Theater Plans Last Show

Another one of the recreational facilities in the Sandy area is about to go down for the count. Gary Sandblast, owner-operator of the Sunset Theater, has announced intention to quit the Sandy theater after the weekend of Oct. 14.

In recent years, the city has lost the area's only bowling alley and also several other various recreational clubs for youths such as the Teen Club.

Sandblast blames poor attendance as the main reason for his plans to shut down the theater.

"I can not get enough people to attend the shows to meet my expenses," said Sandblast. "I've tried everything including R-rated movies, but the people of the Sandy area do not seem to want a theater."

Sandblast took over the theater on June 1, 1971 and has found the going tough. Often he has kept his theater open even though only five or six persons show up. He even has a suggestion box seeking help from his patrons on how to improve attendance at the theater.

We are sorry to see this facility ended in Sandy. It is one recreational activity which both the youngsters and the adults of the Sandy area can go to and have fun together.

The theater still has several fine shows slated between now and the day it will close. Attend one and realize what the community soon will be losing.

Smoke Screen Deliberate?

At the last Sandy city council meeting, we had trouble keeping our eyes open. Not because of the lack of interest in the meeting, but because the smoke was so thick in the room.

There were approximately 35 persons at the meeting and at one point we counted 10 cigarettes, two cigars and one pipe all going.

We do not condemn those people for smoking, but suggest the council hold their meetings with a no smoking rule and take "smoke breaks" when the going gets tough for those who must smoke.

We know we're not alone in this sentiment and wonder if this rule is established more people might turnout for future council meetings.

MHCC night classes begin

Don't be left out! The week of Sept. 25 marks the start of evening classes being offered at Sandy Union High School through Mt. Hood Community College. Both general interest and college transfer classes are being offered. You may register in person during the first week of classes, so come and see where the action is.

Relive some of the moments of our forefathers. Enjoy lectures and slide presentations covering the Old Oregon Trail and Barlow Road. A trip to the museum for a firsthand look at some of the old relics taken from this trip will prove a memorable experience. If you want all this and more, sign up for "History of the Barlow Road and Oregon Trail."

Other general interest classes being offered include GED English, Ceramics I, Lettering I, