FLOYD G. BURDICK

Floyd Glenwood Burdick, 74, of Rt. 3, Box 624, Boring, died at his home, March 29. Floyd Burdick was born Oct. 8, 1891 at Salem.

The early years of his life were spent in Salem where he attended school. About 1915 he moved to Sand Point, Ida., where he worked in the woods as a logger. On Dec. 26, 1918, at Sand Point, he married Valeria V. Wilkins. In 1929, they returned to Oregon, and in 1930 settled in Boring.

On June 27, 1918 at Sand Point, Ida., he enlisted in the U. S. Army. Except for his time in the service, almost all of his life had been spent in the northwest. He had worked in the woods as a logger in Idaho and Oregon.

The surviving members of his family include the widow, Valeria of Boring; two sons, Kenneth of Sandy and Donald of Boring; two daughters, Mrs. George (Maxine) Wolf of Sandy and Mrs. Joe (Jerry) Haley of Salem; 10 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two brothers, Clair Burdick of Boring and Bill of Orchards, Wash.; and four sisters, Mrs. Lenora Morton of Milwaukie, Mrs. Elma Barbur, Mrs. Ivan Phelps and Mrs. Winifred Dieffendorf, all of Portland.

Funeral services were held April 1 in the chapel of Carroll Funeral Home, Vault interment was in Willamette National cemetery. Rev. William Rose offered the services.

Horsetail Falls is 221 feet in height. The name is supposed to be descriptive of the falls and has been in use since pioneer days.

All children who will be entering Sandy elementary school first grade this fall are invited to a pre-school party in the All Purpose room at the Sandy elementary school, April 14, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. It is important that parents bring their child's birth certificate or other valid identification for enrollment.

Children will visit the first grade rooms while mother is busy with enrolling her child. We hope all children and mothers will be able to attend.

There is much paper work involved in securing burial benefits. We can, and do, offer our services with this work.
