How We Stand

We recommend the following:
MEASURE NO. 1: "Capital Construction Bonds for State Government."

MEASURE NO. 2: "Repeals 'White Foreigner' Section of the Constitution."

MEASURE NO. 4: "Pollution Control Bonds."

MEASURE NO. 5: "Lowers Oregon Voting Age to 19."

Position No. 4: L.G. Rood.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION:

SUPREME COURT JUDGE:

Position No. 3: Gordon Sloan.

COURT OF APPEALS POSITION

Position No. 1: Virgil Langtree.

Position No. 5: Edward Branchfield.

We recommend passage of the Sandy City Budget. The city can not operate without funds, and the budget which will be presented to the voters Tuesday has been deleted to the very basic needs of residents of the city.

We add a further recommendation that a workable, suitable tax base for the City of Sandy be considered by the people, and that it appear on the ballot at the General Election, in November.

We recommend passage of the proposed budget for Mt. Hood Community College.

We do not recommend the following:

MEASURE NO. 3: "Revised Constitution for Oregon."

This measure purports to delete obsolete provisions in the present constitution. It appears to us, after careful study of the measure, that most of the voice in government now retained by the voters would be classified as "obsolete," and would invest nearly complete powers in the State Government.

MEASURE NO. 6: "Local School Property Tax Equalization"

We feel that the ballot title is completely mis-leading in the use of the word 'local'. Passage of this measure would mean even less local control and voice in our school systems.

We do need tax bases for schools, but we suggest they be set by local people for local schools, and regulated by local needs.

Finally, vote as you like...but vote!

Another source of litter is non-returnable bottles and cans. People prefer to dispose of these along the roadside rather than clutter up their own trash cans, or stop for a minute and put them in a wayside litter can.

I don't think anyone wants to live in a world full of trash, but if we don't do something about it now, it will soon be too late.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Meanwhile, back at Sandy High School...Last fall the vocal music department, and several other departments, presented Sandy High's first musical, "My Fair Lady," involving approximately 150 students.

The Symphonic Choir, the junior-senior choir, performed at a Christmas concert; at a spring concert and in two exchange concerts with Hermiton High School. They sang Christmas music at Lloyd Center and also taped Christmas music for KISN.

The Mixed Choir (a sophomore group) and the Boys' Glee and Girls' Glee freshmen choirs performed at the Christmas concert and the underclassmen concert.

The Freshman Girls' triple trio, directed by Heather Harper, performed for the Women's Club and at the underclassmen concert. They participated in the District Solo and Ensemble contest and took part in the music department's grade school tour.

The Freshman Boys' quartet, directed by Dean Eblen, also took part in the tour.

The Sophomore Ensemble, consisting of four girls and four boys, directed by Vickie Eblen, performed at the Talent Show; on the grade school tour and at the Women's Club.

Thirty to forty soloists from the school participated in the District's Solo contest, bringing home many top ratings. Also, from this contest two senior girls, Vickie Eblen and Carolyn Haneberg, went to the State contest. This is the first time the school has sent soloists to

"THE STORY LADY". Mrs. Ed Neuenfeldt, above, holds the rapt attention of pre-schoolers every Tuesday from 2 to 2:30 p.m. in the city library. A vacation story hour for school children in grades one through four will follow the pre-schoolers from 2:45 to 3:15, beginning Tuesday, June 16. Both groups will continue through the summer months. (Post Photo)

This competition. Two other soloists rated high enough in District to try out for State. They were junior Kay Ashton and senior Dean Eblen.

A soloist from the department sang the National Anthem at each home basketball game this year.

The Pionaires, swing choir, gave 26 performances through the year.

There are approximately 200 students involved in the music department, which is about one-quarter of the student body. This alone should bring enough parents out to the concerts to get a good audience, but it doesn't. The seats are only about half taken. Interest from the parents and the rest of the community does a great deal to get the students involved and proud of their accomplishments.

This resume is only one example of the many activities taking place in the school. Other activities such as instrumental music, speech, drama, athletics and many organizations, both service and educational, exist in the school.

Sandy Union High School is really a good school, doing a great job with her many involvements. The students, faculty, and all concerned, urge you to get to know your school, because it's a swell place! You can help to make it even better by being interested in our generation and letting us know so!

To The Editor:

As parents of a student at Mt. Hood Community College, we would like to express our opinion about this school.

First, we have spent some time visiting the campus and are very impressed with the way our tax money has been spent. There has been considerable time and effort spent on building a school and campus for the future. The buildings are being planned and constructed soundly and economically.

Secondly, we like the atmosphere and the attitudes of its students, who have been more interested in getting an education than in disrupting the school.

We were happy when our daughter chose to go to Mt. Hood and we are pleased that she is planning on going this next year too.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Swails
Sandy

To The Editor:

I strongly recommend a YES vote May 26 on measure No. 8 for a new tax base for Mt. Hood Community College.

Mt. Hood has fulfilled every commitment it has made to the public. It has been fiscally responsible and prudent. The tax rate for the building and operating of the college has not exceeded $2 per $1,000 property value during the 5 years since the college began.

Mt. Hood's program is all that was asked and then some. Vocational-Technical offerings, job training and college transfer work have provided all people new opportunities for employment as well as education at a cost within the reach of any person or family.

