CITIZENS COLLEGE FORUM
Mt. Hood students will get Earth Week off to a good start by assisting in the renovation of The Place—a drop-in-center for low-income persons at 274 S. Roberts in Gresham.

Campus organization SHINE (Students Help Improve Neighborhood Environment) will provide students and faculty Saturday, April 15, to dig top soil for construction of sidewalks and walkways, to do some painting and to do some general yard work.

The Place serves as a referral agency and emergency food center.

Nelda Oeser directs the non-funded drop-in center.

Earth Day (Arbor Day) is April 28.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Dale Parnell, has encouraged Oregon Public School officials to stimulate "... activities which tend to encourage the planting, protection and preservation of trees and shrubs and a greater understanding of the environment and means for preserving and improving it."
