Democrats File For House Seats

Frank W. Amato 25, teacher and editor, is a Democratic candiate for Position Number 2 in the House of Representatives from Clackamas County.

He is a local high school teacher and is also the editor of the "Northwest Salmon Trout Steelheader" (circ. 7,000), the only sportfishing magazine in the northwest.

Amato, lives with his wife Gayle, and their one year old son Nicholas, in Miwalukie. He is a member of St. John the Baptist Church and is a former member of Retail Clerks Local 1092.

Amato plans to stress in his campaign the need to make state government strong in the face of the growing federal colossus by the election of young, vigorous men to the legislature.

As the editor of NSTS he plans to work vigorously to make the steelhead-trout (actually an ocean-going rainbow) a game fish in order to save the runs in the Columbia River from extinction.

Pat Maney, Democrat, announced today his candiacy for the Oregon House of Representatives. A resident of Lake Oswego, Maney filed for Position No. 4 in Clackamas County now held by Dale Hanlan, Democrat.

Maney, an advocate of property tax relief for the homeowner, believes that any property tax relief should be funneled through the Basic School Support Fund. "This relieves property taxes and gives the necessary monies to schools," he said.

Last year Maney served as staff director to a special subcommittee on education, chaired by Congresswoman Edith Green, U.S. House of Representatives. He indicated that his principal interest is the creation of a sound fiscal policy for the State of Oregon. "I am definitely against any tax program that will hurt tha small man. Responsible state and federal governments should be able to curb inflation which hurts all citizens," he added.

Maney said he stands behind any efforts that would curb school drop outs. He is for the strenghtening of law enforcement at the local and state levels. If elecged he would work for state supported kindergartens and improved educational programs ro tional programs for elementary, secondary and higher education.

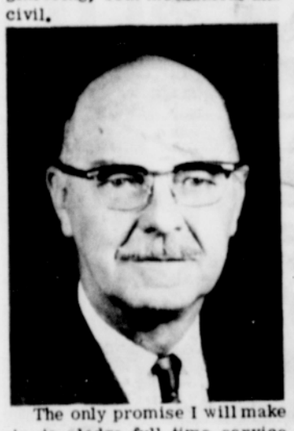
He is a lifelong resident of Oregon and a former teacher, in the David Douglad School System. He is married and has two children, Pat Jr., a senior at Lake Oswego High School and Beckie, a sophomore at the same school.

Demos Seek Nomination

H. Stuart MacGillivray of Oak Grove has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for County Commissioner, Position No. 3.

Concerning his candidacy, MacGillivray made the following statement:

I am a 57 year old homeowner residing in Clackamas County for the past 20 years. I have a background in engineering, both mechanical and civil.



The only promise I will make is to pledge full time service to work out the problems of the County in the best interests of the people.

