Jane Lane Married In Mormon Temple

MRS. MICHAEL G. LUCAS
(Jane Orlene Lane)

The Mormon Temple in Oakland, Calif., was the scene of the wedding, Dec. 21, of newlyweds was given by the Jane Orlene Lane, daughter of bride's parents at the Church Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Lane of Jesus Christ of Latter-day of Sandy, and Michael G. Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Lucas of Gervais. The bride designed and made her wedding dress of white peau de soie. Long-sleeved and floor-length, it featured a princess line and was trimmed with lace and hundreds of seed pearls. Her elbow-length veil was of nylon illusion and her bouquet of white carnations and red roses. As a jewelry accent she wore an heirloom gold pin set with opals that had belonged to her great-grandmother, and which her mother had also worn at her wedding. The bride was attended by her sisters, Jean and Janice Lane. They were attired in floor-length gowns fashioned with red velvet skirts and white crepe tops. Each carried a single, long-stemmed red rose. Attendants for the groom were Ronald Roberts and Gene Jones, both of Corvallis.

Sandy BPW Club

By Sara Sewell Berger
Peter Gantenbein, President of the Portland World Affairs Council, and Claudio Venturi, American Field Service student from Rome, Italy, were the featured speakers at the March 5 dinner meeting of the Sandy Business and Professional Women's Club.

The International Relations program was arranged by Co-Chairmen Louise Crutcher and Lorraine Martin. Gantenbein explained that the World Affairs Council started in Portland at Reed College as the outgrowth of an eight-week seminar held there. The Great Decisions program has grown from study groups of five to ten people meeting in homes to discuss world problems and great books of universal interest to a program involving 800,000 people.

The Council sponsors a weekly television show, "Youth in World Affairs," which is broadcast each Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. The high school panelists prepare themselves by intensive study for one month before going on the air.

The World Affairs Council has sponsored cultural and trade exchanges between countries who do business through our port city, Portland. Last year the salute to Scandinavia was very successful. Other salutes have been to France and Japan. The next salute will be to the Mediterranean.

Pan-American Day will be observed in April. Once each year a World Affairs Conference is held at Salishan Lodge at which there are eleven hours of study on a variety of topics such as, "Our Image in Europe or China." Claudio Venturi was a charming representative of his country and showed slides of Rome's historical places. He said that of Italy's fifty million people, most of them live in northern Italy where the chief industries are car manufacturing, hydro-electric energy production, clothing and shoe manufacturing. In central Italy there is the iron industry. Southern Italy is the agricultural area.

In comparing "the life of kids like me," he said, "the school here has many activities. In Italy there are no clubs nor after-school sports. Each student is on his own. After school he gets together with friends." There are fewer clubs. Matters of concern are discussed among friends in homes.

A short business meeting was held at which a nominating committee of Esther Hoffmann, Lorene Sieler and Eula Lankard was elected.

The March Fireside Meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Cannon on Wednesday, March 19, at 8 p.m.

The Golden Torch Awards banquet was held at the Holiday Inn on Saturday, March 8 at 7 p.m. Several members of the Sandy Club attended.

On March 29 the Sandy Club will host the North Willamette District Conference to be held at the Mediterranean Restaurant in Portland at 7 p.m.

Those attending the dinner meeting were: President Florence Schmitz, Mesdames Cannon, Crutcher, Martin, Sieler, Blaisdell, Berger, Depro, Colson, Hill, The Misses Judy Hansen and Eula Lankard and Mrs. Erma Boothby, Claudio's American Mother.

SANDY WOMEN'S CLUB

The glories of ancient Rome came alive for the members of the Woman's Club March 6, when the handsome young exchange student, Claudio Venturi, showed his slides of that city, his home town.

Starting with slides of that grand, old ruin, the Coliseum, he showed a number of famous buildings including the market place, the ancient forum, monument to the unknown soldier, Hadrian's round mausoleum (now used as a museum), the Vatican, Michaelangelo's statue of Moses, the opera house, and the railroad station.

