

Radfords celebrate 50 years

By MRS. H.H. WATKINS
Mr. and Mrs. Jess Radford, who live in the Maberry district, were honored on Mother's Day with a golden wedding reception at the home of their daughter and husband, the Hershel Staggs.

About 60 relatives and friends called on them.

George Hauglum is at the McGuire Nursing home near Sandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lake, on Langersand Road, entertained for Mother's Day dinner, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warner and Mr. and Mrs. David Warner and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brook, Sandra and Debbie spent Mother's Day in Eugene with the Brook's daughter Linda, a student at University of Oregon. On Monday the Roy Brooks had as dinner guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Brook of Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. Norral Naas of Boring had as weekend guests their son, Carl and wife and their daughter Tiffany, 1 month old, Madras.

Sunday dinner guests also were Mr. and Mrs. Harney Watkins and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meyer and Mrs. Turner.

Charles Wilkinson is ill at the Emanuel Hospital in Portland. He has recently been making his home with his daughter, Helen, in Portland.

Deadline for women's news is noon Friday. Wedding stories and pictures should be submitted by noon Wednesday.

Couples Hear About FISH

The Sandy Presbyterian Couples' Group, "The Seekers", heard a very informative talk on Fish Saturday.

Jean Higginbotham, executive director of Fish, spoke with much enthusiasm for this organization whose main service is to fill the communication and isolation gap of our other agencies, and the people in need.

Fish provides emergency service when people are confused and in quick need of help. The philosophy of Fish is to Love Thy Neighbor and is open to all groups.

Mrs. Higginbotham was chosen one of "The Ten Women of Accomplishments" in Portland in 1969. She also received the honor of "Women of Dedication" from Churchwomen United.

Anyone interested in this organization, which is governed on the local level even though it is world wide, may call Fish at 233-5533 or Ginny Brewster at 668-6286.

— Birth —
A son, Ronald Dale to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald LeRoy Self, General Delivery, Sandy, April 26.

Nistler Gets Bronze Star

Army Chief Warrant Officer Gary C. Nistler, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Nistler, Prineville, recently received the Bronze Star Medal in Vietnam.

CWO Nistler was presented the award for meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces in Vietnam while assigned as an operations officer with the 611th Transportation Company near Vinh Long.

The warrant officer's wife, Katharine, lives in Rhododendron.

RALPH PETERSON, Principal of Sandy Union High School, was elected president of the Clackamas County Administrators for the coming year, at the Clackamas County Administrators spring meeting May 13, at Molalla. (Post Photo)

Pick up your tame telephone and order a wild one.

Call up somebody about fixing the backyard fence on one of these phones and you'll feel like you're ordering more swans for the moat.

You can have any one of them for a $5.00 premium charge plus $1.50 to $2 a month depending on which one you pick. (That's in addition to the regular installation charges and monthly rates for your phone.)

Call your General Telephone business office to order one. It's bound to be a conversation piece.

General Telephone

1. Grecian cameo cradlephone. 2. Chestphone. 3. Antique white cradlephone. 4. Mediterranean cradlephone.

AT SANDY

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Margaret Wallen and Frank Marcy's rooms joined in presenting a play, "War on Litterbugs," which they presented Thursday, Friday and Monday for different school groups and classes. Taking part were: Dick Bailey as the Litterbug; two Rats, the only ones who enjoyed his litter, were Darlene Austin and Julie Trost; Germ, who had fallen from a rat and was now looking for a new home among the litter, was John Ackley; Newsboy declaring the war on Litterbugs was Douglas Lake; Good Citizen, who convinced Litterbug that something could be done and now was the time, was Leslie Kincade; Oria Norris and Cindy Lloyd were the announcers. The rest of the boys and girls formed a choral and singing chorus. Monday, when Leslie Kincade was absent, Ernest Housden filled in as Good Citizen.

