Hood Lander Attends Rural Zoning Meet

A Conference for the Appraisal of County Zoning Objectives at the University of Oregon, Eugene, where land use problems of non-urban areas and the type of regulations that might be appropriate for Oregon were discussed was attended by Mrs. Margaret Ann Fielding, Zig Zag on Sept. 14 and 15.

Mrs. Fielding is the secretary of the Hood Land Citizens Committee which was formed last spring to study the interim zoning which affects the corridor of Highway 26 in the Hood Land area which terminates on Dec. 16.

The conference, sponsored by the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service, reviewed some of the experiences in Wisconsin which has had the longest experience with county zoning and the relation of county zoning to federal resource policies. In delving into the land use problems in non-urban areas, a land-use plan specialist from the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Wisconsin spoke on the Wisconsin Experience and Herman Kehrl, director, Bureau of Municipal Research and Service spoke on Land Use Development in Oregon.

Fred Stefani, Clackamas County Commissioner and one of the three persons attending the conference from this county was also a member of the Discussion Panel on Reports on County Zoning Experience in Selected Oregon Counties.

UGN Drive Starts Here

Sandy United Good Neighbors volunteers are anticipating a seventh straight successful drive, based on early returns for the 1967 campaign.

George L. Morgan of the Walrad Insurance Company in Gresham is the Sandy Mountain UGN chairman. Morgan said the drive is off to a good start, and at this point there is every reason to believe that the campaign is headed toward its seventh straight success. He added that volunteers will receive their first report on the total progress of the campaign on Sept. 21. He said:

"It is very gratifying to see the way in which people are responding to the 1967 UGN campaign. One of our greatest assets this year is the tremendous organization and personnel that are working on the drive. Fortunately, we were able to recruit them early enough so that we could spend the necessary time to train them. Now these factors are paying off."

Morgan's team has a quota of $3,526, most of which will be raised by Ivan Barker's major employers volunteers, Berker, of Sandy's Rexall Drugs, has a quota of $1,500.

William J. Richardson of Richardson Chevrolet is heading the Sandy Select Business drive, which has a $726 quota; Howard Berger of the Clackamas County Bank is chairing the special gifts drive, which has a quota of $650; and Mrs. Eileen Anderson of Rhododendron is the Sandy residential chairman. Her goal is $650.

In addition to his campaign team, Morgan has the services of UGN loaned executive Allan Robb, Robb, loaned by Portland General Electric, will work primarily with Barkers major employers volunteers.

DA Tells Advisory Council Plans

Formation of a District Attorney's Advisory Council was announced Thursday night by Roger Rook, Clackamas County District Attorney.

Rook, speaking at the Sandy Kiwanis Club meeting, said that plans are well underway on the Council and that a number of Clackamas County citizens have already been selected to participate. Initial meetings will be held within a month, the District Attorney said. He defined the Council as "chiefly a new vehicle of communication." Rook said he will seek advisement from the Council on community problems and also supply the Council with information that may be relayed to the community.

"By opening such a two-way channel," the District Attorney explained, "we hope to be able

Free Portland Calling Ballots Slated Here

EDWIN WALSH, Aloha, makes cable cuts in the Cherryville area to reduce the ten party telephone lines to five party lines. It is part of the West Coast Telephone Company's project to reduce rural party lines in the Sandy area to no more than five patrons each by December 31. (Post Photo)

"The Oregon Public Utilities Commissioner has approved balloting for Sandy telephone subscribers in order to get their opinion as to whether they want toll-free calling to Gresham and Portland," announced Roger C. Danek, District Manager of West Coast Telephone Company.

Danek, speaking at last Tuesday's Sandy Chamber of Commerce meeting at TJ's Fireside Dining, added that the Commissioner has approved the form letter which will be sent with the ballot probably within a month that will announce the rates and other items which would accompany the extended area calling.

"One ballot will be sent per account," said the District Manager of West Coast Telephone, adding, "The ballots will be returned to the Public Utilities Commissioner for tallying. Then, if the Commissioner finds the vote favorable, he will issue an order directing that the service be implemented by a certain date." Danek, accompanied by Frank Figg, District Equipment Foreman, also pointed out that ballots not returned to the Commissioner will not be counted against the measure this time.

"Construction is also under way in several areas around Sandy to reduce the number of persons on party lines in rural areas to no more than five by Dec. 31 this year," Danek continued. Three jobs requiring estimates (costing more than $5000) are the improving of circuits on Bluff Road, along the Loop Highway in the Cherryville area and also extending out the Estacada Highway. Landscaping around the Sandy telephone office has been completed he added.

In other telephone work in this area, portions of the lines have been buried along the Estacada Highway and Bluff road to reduce the possibility of storm damage to communications.

Sandy Jaycee Club Holds Ninth Slot

The new Sandy Jaycee Chapter, organized this summer, was listed in ninth position out of 104 chapters in Oregon in the Parade of Chapters as of last Saturday.

The Parade of Chapters listing is based on a chapter's community service projects, the making of visitations to other chapters which results in an exchange of ideas, keeping up records and increasing membership. As of now the new Sandy chapter has 13 paid members.

The Sandy Chapter will also hold their New Member Orientation meeting on Monday evening October 16 at TJ's Fireside Dining. The dinner will get underway with a 7 p.m. banquet and will be followed by the orientation. Present for the meeting will be several State Jaycee officers including the State President and the National Director plus the district vice-president for this area, District seven.

The new member drive is still continuing and any interested men between 21 and 35 are urged to attend the Sandy Jaycees meetings. The next meeting will be held on Monday night, October 2 at the Dew Drop Banquet Room.

Sandy's Total Valuation Increases; Tax Rates Told

Valuation of the City of Sandy increased $96,363 from the total assessed value of $1,780,420 in 1966-67 to 1967-68's $1,876,783 according to figures released by the county assessor's office.

This can be compared with the 1967-68 total assessed value of such incorporated cities as Estacada at $1,193,160; Molalla, $2,472,105; and Canby, $4,687,138. Milwaukie leads Clackamas County cities with a total assessed value of $31,133,397.

Through legislation, the former Consolidated Millage Rate is now being expressed in a Consolidated TAX Rate shown in dollars and cents rather in mills as formerly done.

Officials in the County Assessors office also say that each individual tax statement will now be broken down into dollar values of each item such as schools, roads, fire and others in order to give taxpayers a better idea of what their taxes are being used for.

A breakdown of this year's

Consolidated Tax Rate is as follows with the amount shown being the number of dollars per $1000 of assessed valuation: County, ($7.75 less property tax relief $4.21), $3.54; S. D. No. 46, $43.02; I.E.D., $17.20; U.H.S., No. 2, $26.49; City, $32.71; Road No. 6, $0.00; Fire No. 72, $4.92; East Side Area Ed. No. 1, $4.58 and Vector No. 1, $0.28 for a $132.74 total per $1000 of assessed valuation.

Area Scouts Get Active

Boy Scout troops and Cub Scout packs dusted off the welcome mat this week to get ready for the annual School Night for Scouting program Wednesday evening, Sept. 20.

Boys interested in joining and their parents were invited to learn about Scouting at the 7:30 p.m. programs, scheduled for North and West Gresham schools, and Lynch, Rockwood, Reynolds, Sandy, Corbett and Boring grade schools.

Scouts put on their uniforms Wednesday morning for school wear as a reminder to their classmates.

There are more than 2600 boys in Cub, Boy Scout and Explorer units in the Thunderbird district, which takes in the area from Lynch up to Mt. Hood.