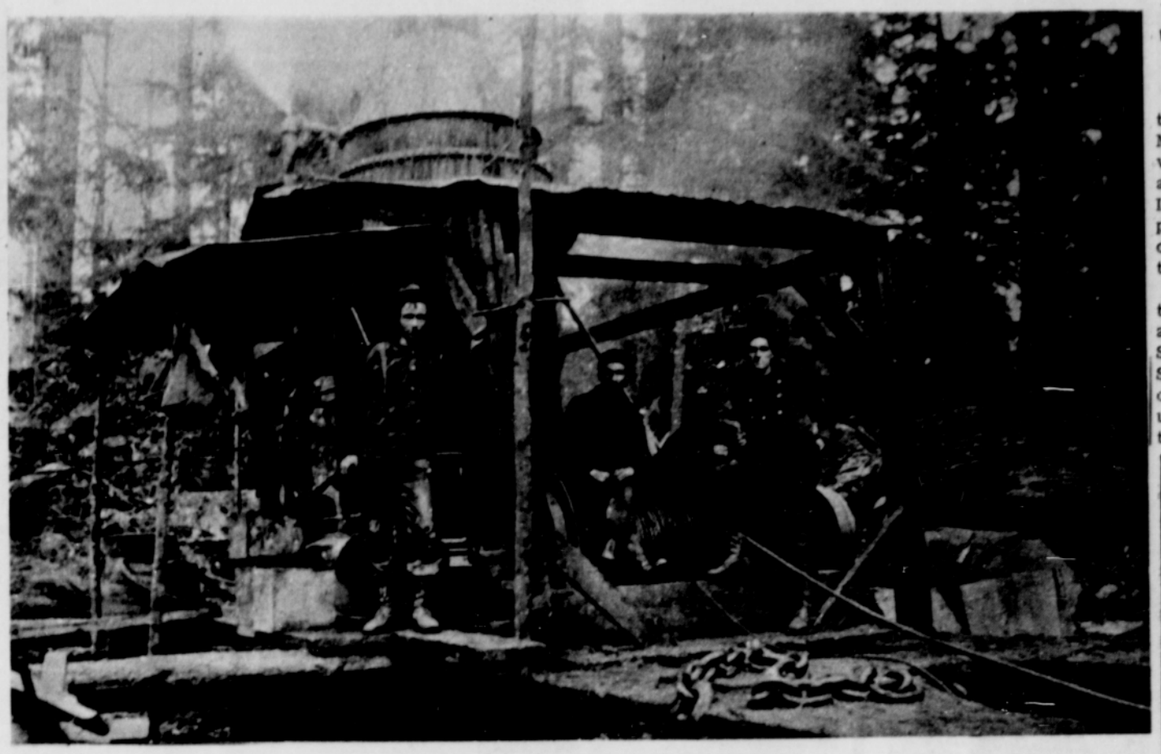
I believe in action not speeches and will be available for consultation with any and all citizens interested in the preservation and progress of the County to the betterment of all.

Mrs. Richard A. Roth, Democrat, last week announced her candidacy for State Representative, Position No .3, in Clackamas County.

Mrs. Roth is a resident of Clackamas county, is the mother of three small children ages 7, 5, and 3. She has had business experience along with property management. She has been active in community affairs, politics and has served as a precinct committeewoman and participated in several political campaigns. Her campaign slogan is "Kindergartens for Clackamas County."

Mrs. Roth said, "I feel we cannot solve today's problems with yesterday's thinking." "We need a new look and modern approach to our school problems."

She has urged the people and taxpayers of Oregon to look at the problem, concerning education, since the majority of all the tax dollars goes to our schools. As a solution to the problem she has said,



EVERY LOGGER WILL RECOGNIZE a donkey -- even if it is old fashioned. Perhaps some of you will recognize the men on this one. Picture was taken many years ago but by, and of, whom is not known.

Policemen to Attend Drug Abuse Institute

A one-day "Law Enforcement Institute on Drug Abuse" will be held on March 22. In Oregon City, to further acquaint police officers with the problems arising from abusive use of drugs. This program is one of many such training sessions being presented throughout Oregon to help the police officer identify certain drugs and learn the effects on the persons using them.

The school will be co-hosted by Clackamas County Sheriff Joe Shobe and Oregon City Police Chief Robert Chester under the sponsorship of the Oregon Association of City Police Officers. Instructor will be John Bagby, Portland Resident Agent, Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control.

The session will be held in the auditorium of the Clackamas County Health Center, 1425 S. Kaen Road, Oregon City, and is open to all law enforcement officers. Certificates of completion will be issued to those attending.

YWCA Classes Start Today

Gresham YWCA classes begin today (March 21) at Gresham Methodist church, Gresham skating rink at the Mt. View Golf course.

Registration will take place at the first classes.

A new class this spring will be "How to Give Parties for Youngsters." Others are cake decorating, golf, knitting, oil painting, sewing, and trimnastics.

Viet-Nam Topic Of Discussion

Would you like to discuss Viet-Nam?

A meeting is planned next Wednesday, March 27 at Gresham Methodist church for those in the community who would like to participate in a dialogue regarding the social effects of the Viet-Nam war.

Gene Stoltzfus who went to Viet-Nam with the International Voluntary Services will be on hand to offer his views. Stoltzfus, 28, a Goshen college graduate, went to Viet-Nam in 1963 and worked as a volunteer in rural education and community development projects in Central Viet-Nam.

American industry pays three times as much for alcoholic employes as for non-alcoholics, according to a study made by the University of Michigan. Absenteeism, combined with those who report for work but whose performance is impaired by hangovers, account for the major costs.
