HOSPITAL HAPPENINGS at WOODLAND PARK HOSPITAL in Gateway 10300 N.E. Hancock St.

The Maternity Department is the happiest department of the hospital. The joy of new life is a contagious feeling. The faces of the mothers, new fathers, the nurses and visiting well wishers all reflect the joy associated with the arrival of the infants — some boys, some girls, all precious.

The story of the maternity service is in a sense the story of the progress of hospital care. Twenty-five years ago, if the baby was fortunate enough to be born in a hospital, the mother and baby would expect to stay two weeks. Today stays of three and four days are typical. Many things and many people have participated in this great change: new concepts of medicine, better nursing care, life saving and life extending equipment, trends toward mother self help, etc.

Hospitals are being built closer to the suburban neighborhoods in which we live. This, for example, is a welcome convenience to all the "participants" in the drama of birth. The hospital is closer for the mother when she goes into labor — the need for speed and haste to the downtown hospital is no longer necessary. Chances are that the hospital is closer for the doctors, too. Visitors (not too many!) have only a short drive to the hospital. Father appreciates the nearness particularly if he has older children at home to watch. Parking problems, of course, do not exist.

Yes, the Maternity Department is a happy place. The convenience and reassurance of the always-open general hospital leads to justified confidence. Modern, well appointed rooms with informal, non-institutional decor makes the hospitalization period following birth a restful one.

The staff of Woodland Park Hospital would like to invite expectant mothers (fathers too) to visit the hospital well before the confinement date. Then when the baby's arrival is imminent you will know the proper route, the correct doors to enter, and in general feel reassured about the hospital environment.

Alumni to Meet

The next meeting of the SUHS Alumni Association will be at 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 9, at Jack and Jill's restaurant. All persons interested are invited to attend. Plans will be made to make the next dinner dance bigger and better than ever.
