

Sandy Public Library

The Bookworm

The circulation of the Sandy Public Library for slightly over half the month, averaged about 110 books a day, (around 875 books), and 200 card holders were in the library for these books.

Gifts to the library in the past week totaled 24 books. Eleven books were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Ault Lee Moore Jr., six by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bushue and seven by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lane. Some 50 of our newly purchased books are being cataloged and will soon be on the shelves.

Girl Scout News Troop 760

The girls of Girl Scout Troop 760 received their meritbadges at a Court of Award at the Sandy Grade School PTA meeting, Monday night. The meeting was opened with the presentation of the flag by members of the 4th grade Girl Scouts of Troop 760.

Debra Hartsock, SueAnn Levan and Michelle Noehren were rededicated in scouting.

Awards were received by all 18 girls of the troop. These were: Diana Benoschek, cooking, dabbler, housekeeper, my home and pets; Nancy Carmony, Backyard fun, books, dabbler and my home; Teresa Cowden, my home, story teller, toymaker and water fun; Debra Christiansen, housekeeper and toymaker; Cheryl Garber, health aid, home-health and safety, personal health and water fun; Shannon Hadley, collector (horses), dabbler, my home and pets; Debra Hartsock, Troop Crest (pine tree); Debbie Hite, housekeeper, my camera and toymaker; Marilyn Homsley, health aid, home-health and safety and personal health; Diana Johnston, health aid, home-health and safety and personal health; SueAnne Levan, Troop Crest; Michelle Noehren, health aid, home-health and safety, personal health and Troop Crest; Jodi Perkins, dabbler; Julie Pursel, my home and toymaker; Valerie Sander, health aid, home-health and safety; personal health and water fun; Patti Searls, health aid, home-health and safety and personal health; Julie Wilson, books, collector (books), magic carpet, toy maker and sewing; Lynne Wolfe, books, collector and storyteller.

Many of the girls' mothers have helped the troop in many ways. Mrs. Dee Benoschek worked with six of the girls for a ten-week period to earn their health badges and has now taken the remainder of the troop so they may complete their health badge requirements before the end of the school year.

Mrs. Edna Hite worked with six girls to complete their dabbler badge and has taken another group of six girls.

Mrs. Charlotte Vase and her group of six girls each made five toys for their toymaker badge and gave three toys each to the Sandy Community Service Action Center as their service project for this quarter.

Thanks were given to the other mothers who have helped -- Mrs. Hadley and Mrs. Perkins for driving the girls to skating and Mrs. Pursel for making out permission slips.

Eleven of the girls attended Sandy Presbyterian church on Girl Scout Sunday, March 11. The troop will be selling Girl Scout cookies to some of the businesses of Sandy and house-to-house from March 27 to April 6.

Dutch Dainty and mint cookies will be offered at $1 a box. The Girl Scouts had a very nice display in the window of Brewsters during Girl Scout week March 11 to 17.

Troop 760 was organized and is led by Mrs. Marjorie Sander and Mrs. Marion Carmony. They also have a branch troop of five girls, who attend Bull Run School, led by Mrs. Margarette Wadkins.

The girls will also participate in the Sandy Grange Talent program Friday evening, March 22. They will be selling baked goods after the program to help pay for their camp tuition.

Lewis-Hill Vows Recited At Covenant Presbyterian

MRS. ROBERT CLARK LEWIS (Marilyn Lee Hill) (Gateway Studio)

Evening rites at Covenant Presbyterian church united Marilyn Lee Hill, Boring, and Robert Clark Lewis of McMinnville, March 16. Rev. Neil Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 125 guests.

The bride wore a gown of lace over satin with short lace sleeves. Her veil, in a bouffant style, was short. It was held by a lace-covered pill box hat.

Miss Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hill of Boring, was given in marriage by her father.

Two sisters of the bride were her attendants and three brothers of the bridegroom were best man and ushers. Julie Hill wore deep pink linen and carried a candle encircled by pink blossoms. She was honor attendant. Allison Hill was dressed similarly and carried a similar bouquet. Their brother, Scott, lighted the tapers. Gary Lewis was best man; David and Richard ushered.

The bride and bridegroom, Oregon State seniors, were honored at a reception after the church immediately after the rites. Mrs. Scott Fortner and Mrs. Gary Lewis served refreshments and Dorinda Daggett was at the guest book.

Apple green was the color of the going away outfit worn by the bride as the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to San Francisco. The couple will live at Corvallis.

4-H Club News

Clackamas County will be represented at the State 4-H Rabbit Judging contest by Dan Forsyth, Boring; Pam Miles, Canby; and Debra Ungerman, Stafford.

These members received high scores in the county judging contest held during the 4-H Rabbit school at Tigard recently. The State Contest will be held during the County Fair.

Members receiving blue awards were Dan Forsyth and Ray Zimmerman, both of Boring; Leslie Johnson, Pam Miles and Sue Weeks, all of Canby; and Laura Ungerman and Sandra Ungerman, both of Stafford.

Red Ribbons were won by Rodney Kraft, Pam Johnson and Jeannette Kearney, all of Canby; Jon Lane, Debra Ungerman and Dale Lane, Stafford; and Michael Comstock, West Linn.

Some expert horsemanship was demonstrated during the 4-H Winter Horse Show held at the County Fairgrounds, Canby, on Saturday, March 16. Ninety-six juniors and seniors competed for in four events.

Winning a Champion ribbon in the junior division was Nancy Smith, Boring, in showmanship.

In English Horsemanship -- Christie Mizell, Sandy, won a blue ribbon.

Among Western Horsemanship, junior division winners were Teresa Parter, Estacada; Diana Gantenbein, Boring; and Sandra Vanty, Estacada.

Trail horse, juniors -- Patti Stone, Boring and Kelly Logan, Boring were among winners and Kathy Weick, Estacada, was a winner in the senior Trail horse.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

by KEN BATEMAN

Everyone knows (or should know) we should not expect to get "something for nothing". But, there is a big difference between getting "something for nothing" and getting "nothing for something".

To illustrate... A fellow was disturbed about a personal problem. Pride kept him from discussing it with anyone he knew. So he sought advice from a fortune teller. It was fully agreed between the two of them that the troubled man could ask only two questions for a $25.00 fee. The man paid the fee and as he sat down, he commented, "Don't you think your fee is awfully steep to answer just two questions?" The fortune teller's reply jolted him: "No, I certainly don't. Now... what is your second question?" The shaken man countered with, "Surely, you don't consider that a question, do you?" He was flabbergasted when the fortune teller answered, "Of course. It was a question; you have now asked two questions and I answered them. Thank you for coming in, and good day, sir."

The story is fiction of course. But next week's article will relate a true life story; a classic example how sharpies can and do give "nothing for something". Be sure to read it. It may help you from being fleeced by fast buck operators.
