Ullman wants law repealed

A bill sponsored by Congressman Al Ullman to repeal federal registration requirements on .22 caliber rimfire ammunition was approved by the Ways and Means Committee this week, it was announced Friday.

A similar bill by Ullman passed the House last year but died in the Senate's year-end legislative logjam.

The bill has not yet been scheduled for debate in the House but Ullman said he thought it would be brought up within a month.

"The most popular sporting ammunition used in the country is .22 caliber rimfire," Ullman said. "About 4.3 billion rounds are sold by over 150,000 dealers every year." For this reason, Ullman said, it is impossible to trace the ammunition from manufacture or sale to actual use.

The Justice Department has said the voluminous records of .22 caliber ammunition sales are virtually worthless from a law enforcement viewpoint, Ullman noted.

"This is the first important step toward ending this unnecessary and onerous requirement," Ullman said.

He said the law has only served to hinder and harass law-abiding citizens who enjoy hunting and other outdoor sports.

In a letter recommending enactment of Ullman's bill, Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst said his department has not received a single case from the Treasury Department for prosecution resulting from ammunition records.

Work starts
Work is under way on a 160-acre housing development across 257th Drive from Mt. Hood Community College.

The 19-acre first phase, to be known as Brigadoon, will include 38 four-plexes and 20 single-residence dwellings. Developers are Investors Funding Corp. of Seattle.

The area is presently unincorporated but annexation to Gresham is planned.

Sandys homecoming week

The Homecoming Week activities at Sandy High School are in full swing. In anticipation of the game with Canby on Friday, the activities have been planned to build spirit for the all-important game.

The kick-off for the week's activity was the Rock Concert Monday night from 6:00-9:00. Approximately 400 students attended the performance of two of the top Portland area bands, H. E. Wormkeye and Notary Sojac.

Each day of the week has a theme culminating in Thursday's "Red and Black Day" and Friday's "Player Appreciation Day." Evening events yet to occur are tonight's parade and Friday's football game and homecoming dance.

The parade tonight will include floats prepared by each class, Homecoming Princesses, Karen Phleps, Patti Stone, Debbie Haselwander and Thersa Thornberg, S.U.H.S. Marching Band, Pep Club, Rally Squad, Football Team, Coaches and Dance Team.

Area people are invited to attend the parade.

The football game is at 8 p.m. Friday and the Homecoming Court will be introduced to the fans.

Due to a recent change in policy, the Homecoming Dance, as all other school dances will be closed except to S.U.H.S. students, supervisors, and parents. The dance intermission will contain the crowning ceremony of the '71-'72 court.

Mrs. Hermanson named officer

Mrs. Carroll (Eleanor) Hermanson of Gresham has been elected vice president of the Oregon Association of Journalism advisors.

Mrs. Hermanson, who is publications advisor at Sandy high school, was elected during the 50th anniversary conference of the Oregon Scholastic Press at Eugene Oct. 8-9.

Community college enrollment increases

Incomplete returns indicate Oregon community college enrollment has reached a record high, State Superintendent Dale Parnell announced Friday.

Registration at the 13 schools, according to unofficial figures reported this week, has climbed to 56,982.

"Enrollment is running substantially ahead of last year," said Carrol deBroekert, Oregon Board of Education associate superintendent. "We've projected 63,000 and we don't think the projection will be far off."

The returns are far from being complete as most of the schools have not completed registration. For example, Lane Community College began registration later than planned because of the levy election. And, too, several of the schools have unique open enrollment policies allowing students to enroll at various times in the term.

Incomplete and unofficial figures reported this week are: Blue Mountain 1,485; Central Oregon 1,380; Chemeketa 4,723; Clackamas 3,117; Clatsop 1,622; Lane 8,310; Linn-Benton 3,388; Mt. Hood 7,500; Portland 19,800; Southwestern 2,000; Treasure Valley 1,030; Umpqua 1,803; and Rogue, beginning its first year, 824.

Band member

Doug Keckmann of Rt. 1, Box 233, Boring, is a member of the 230-piece Oregon State University marching band this fall. He is a junior in Humanities and Social Science. The band next will perform at the Oregon State-Washington game this weekend in Seattle.

Garage robbed

Approximately $150 worth of tools were reported stolen Oct. 18 from an unlocked, open garage belonging to Chris Michael Lucas, 2334 SE 154th.
