Family income up

Average family income was $10,680 in Clackamas County, in 1969, compared with $9,489 for the State, according to a report on the 1970 census by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. Per capita income for the county amounted to $3,423, the report shows.

The 1970 census counted 166,088 residents in the county; 3.2 percent were foreign born and 11.7 percent native born with one or both parents of foreign birth.

Among the county's 152,647 inhabitants age 5 and over in 1970, 24,802 were living in a different county within the State in 1965, and 17,471 in a different State.

In the population age 16 and over, 79.3 percent of the men and 40.6 percent of the women were in the labor force. Among the employed, 49.8 percent were holding white collar jobs, and 14.5 percent were government workers.

About 39.6 percent of the married women with husband present were in the labor force, and 27.2 percent of these wives had children under six.

There were 50,909 persons 3 to 34 years old enrolled in school. In the 25-and-older population, 60.8 percent of the men and 66.5 percent of the women were high school graduates.

Copies of the report, "General Social and Economic Characteristics, Oregon," PC (1)-39C, are available for $1.50 each from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from U.S. Department of Commerce field offices located in major cities.

Old-time films slated at Barlow

Sam Barlow High School will have an "Old-Time Film Festival" Saturday, April 15, from 7:30-10 p.m.

It will be held in the Barlow auditorium and tickets will be sold at the door.

The films to be shown are: "The Rink" and "The Cure" with Charlie Chaplin, "The Barbershop" with W. C. Fields and "Frankenstein meets Wolfman" with Lon Chaney.

The proceeds will be used to sponsor two delegations to the Mock Democratic National Convention that will be held in the Portland Memorial Coliseum on May 17, 18 and 19.

The Oregon Council of Social Studies is sponsoring the all-Northwest convention with over 3,000 high school students participating.

The decision to have a Democratic instead of Republican convention is due to the number of candidates seeking the democratic nomination.

This activity is looked upon by the state educators as being an educational experience rather than a politically pertinent activity.

Sam Barlow seniors are in charge of two states, Oklahoma and Hawaii. Students must help pay for the rental of the coliseum, registration fees, postage and communicating with their states.

The delegates have been working toward the convention since last December.

Mt. Hood College schedules play

Dee Torrey, MHCC drama instructor, will direct Kurt Vonnegut's new play "Happy Birthday, Wanda June" May 19-31 in the college theatre. Torrey says it will be the west coast premiere of the play.

The offbeat comedy is a modern version of Homer's Odyssey. In portraying the sadness of the American way of life, Vonnegut voices an appeal for a non-violent approach to today's world.
