

Pair given party

An aloha party for Nancy Root and Guillermo Lema was held June 9 at the home of outgoing AFS Co-President Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berger on Jonsrud Lane.

Nancy left for Norway June 21 and Lema left Sandy June 25. He was going to Hudson's Bay High School in Vancouver, Wash. where students from the area were to assemble for a three-day campout and get-acquainted time before going by bus to Kansas City, Mo. He was going to fly to New York and then return to Chile.

The party was attended by members of the AFS Club, their advisor Mrs. Eleanor Hermanson, other high school students and parents.

Nancy was given a check from the Adult Club and Lema received a birthday gift and farewell gift from the Student Club.

TRUDY NEILSON AND "GINGER"

Trudy Neilson reigns

A 1970 Barlow High School graduate will reign as rodeo queen of the Molalla Buckaroo show July 2, 3 and 4.

She is 19-year-old Trudy Neilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. True S. Neilson, Rt. 2, Box 798, Boring. Trudy attended Rockwood grade schools and Gresham High School.

Active in 4-H, the pretty brunette belonged to Gresham Westerners, a club led by Florence Carroll, and later to Cascade Cavaliers, led by Danny Wambaugh.

Trudy got her first horse when she was in the seventh grade. She rides mostly in Western Horsemen of Oregon game shows. She will ride her sorrel horse "Ginger" in Buckaroo activities.

Trudy Neilson was crowned March 26. Princesses are Kathy Wieck, Estacada, and Pat Weider, Molalla.

Trudy's boss, Dick Johnson, juggled her schedule as waitress at Vip's Restaurant, Wood Village, so she could participate in the many rodeo activities, which include luncheons, parades and the 8 p.m. evening performances of the rodeo. There will also be a 1:30 p.m. rodeo performance July 4.

The rodeo queen and her court were outfitted by Gresham Western Outfitters. Trudy will alternate an orange suit with a purple and pink one.

New books at Library

The number of books circulated from the Sandy Public Library for May was 2,272. Since moving to new quarters in the City Hall building Nov. 15, 1969, library cards have been issued to 1,479 people.

Every Tuesday at 2 p.m. Mrs. Jan Neuenfeldt conducts a story hour for preschool children. Many 3 to 6 year-olds are enjoying this experience, with their name placed on a bulletin board and stars for attendance. The first to fourth grade children listen to stories from 2:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, also.

The librarian has some help now in the library. Susie Nelson and Laurie Samsel from Sandy High School are under the National Youth Corps Program and are assisting the librarian this summer for eight weeks.

Many patrons enjoyed an exhibition of oil paintings by the Sandy Art Club during the past month. A new showing of tile painting and craft work by Irma Metcalf and Ursula Solso will remain on display for a month.

Many new books have been placed on the shelves and a new group of 125 non-fiction books will be ready for readers the last of this week. We will publish a list of new books every two weeks until all the new ones have been listed.

Earnings reach peak

New peaks in average hourly earnings ($4.08) and average weekly earnings ($161.57) were reached by Oregon's manufacturing production workers in May. The record $4.08 per hour was primarily the result of increased overtime in the lumber and wood products industry.

Weekly earnings in lumber and wood products advanced from $165.20 in April to $170.97 in May compared to $153.98 a year earlier. Improved market and weather conditions boosted the workweek from 40.0 to 41.0 hours from April to May, up from 40.1 reported a year earlier.

The factory worker weekly earnings average of $161.57 was the product of 0.9 an hour increase in the average workweek from 38.7 to 39.6 hours with the four cent rise in hourly earnings. Construction workers in Oregon are averaging $228.66 per week in May, 1971 as compared to $209.10 a year earlier. The workweek in the construction sector (37.0 hours) moved up 1.5 hours above the year ago level of 35.5 hours.
