July 4 amateur show is in need of performers

The Sandy Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an amateur variety show to be presented in Sandy on July 4th. The amateur talent show will take place in front of the grandstand at the Sandy High athletic field just prior to the big fireworks display.

Show production chairman, Dale Nicholls is seeking talent from the Sandy area to perform. Dancers, singers, instrumentalists, magicians, western musicians, modern musicians, old time fiddlers, accordion players, novelty acts, all types of performers are requested to contact Nicholls concerning a spot in the show.

A committee will be selected to evaluate the performances.

people deaths are recorded

Fifty-four people died in Oregon traffic during May, the same number as killed during that month a year ago, according to the Motor Vehicles Division. Even so, the state's five month death toll still shows improvement over 1970 with 236 fatalities reported, compared with 256 for that period last year.

The agency said the next three months will be critical in determining if Oregon will record a decrease in traffic deaths this year, as it did in 1970.

June, July and August last year accounted for 179 traffic deaths. July last year accounted for an unusually low number of deaths, 45. If July this year is average, then the gains thus far recorded may well disappear. The average July toll for the previous five years has been 64.

Watch lost

A "customer" at Larry's Sport Center in Gresham Mall asked to examine a skin diver's watch on Monday. He didn't make the purchase but while the clerk was waiting on another customer the watch disappeared. It was valued at $119.50.

Local Sandy merchants will provide valuable gift certificates to be awarded to the most talented and entertaining performers.

Reliable estimates indicate that over 3,500 persons viewed the Sandy fireworks show last year. This is the 1st year for the talent show. This presents a fine opportunity for talented young or old to "do your thing" in front of a large audience.

Anyone interested in appearing on the show or desiring additional information may call Dale Nicholls at 668-4311. Show time is limited to approx. 1 hour and 15 minutes.
