HAVE A HAIRCUT?

by Karen Hall
This is the height of a new age, an age which most grown-ups would rather not have had come at all. This age I am speaking of is the age of "girl-haired" boys. That's right, your're not hearing things. I said "girl-haired" boys. If you don't believe me, just watch "Shindig" on Thursday night. One of Paul Rever's Raiders wears his hair in a flip!

Don't get me wrong now. It's not that I don't like popular music. It's just that any more you can't tell the girls from the boys, unless of course one is wearing pants and the other a skirt or dress. Lately it has gotten so bad people have been calling the Beatles "lady bugs."

Yes, this age is one to be remembered. It will probably be engraved in the minds of all parents forever. The only thing good about this age is the fact that it is an excellent conversation piece.

Also the boys who are participating in this new age will have something to tell their children and grandchildren about. I could just hear one now: "I'll never forget the time I had my back turned to Mr. Weatherbee and he called me "Mary!"

Well, since it has been started and is spreading like wild fire, there is nothing anyone can do about it except sit back and wait for it to end--if it ever does.

SCHOOL LUNCHES

By Junior Williams

There is sometimes debate on whether our school lunch is good or bad. I think that our cooks are very efficient. They make the best lunch they can.

What can you expect to get for 20¢ a day?

For our lunch the cooks give us a balanced meal. Sometimes they give us lots more than we pay for.

They have milk every day, which is very good for us. Most of the time the milk is cold, which is good on a hot sunny day when we are tired. Sometimes it may be a little sour, but can you expect them to taste everyone's milk and find out if it is sour or not?

There are hardly ever any over-cooked things. They are usually cooked perfectly.

Some people don't like what the cooks give them, but I think the cooks give us what they think is best for us.

I give my congratulations to the cooks of our school for all the fine meals they have made for us.

BABYSITTING CLINIC

Grant High School presented a lecture on baby sitting Tuesday, Oct. 5, which was attended by about 50 eighth grade girls, accompanied by Miss Tomlinson. It featured Mrs. Anne Young, Public Health Nurse; Officer Bob Tardiff of the Portland Police Dept., and Lt. Jim Sunderlund, school fire inspector.

The lecture contained items on fire prevention, evacuation, and extinguishing a fire. Mrs. Young demonstrated safety tips on the care of infants and young children. We learned what to do about lost children, burglars, and other various emergencies. Above all, the point stressed most was the importance of a telephone.

Key Clubbers Are Guests of Sandy Kiwanis

Members of the Sandy high school Key club were honored guests at the Kiwanis club of Sandy dinner meeting held last Thursday evening. The group met at the social hall of the Community Presbyterian church.

Special speaker of the evening was Vic Wilson, a former district governor of Kiwanis. Wilson is sales manager of the Portland General Electric office at Gresham.

Wilson told members of Kiwanis that success of young key clubbers today depended a lot upon the dedication and guidance shown to them by fellow Kiwanians. He summed up his talk by providing the group an illustration of the two seas -- Sea of Galilee and Dead Sea. Both receive water from the Jordan River, he related, but only one gives out in return, and is a useful sea. In like manner he urged key clubbers to live lives of "giving and receiving" that they may be useful ones.

Ladies Aid Picks Officers

Mrs. Frank Forman was elected new president of the Ladies Aid of the Community Presbyterian church in Sandy. Officers for 1966 were elected during the September meeting of the group held at the home of Mrs. Carl Sandstrom.

Other officers elected to assist Mrs. Forman were: Mrs. Harold Tharp, vice president; Mrs. Lewis Hall, secretary; and Mrs. Don Deming, treasurer.

The group will hold their next meeting at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 27 at the home of Mrs. Elmer Johnson.

In the midst of winter's approaching weather -- our recent hailstorm and the new white icing on Mt. Hood, it is nice to see the continuing optimism on the part of one of our local merchants -- the Piggly Wiggly Store is still on its "Summer Hours."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams in Estacada was the scene of a "Going Away Party" on Oct. 9 for Jay McLain. Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McLain, Jerry McLain, Mr. and Mrs. Melford McLain, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sudul and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cook and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kirby, Kay Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bol-lar, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sudul, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sand-blast, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams and family. Jay left for naval service duty in San Diego on Oct. 13.

Sunday, Oct. 10 was the 40th wedding anniversary of James and Frances McLain. Family members attending joined in a most successful plot to smuggle in a new platform rocker. After some maneuvering in seating arrangements, they actually had their mother, for a few priceless moments, obviously sitting in the new chair. The surprised look on her face upon realization was well worth the plotting and planning necessary. Family members present included: Joe and Edgel Sudul and family, Jerry, Jay, Nona Cook, and family, and Donald and Verta Williams and family.

