday Mrs. Thelma Boyce, Mrs. Nan Nelson and Mrs. C. C. Colwell motored to Kent, Wash., where they visited the Frank Paden family. Mrs. Paden was the former Karen Colwell. They also visited the Alan Flowers family in Seattle.

Have one meeting to announce -- The first fall Knitting class will be held Friday, Oct. 22, at the home of Bobbie Fliala. Dessert and coffee will be served as refreshments.

Hunting season is in full swing in the area. A caravan of six families went over into the Heppner area last week end. They included the C. C. Colwell family, C. K. Colwell family, Earl Dryers, Ken Phipps, Len Jasperson and John Scalf families. All returned home early Tuesday morning.

Scenery in the mountains was beautiful, the vivid yellow of the tamarack and the orange of the birch mixed in with the different shades of green was lovely to behold.

LADIES NIGHT AT KIWANIS HERE
Tonight will be ladies night at the Kiwanis club of Sandy meeting held at the Community Presbyterian church social hall. Meeting will start at 6:15 p.m.

In charge of the program for the ladies night meeting will be Neil Jackson.

IDAHO VISITOR
Mrs. Jack Pennell of Great Falls, Idaho has been a recent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy King.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting

Nature flings out a last flare of color in October and the five hostesses of the Sandy Woman's Club, Mrs. Marie Thomas, chairman, Mrs. Gladys Slack, Mrs. Pansy Inman, Mrs. Sadie Bosholm and Mrs. Lillian TenEyck utilized October's colors to the utmost in their decorations of the downstairs Club Hall.

Masses of huge vivid dahlias and scarlet leaves centered the tables laid with Halloween figured coverings, on which pumpkin pie and doughnuts were served to the appreciative club members.

Appropriately for the program, Mr. Hanlon of the "House of Color," Gresham gave such an excellent talk on "Color in the Home", Hanlon who has had extensive training in Art Appreciation in Chicago displayed color wheels showing the graduation of colors and the relation of colors to each other.

There are now 3,500 different shades of the primary colors so there should be something to satisfy every taste. He warned home owners not to choose too deep shades for walls of home. Pick colors that are restful and those that you are happy to live with. He things it a mistake for contractors to complete a finish a home, as the new owners may be unhappy with the colors chosen and also the furniture may clash with the decor.

The antique finish being put on the market now for old scratched furniture is gaining popularity and is a real savings to the home owners. It has also raised the price of second hand furniture as at small cost it can be made to look like new.

Forty three states have laws that every can of paint must display on label the ingredients it contains. So far Oregon does not. Water paint with 20% rubber is considered the best on the market and is more durable and longer lasting than the old style paint with lead base. Cheap paint is more expensive in the long run so do buy the best when in the market for a change of color.

BPW's September Girls of the Month Choices Are Honored Here

For the first time in the history of Sandy high school there has been a tie for the Girl of the Month honors. Selected for the month of September, on the basis of friendliness, were Mary Apa and Jan Carothers.

Miss Apa is the treasurer of the associated student body at the school. She is active in the musical department at the high school as director of the Pinetones, a member of the Pionales and A Cappella Choir.

Sandra Deming Gains Junior Honors at OSU

Sandra Elaine Deming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Deming of Sandy, is among 79 Oregon State University Juniors that have qualified for Junior Honors on the basis of outstanding scholastic achievement during their two years of study.

To qualify for honors recognition, juniors must have grade averages of at least B plus for their university work to date. Junior Honors is the highest scholastic recognition for third-year students at OSU.

Sandra, with the others, will be honored at a special campus Honors Accolade, sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society. She is an education major at the school.

During the fall concert on Wednesday of next week she will be directing the girls of the choir.

Included among her future plans after graduation is attending college in the fall and majoring in music.

The other September Girl of the Month, Miss Carothers, is president of the American Field Service a member of the National Honor Society, Speech Club, and editorial page editor of the Pioneer Press at the school.

She intends to go on to college following graduation at Sandy High but is undecided in the field she wishes to major.

Both of the Sept. honorees were special guests of the Sandy BPW meeting last Wednesday, Oct. 6, at the Jimmy's Alpine Hut in Rhododendron.