After the showing of the slides, Claudio gave a talk on his homeland and told of their educational system. After five years of elementary, with the same teacher, comes high school. There is no choosing of subjects and they do have considerable math. Six days work a week is the rule but a long Christmas vacation from Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 rather makes up for it. School is dismissed at 2:20 p.m. as there is no lunch period. In Italy, he said, dinner is usually served from 8:30 to 9 p.m. Rather late to our ideas, but they have a hearty lunch. Of course wine is the principal beverage.

The young people can not drive a car until the age of eighteen but a motor cycle is permitted at fourteen.

Claudio thinks the exchange student program is splendid and he said his ideas of America had considerably changed since his arrival, quite different than what he had learned from T.V. programs and movies. Of course, everyone asks him how he likes America. He said he liked it so well that he hopes to make it his home some day.

The hostesses for the 1 p.m. luncheon were Mesdames Howard, Hickey, Pardue and Faust. Mrs. C. Frazier was program chairman.

The April meeting will be on the third of the month and will feature home talent and a library silver tea. Mrs. Fox, program chairman has promised an excellent entertainment, so, as always, everyone is very welcome.

Blaser Attends Conference

Dr. John Blaser, superintendent of Corbett school district, attended a "Small Schools" conference Feb. 24 and 25 in Salem. Discussion was centered around "Vocational and Technical Education in Small Schools."

Dutton in Hong Kong

Seaman Rodney Dutton, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dutton of Rt. 1, Boring, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger off the coast of Vietnam. The Ranger returned to the ine after a five-day visit to the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

BIRTH

Carolyn and Ron Long of Sandy are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, a daughter, born Feb. 27 at Gresham hospital. She has been named Stephani Ann and weighed six pounds three ounces at birth.

Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long, Sandy and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Watkins, Bryson City, N.C.

WORK SMARTER (not harder)

By BERNICE STRAWN
OSU Extension Service

NEW HOME OWNERS—don't scour that porcelain enamel bathtub or lavatory if you want it to keep its glasslike finish. Coarse abrasives and bleach can take off the smooth finish in less than a year. The rough surface that remains is just that much harder to clean.

What then do you do? On a slick new tub, detergent will usually do the job. Or the spray type bathroom cleaners are also safe. If you can find a very fine powdered cleaner that does not scratch, this is also satisfactory—but not always available.

Once the glossy finish has been removed, there's no way you can restore it. To get it clean you'll have to resort to scouring powder.

Help prevent the bathtub ring by using a water conditioner in the bath water. Less cleaning will be needed.

IF YOU DON'T WANT GUESTS TO SEE IN your Fibber McGee hall closet, use an over-the-door clothes hanger on the outside of the door. A few hangers kept here make it easy for guests to hang their coats as they arrive. If your closet is in apple pie order, with this system what you store there regularly isn't disturbed.

MELTED PLASTIC IS A MODERN-DAY HAZARD, judging from calls received at our county Extension offices. When a plastic bag or boot gets too near a heater or iron and melts into a puddle, let it cool, then sponge the remains with acetone or nail polish remover. This will soften it. Rub gently with fine steel wool to take off the residue.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

by KEN BATEMAN

Some people wonder what kind of letter can be written to a bereaved family. Circumstances alter instances of course, but when an occasion requires a letter, maybe this general idea can guide you.

"No matter how well meant or how well written, words simply don't come easy for us to express our feeling at a time like this. You of course know our feeling. You know we will fondly remember a good person, a person many people were proud, and fortunate to have as a friend.

A Higher Power made a decision. No one knows the reason. We simply have to accept it. You, your family, your friends—all of us—can be grateful for a gift of memories we fondly share with you. This precious, priceless gift is mostly yours, but not entirely. We value it, too, and always will . . ."

Easter! Or?