The college has also had a major economic impact on this region. The continuing income to the region from the college is one reason why this area has

Sandy Kiwanis Wins Award

Kiwanis Lt. Governor Owen Sabin, Milwaukie, presented the "bowling ball" Division 20 Attendance Award to the Sandy club during a dinner meeting at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday, May 13. A score of 93.3 for the month of April downed Molalla, who had won it each month since its inception six months ago. The club winning it the most times in a year will gain permanent possession, so the local group is determined to keep it here.

Cap't. I.S. Hartman and Dr. Robert Jensen, members of the Mt. Hood Community College faculty, discussed the proposed budget for the school to be voted on next Tuesday. They also presented a slide program which traced the progress of MHCC from its modest beginning to the present.

The Milwaukie group reported that their president, Dutch Watanabe, working not suffered a major economic recession. The college generates about 10 new dollars for every local dollar we contribute to its support. What better return could we ask?

The new tax base will cost about 20 cents more per $1,000 in property value. That's $3 on a $15,000 home in 1970-71, less than a restaurant meal or a couple of movie tickets. The new tax base will permit the college to continue its long-range, financial plan with a total tax rate of under $2.

Let's show a great young college that we support it and its record. A 20 cents investment will permit our college to care for some 500 of our own students who will not be able to enter if the tax base is defeated.

Mt. Hood's modest proposal is endorsed by all of the newspapers and chambers of commerce in the district.

It certainly has my endorsement. As an area businessman and as a citizen concerned about educational opportunities for our young people, I believe Mt. Hood is one of the best investments we have ever made.

Let's not cripple the college, let's help it! Stay Great with No. 8!

ESSAY—"Litter"
Duane Boswell—Eighth Grade

Litter is getting to be a problem. It keeps getting worse every day. If we had the litter problem solved we would have some of the pollution problem solved.

My brother and I CLEANED up part of our road and we had a pickup load on just a little ways. There was so many cans and other garbage that it almost made us sick. If there was a deposit it would help a lot, they put a high deposit on bottles when they should have put it on the cans and it would have solved some of the problem.

Litter is so bad that it may even cause accidents, you could be driving down the road and hit some litter and have a wreck. You might even be walking and fall on some, there is enough of it that you would probably kill yourself.

Contractors Get Notice

Bids will be received by the Oregon State Highway Commission, Salem, Thursday, June 4, for a project involving the development of the Mary S. Young State Park, located between the Oswego Highway and the Willamette river at the north edge of West Lynn.

Project plans call for construction of terraces and stone retaining walls for development of the river frontage of the park.

Completion date is set for December 31. This project was advertised in August of '69, but was withdrawn prior to opening of bids due to lack of funds.

Tri-Met Manager Chamber Guest

Walter Daggett, chairman of Tri-Met was guest speaker for the Sandy Area Chamber of Commerce lunch meeting at T.J.'s Tuesday. Stating that he felt the best way to give the members present the information they wanted concerning Tri-Met was to keep his talk brief, and leave more time for answering questions, Daggett gave a brief resume of the company; how it came to be, and present and future plans.

Answers to questions by the group brought out the following: H.B. 1808 was passed by the 1969 Legislature with only three negative votes; Most of the testimony heard before it was passed was favorable, and was given by various Chamber of Commerce groups, representatives of the State Highway Department, users of the highways, etc.; there are no immediate plans for service to such "satellite areas" as Sandy, and purchase of the Blue Lines is not possible at this time as it would require government subsidies; Tri-Met is awaiting approval of a requisition for new equipment to replace existing equipment, but no figure was given; Tri-Met will need about $2 million dollars over the first two years, and hopes to use other sources of revenue than the present employers tax, but cannot say how long after the two-year period this will be, or when it might even be decreased.

Daggett said use of a gasoline tax to supplement the present employers tax would require a Constitutional amendment, but "if the proposed Constitution passes at next Tuesday's Primary Election, the Legislature would have the right to convert such taxes for services such as Tri-Met".

Dale Nicholls and George Morgan reported on a meeting concerning the 4th of July celebration. Jerry Swails has been elected temporary chairman of a committee which will be assisted by Judge George Howeler in setting up a corporation to handle the various needs of such an event. The corporation, which they hope will be official by July, will be made up of representatives of the various groups in the area.

Due to a raise in prices of 10 to 15 per cent for fire-works, and the need for insurance to cover the celebration, the members present voted to up the previous donation to $75 dollars by $25.

Ned Dyal noted that the posters made by Sandy Grade School students were being placed in various store windows in the area to promote the annual "Clean Up Emphasis Days" campaign of the Chamber.

Narcotics on a local level will be discussed next week by a representative of the Clackamas County Sheriff's Department.

SANDY POST AWARD ESSAY—"Litter"
By Kristin Bergesen—Eighth Grade

Litter is becoming a grave problem in all parts of the country. It is also becoming a problem in Sandy.

It is appalling to see the amount of trash being carelessly strewn about Sandy. It is hard to believe that people are so careless, but it does seem that they have no respect for public or private property. It would appear that people left to themselves will eventually destroy their environment. Since it is not possible to police all the land open to the public, steps must be taken to alleviate the problem at its beginning.

Packaging is responsible for much of the litter. Products are so encased in plastic and cardboard that it is a struggle even to unwrap them. It would considerably cut down on the amount of trash if more restraint was used in packaging.
