BILL HENDRICKS of Gresham and Lynn Woodworth play the lead roles in "Little Mary Sunshine." This production is part of the Three-in-One Summer Repertory at Lewis and Clark College's Fir Acres Theatre. Performances are nightly except Mondays, July 14-Aug. 3. For reservations, call 244-6161, ext. 305.

Former Centennial student in college repertory troupe

Bill Hendricks of Gresham is a member of the Three-in-One Summer Repertory troupe performing July 14-Aug. 3 at Lewis and Clark College's Fir Acres Theatre.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Robinson, and a graduate of Centennial High School. At Fir Acres this summer, he is playing the lead role of Captain Jim in the musical "Little Mary Sunshine."

"Little Mary Sunshine" by Rick Besoyan is a lighthearted melodrama set in the Colorado Rockies near the turn of the century. The play weaves a pattern of romance and suspense around lively song and dance numbers. Lynn Woodworth plays opposite Hendricks as the heroine, Mary Sunshine.

The repertory is also offering "Clerambard" and "A Scent of Flowers." "Clerambard" is a French comic satire by Marcel Ayme, and "A Scent of Flowers" is a thought-provoking drama by James Saunders.

All three shows will play in rotation nightly except Mondays, July 14 through Aug. 3.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. for all performances. The theatre is offering special admission prices for groups, students and senior citizens.

For reservations and performance schedules, call Stevens and Son Jewelers, Lloyd Center, or the theatre box office at Lewis and Clark College.