The girls in Frank Marcy's room designed and made the costumes. They also assisted with decorating the room, and preparing and serving refreshments after the play.

Mrs. Wallen would like to thank all those who helped make this a pleasant and worthwhile experience for the participants and their audiences. We hope that it "Helps keep Oregon clean."

She especially thanks those who sent cookies, and Toni Hergert, the high school teacher-cadet, who assisted.

Wednesday a trio from Lewis & Clark College presented a program of violin, cello and piano compositions by Beethoven, Dvorak and Shostakovich to the first four grades.

The program, sponsored by the Portland Chapter of Young Audiences, Inc. is given with the idea of stimulating self-discovery, creative thinking, extended vocabulary and verbalization, and a genuine interest in music of all kinds. The audience was encouraged to question, answer and discuss various topics introduced by the musicians and their performances.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Mills are the proud parents of Anthony Judd, seven pounds eight ounces, who was born May 11 and came to take him home with them on May 16th. Mrs. Mills will finish this school year, but will not resume her teaching duties in the fall. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edison Mills, Sandy, and the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Proett of Wahoo, Neb.

The staff of Sandy Elementary join in extending warmest wishes and hearty congratulations to the new parents.

Mrs. John Mitchell and Mrs. Roy Mason were honored guests at an open house in the Firwood library Sunday hosted by the primary and special teachers. Attending the tea from the greatest distance were Mrs. Mason's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ferris English from Camas, Wash.

The oldest student attending was Eanie Nichols, who was in Mrs. Mitchell's third grade room at Hillcrest. The oldest of Mrs. Mason's pupils were Betty Gilliland of Gresham and Karleen Perry of Estacada. The oldest student attending Mitchell's room from Sandy was Ace Koch. The youngest members attending were from their present classrooms at Firwood: Wendy Sue Rader from Mrs. Mitchell's room and Sternia Stjerna from Mrs. Mason's.

A women's quartet, composed of Mrs. Ken Fox, Mrs. Ed Taylor, Mrs. John Rowell and Mrs. Mel Richey, entertained with songs at various times during the afternoon.

The fifth grade field trip was May 12 and 13. Robert Marshall, Florence Schmitz and Barbara Hazelett's rooms went on Tuesday; Eileen Lear and Kenneth Fox's on Wednesday. They visited Bonneville Dam, where they watched a barge go through the dam; the fish hatchery, where they ate their sack lunches out of doors; and Multnomah Falls. One bus load also went to Vista House. They report a good time in spite of rain part of the day.

Sally Enz's 6th grade reading class did a choral reading play, "Our Country 'Tis of Thee" for Barbara Hazelett and Robert Marshall's rooms.

Some of the pupils in Roger Christensen's 6th grade room worked out a play, "Caddie and the Indians," that was in their reader, taken from the book "Caddie Woodlawn," by Carol Brink. Gary Nutter directed the play and portrayed the part of Tom Woodlawn. Other main characters were Caddie, played by Pam Ackley; Mrs. Woodlawn was Terri Copher; Mr. Woodlawn, Brent McBee; Warren Woodlawn, Mike Teague; and Cousin Annabelle, Debbie Snow. Others took the part of the Indians. The audience was composed of pupils from Mr. Marshall's, Mrs. Enz's, and Mr. Foster's rooms.

Pathfinders Take First

Returning this week from the statewide Pathfinder Fair at Salem Fairgrounds, 20 members and their six counselors of the Sandy club came home with the first place trophy for the yearly program, four blue ribbons, two reds, and one white.

Some 1200 youth and staff attended from as far east as Prineville and south from Klamath Falls. Trophies were awarded clubs with the highest total points from year-round home-town activities, camporees and fair competition.

Events at the fair included grand parade marching, booth displays, centipede race, and soapbox derby.

Ron Davis, club director of the local Seventh-day Adventist junior group, stated that the Pathfinder Clubs were initiated 20 years ago throughout the world to channel Adventist youth to practical character building.