Just a brief explanation for those still wondering about that "faded wood street sign" mentioned in last week's column-- what made it worth mentioning was the spelling of it: "Plesant Ave." The spelling was corrected (doubtless with good intentions) in the proof-reading, and . . . the item then missed its point! As a passing comment . . . I understand there are a couple or more of these "faded wood signs" along Pleasant Ave.

Ray Allen returned last Thursday following a 6 day visit to relatives in Colorado and Kansas. The plane ride, his first trip back in several years, was the perfect cure for a case of "homesickness." He had a "wonderful time" visiting his brother, Elvin Allen, and his sister, Violet Owens, both in Saint Francis, Kan., and other relatives in Wray and Burlington, Colo.

Kay Wescott, a former Sandy high English teacher, has been hired by the school as a reader to check English essays for grammatical errors.

Doesn't your car need washing? The Car Wash this Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., on the parking lot of the Mt. Hood Bowling Lanes will be sponsored by the JV Rally squad of Sandy high.

Learned from Phyllis Cansler that her brother, Danny Lindsay, returned to Sandy, Oct. 9 on leave from army service.

Danny, a dental assistant stationed at Letterman hospital in San Francisco, is staying at the home of the Clyde Canslers, until his return scheduled for Oct. 28.

Seems that Danny decided to try riding a skateboard while on leave, and his first attempt resulted in a fall and a broken ankle! That doesn't seem to be the easiest way to get a leave extended, but possibly it's an effective way . . .

The annual "Autumn Leaves Tour" of the original Portland Women's Forum included the Oral Hull Foundation's park site in their bus trip last Sunday. Some 23 members of the association and the Greyhound bus driver toured the park site, then were served coffee and donuts at the home of the Richard Wesselink.

The foundation's reception committee, headed by Maybelle Wessellink, included George Howeller, Richard Wessellink, Duane and Kathleen Knapp. The Portland women were looking for a new project to assist, having completed their fund-raising project for the building program of the Oregon Historical Society.

Before the group continued on their scheduled tour around the Mt. Hood Loop, they took time to sing songs and make use of the Wesselink's organ; one member made a $200 contribution to the Foundation's work.

Lyle and Winnifred Seaman celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary on Oct. 24.

A hunting party consisting of Wally, Roy and Dean Wessellink with his two sons: Bobby and Jerry, returned home with three deer: one 3-point, one doe and one young buck. Also heard that Faye Earley was one of those lucky hunters who got his deer the first day of hunting season.

Richard Wessellink left last Tuesday morning at 1 a.m. to fly back to Iowa where he will pick up a new school bus for the Sandy grade school and drive it back to Sandy. His flight will arrive at its destination in time for him to call Maybell W. before she leaves home later Tuesday morning to teach school in Rockwood.

Isn't plane travel amazing? While in Iowa, he will take time to visit his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wessellink, (to be 93 in Jan.) at Sheldon; and his 3 sisters: Mina Saupé, Gertrude Holstein, and Winne De-buein in Hospers and only surviving brother, Fred in Sioux City.

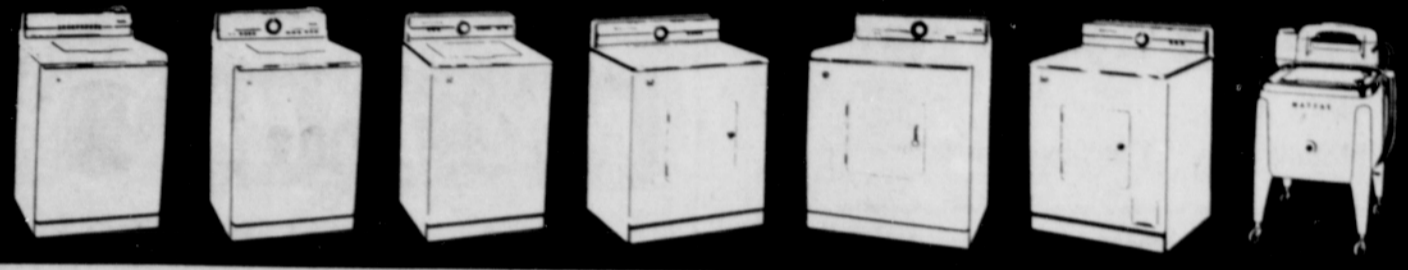

If you wish a preview of what Halloween night will be like: Stand in front of Herbert and Lucille Ogden's Variety Street and notice all the scary masks staring up at you. The effect is even better when the store is closed and it's dark outside!

Speaking of the Halloween season now -- in particular, Saturday night, Oct. 30 -- Halloween Eve. Be sure and (Continued on Page 11)
