Sandy's City Hall

Sandy needs a new city hall building. With that few people can disagree. And while plans for such a building are progressing there are several points which must be taken into consideration.

1. Original thoughts on the proposed City Hall included about 5000 square feet for a library in order to meet State specifications and thus qualify for a loan which would provide up to 45 per cent of the cost of the library construction, purchase of property for its building site and library fixtures. The cost and size of a structure to include such a library space is also being questioned in the light of the small amount of use the present city library is getting.

2. But, we must realize that the present library location (basement of the Women's Club Building) is not conducive to getting the amount of use it normally would have. A library must merchandise its books just as a merchant must advertise his wares. A modern library in a pleasant, new City Hall would get much better use. Also, since the library would not need the full 5000 square feet for several years, that extra space could be utilized for other purposes until the library actually grows to need the area.

3. Several alternatives have arisen in the discussion of the proper site for a new City Hall. The City of Sandy owns an area next to Cedar Plaza however, the architect presently involved in preliminary planning points out that it slopes steeply to the south making construction more complicated and expensive and that the site would have inadequate parking. This, however, was keeping the 5000 square feet of library space in mind and it may be possible that the site could be used if the library size is reduced. Yet again, property adjacent to the city's lot, if available, might be purchased, aided with the 45 per cent State loan in order to provide ample area for a building meeting state specifications.

4. Even with the possibility of trading city owned land for another site that would provide better parking and yet retain a desirable location within the city, it appears that additional funds would have to be bonded to acquire such a site. In considering whether the city should purchase another site it should be asked if it is desirable to have to spend as much as $35,000 plus trading city owned land for the site.

However it is worked out, Sandy needs a new, larger, functional and attractive City Hall. And such a building must be built with expansion in mind. While the city has a population of 1460 now, the new building must be built in anticipation of the city's future. There is no sense in building something that will be inadequate shortly after it is completed.

Now, while the proposed City Hall is in the planning stages, is the time for Sandy residents to voice their opinions. We urge Sandy residents to fill in the form at the right and send it to the Sandy Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 536, Sandy, or drop it off at the Sandy Post.

Where Is the Vietnamese Army?

One of the most disheartening reports from Viet-Nam in some time is that on the Vietnamese army by Peter Arnett, Pulitzer prize-winning correspondent.

Arnett, who has spent five years in Viet-Nam, makes these points in a dispatch from Saigon:

*South Vietnamese military ineffectiveness is costing American lives.

*Most South Vietnamese troops insist on a 5 1/2-day week, taking Saturdays and Sundays off. Likewise, they quit at sundown.

*Many South Vietnamese operations are conducted in areas where there aren't any Communists; there is no one to fight.

*Continual purges have sapped morale of command echelons in the South Vietnamese army.

*Desertions run at 10,000 a month, twice the figure of casualties.

*Corruption is common at all levels.

Arnett says that the loss of American lives traceable to Vietnamese inaction or incompetence is expected to rise sharply. He quotes Sec. of Defense Robert McNamara as saying (in 1964), "I don't believe we should assume primary responsibility for the war . . . it is a war which can be won only by the Vietnamese themselves."

We could go on and on quoting from Arnett's article but it is a dreary recital of depressing facts, facts which the Johnson administration finds it difficult to counter, let alone digest. Meanwhile, the casualty figures continue to climb.

The New Autzen Stadium

The University of Oregon, it seems to us, is trying to pay its new Autzen Stadium off in one fell swoop . . . specifically, with parking fees.

A brochure mailed earlier this week to all ticket holders told how to get to the new stadium (it sounds fantastically complicated, incidentally) but the kicker was the note at the top: "Please Have Your $1.00 Ready."

We've been to a lot of games at a lot of stadia and don't recall having been clipped $1 before, even at the Rose Bowl. Up at the University of Washington, where they know something about football crowds, the tab is 50c.

Perhaps it's just inflation but when you pay the University $5 for a ticket, then have to pungle up another $1 for parking . . . well, it's getting pretty expensive.

Or maybe it's the high cost of recruiting 195-lb. halfbacks.

Mt. Hood Water District Sets Election, Meeting

The Mount Hood Loop Water District's election on the issuance of $520,000 in general obligation bonds has been rescheduled for Monday, October 9. Prior to the election a public meeting has been set for Tuesday evening, October 3, at the Mt. Hood Lions Club Hall to answer any questions the public may have regarding the election.