1935 years ago a 33-year-old man was nailed to a cross. HIS CRIME—He claimed to be equal to God. The men that condemned Him were of the highest religious order in that land. WHY? From their view point they had to have Him removed for He threatened their position since the people followed Him and deserted them. "What are we going to do?" they asked each other. "For this man certainly does miracles. If we let Him alone the whole nation will follow Him." *John 11:47,48.

As we look at the scene we might conclude that this man had deceived the people with His claims but let us look at the facts. They saw Him raise the dead, cause the blind to see, heal the lame, and feed thousands with a few loaves and a few fishes. You might also conclude that the common people were duped by illusions or mass hypnotism. However, in the above scripture, we note that the religious leaders also saw these things and if they were illusions or mass hypnotism they would have proved Him a liar and exposed Him at His trial. Instead of exposing Him, the record shows that they had to rely on false witnesses. "The chief priests and, in fact, the entire Jewish Supreme Court assembled there and looked for witnesses who would lie about Jesus, in order to build a case against Him that would result in a death sentence." *Matt: 26:59.

The only reasonable conclusion is that He was really who He claimed to be, The Son of God, The Saviour of the World. "You claim to be the Messiah the Son of God?" "Yes," Jesus said, "I am." *Matt. 26:63,64.

As we approach the Easter Season we each must face the same decision. Was Christ who He claimed to be? If you consider the facts you will say, "YES," and then you, too, will follow Him as the people did.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him shall not perish but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

What's Cooking?

by SARA SEWELL

CHICKEN AND RICE CASSEROLE

On bottom of buttered 9" x 13" pan put 1 cup long grain rice (uncooked), add 1 pkg. of Lipton's Dry Onion Soup Mix. Salt and pepper chicken. (Salt sparingly as the soup mix and condensed chicken soup have a concentration of salt.) Put pieces of chicken with skin side up over the rice. Add 1 cup of water. (Add more as needed.) Spread one can of condensed cream of chicken or cream of mushroom soup over the chicken. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.—From the files of Mrs. Ben Schulz, Bellingham, Wash.

Add a salad, a green vegetable, and a quick hot bread and you have a delicious quick and easy dinner.

BARBECUPS

Brown 3/4 lb ground beef and drain. Then add 1/2 cup Kraft Barbecue Sauce, 1 Tablespoon instant minced onion, 1/4 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese, and 2 Tablespoons brown sugar. Take 1 can (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits. Press each into an ungreased muffin cup, making sure dough goes up to edge of cup. Spoon meat mixture into cups and sprinkle with another 1/4 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese. Bake at 400 degree for 8 to 10 minutes until bread cup is almost done. Take out of oven and sprinkle with another 1/2 cup grated cheese and put back into oven immediately and leave for another two or three minutes just until cheese is bubbly and cup is completely baked. Makes 8 to 12 cups (allow 2 per serving)—From the files of Mrs. Howard W. Berger, Sandy

MILE-HIGH LIMEADE PIE

1 env. (1 T) unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
4 beaten egg yolks
1 6-oz can frozen limeade concentrate
4 egg whites
1/2 c sugar
1/2 c heavy cream, whipped
1 9-in. graham cracker crust or 1 bakes pastry shell, cooled

In the top of a double boiler, soften gelatin in cold water; add beaten yolks and dash of salt. Cook and stir over hot, not boiling water until mixture is slightly thick. Remove from heat. Stir in concentrate. Chill, stirring occasionally, till mixture mounds slightly when spooned. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar, beating to stiff peaks. Fold in gelatin mixture, then whipped cream. Add few drops of green food coloring. Pile into pie shell. Chill until firm.—From the files of Sara S. Berger, Sandy.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

1 In-Er-Seal packet or 20 sq. graham crackers, finely rolled
1/4 c butter or margarine, melted
1/4 c sugar
Thoroughly blend cracker crumbs, melted butter or margarine and sugar and press firmly against bottom and sides of 9-in pie plate. Bake in 375 degree oven about 7 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool. If you do not wish to bake the crust, you may press it into plate and chill in refrigerator before adding pie filling.