The election will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., also in the Mt. Hood Lions Clubhouse at Wemme. The funds would be used to finance the installation of a water system adequate for both domestic and fire use.

If the bond issue is approved, the water board commissioners say they will take the necessary steps to develop the south fork of Cheeney Creek including diversion, transmission, settling and distribution facilities to all areas where it is economically feasible in the Wemme, Welches, Zig Zag, Faubion, Wildwood, Brightwood and Mt. Hood

Woodlands communities.

It is expected, that with a good response for hookups, the minimum monthly rate would not exceed $4.00 and the average monthly charge for the use of water for a year would not exceed $6.00. For small users and summer cottages the minimum would not exceed $1.75 for under 100 cubic feet and anything over 100 cubic feet would be at the standard rate. These rates are based upon 240 permanent residences and commercial establishments and 240 summer cottages. All water would be metered.

Election notices will be posted in the Brightwood, Wemme and Zig Zag Post Offices. The board hopes to have a map ready to post with the notices, showing the Water District boundaries.

CITIZENS COLLEGE FORUM

News and Views About Mt. Hood Community College

INSTRUCTORS PREPARED

Full time instructors at Mt. Hood Community College met on the south campus this week to review final preparations for fall quarter according to Dr. Leo Marantes, dean of instruction. He said that the professional staff was briefed on instructional, student personnel, and business affairs during morning meetings on Monday and Tuesday. They will be involved in registration and divisional affairs during the remainder of the week. Instruction begins on Monday, Sept. 25.

MHCC REPRESENTED

Bill Burgess, dean of students, announced that Mt. Hood Community College will be represented at a one day meeting of Oregon and Washington high school counselors to be held on Sept. 30 at Clark College in Vancouver. Burgess said that Tom Nielsen, director of counseling, and Myron Mickey, director of admissions, will provide course and admission information to the counselors for their work with high school seniors.

NORTH CAMPUS

Classes start Monday on the south campus. Across Kelly Creek on the north campus work has begun on leveling the land by Parker Construction Company for building the major college facilities. Classrooms, laboratories, and shops will be located on the north campus side.

ADULT ENRICHMENT

In addition to college transfer and vocational technical courses, Mt. Hood Community College offers adult enrichment classes. Information about these adult level non-credit courses may be obtained by writing Chuck Reimnuth, director of Evening College, at 26000 SE Stark, Gresham, or by telephoning him at 665-1131.

Sandy City Hall Questionnaire

This questionnaire has been included in this week's Post so that Sandy residents can express their wishes concerning the proposed new city hall. In answering the questions you may wish to refer to several of the points in the city hall editorial. Please fill in the questionnaire and return it to the Sandy Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 536, Sandy, or drop it off at the Sandy Post.

1. Should the City of Sandy include a 5000 square foot library in the proposed city hall and take advantage of a State loan providing up to 45 per cent of the library costs? (See number one in the editorial)

YES ( ) NO ( )

2. Should the city utilize its present site next to Cedar Plaza without purchasing other land even if the size of the library were to be decreased?

YES ( ) NO ( )

3. Should the city utilize its site next to Cedar Plaza and acquire, if possible, adjoining property to provide room for parking and a 5000 square foot library for which the State loan could be obtained (See number three in editorial)

YES ( ) NO ( )

4. Should the city acquire another site for construction of a city hall?

YES ( ) NO ( )

5. Any other comments?

★ Letters to the Editor ★

To the Editor:

Quite recently the subject of water has been frequently discussed up here in the Hoodland area. A water district has been organized. The services of an engineer has been obtained by the directors of said water district. Meetings by the board have been held. Some were closed, and some were open to the public. The subject of water has been of much concern among the people of this area for the past twenty five or thirty five years. For some unknown reason it seems as though that all of a sudden the water board is getting in a hurry to get into action on creating the proposed water project. The taxpayers of the Hoodland Water district have asked for an extension of at least six months to make further study of the project. The financing is of some magnitude, and all angles considered it is of serious nature.

I am not in accord with the proposed supply and its source, the quantity, the costs and method of financing. Last and not least, the study by the board or its engineers does not seem to me to be complete or positive in detail. Too many fuzzy answers to questions. Too many ifs and ands. This proposed Water District does not belong to any one or group of individuals. We as taxpayers and voters have everything in common. We are friends, neighbors and co-owners in this proposed Utility project.

In conclusion I am stating herewith that my vote on this Water district's plan for furnishing water and its ramifications are NEGATIVE. The people are not properly informed. The study is not complete. We are not ready. Much is still to be done.

To the Editor:

We want to thank the Fire Department of Sandy for the good job they did when our house burned Tuesday, Aug. 29. The Boys of the Fire Dept. were at the house within 2 minutes and some were there before the whistle quit and it blows for 1 minute. Once again we say thank you, to a grand bunch that risked their lives to save our place.

We also want to say thank you to Bob Gulvin from Clackamas-Marion Fire Patrol. We also want to thank the Boring Fire Dept.

Once again we say a wonderful job done Boys, one and all. We also want to thank the young boys that helped that weren't in the fire department.

Thanks One & All,
Carl, Sadie Klein & Family

Nell's Notes

By NELL HOWE
Hood-Land Reporter

Velma DeShazer is in California welcoming a new grandson. Congratulations to the Grandparents as well as the family.

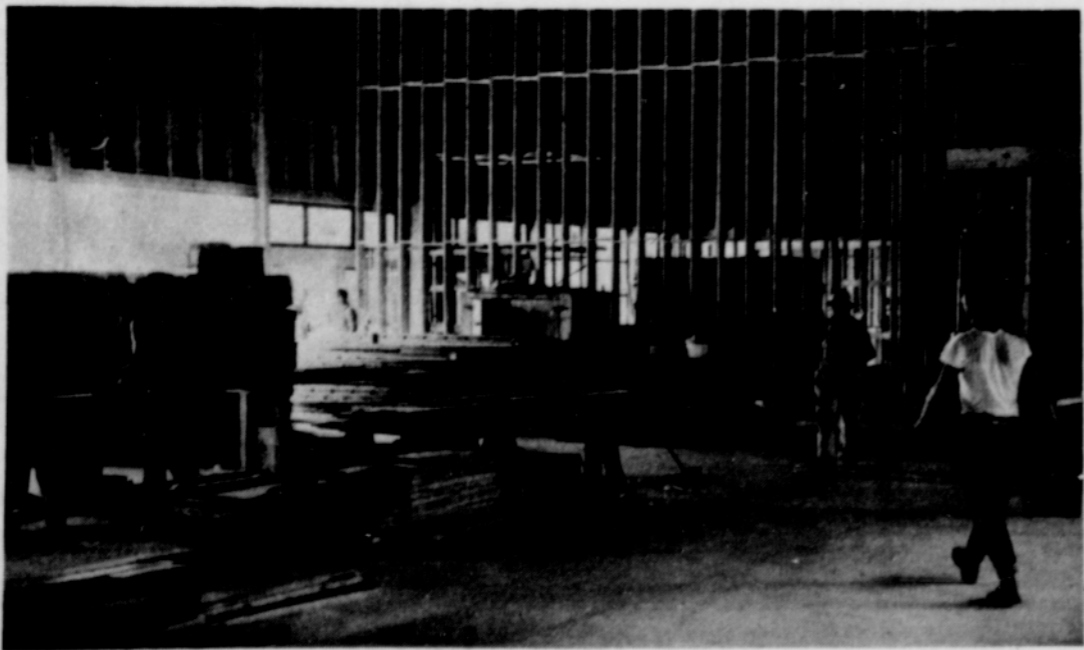

Marilyn and Tom Kasch have moved into their new home this side of Sandy. They have moved onto a farm, and now Marilyn can have her horses at home, instead of having to board them. They have a couple of cows and chickens and all that stuff. Kathy and Leighton brought Chris home from the hospital last Sunday, and had to take Mike in that night. He was still there at this writing but hope he will be home by the time you read this.

Mrs. Joe Darr home from the hospital after surgery. We hope she is up and about very soon. Gayle Scalf off to Hawaii to meet husband Don, Don has his second R&R, and they had so much fun on the islands last time, that they are meeting there again. What a wonderful place to spend their short time together. At last reports, Don should be home in December.

If you see a cute little blonde gal named Marty Hanson, walking about 10 feet off the ground, don't be alarmed, Elmer and Dorothy Hanson have announced Marty's engagement to Hal Dyal. Hal is the son of Bill and Diane Dyal of Sandy. Marty is attending Portland State, and Hal is going to O.C.E., where he will graduate this spring. The wedding will be sometime next summer. No date has been set as yet. May we add our congratulations to the many happy couple has already received.

The Lions club looks mighty nice with a new coat of paint—paint sure makes a difference.

WORKMEN ARE NOT WASTING any time on the New Vocational Building at Mt. Hood Community College. The building will be used in late September when classes begin. Here work is done inside.
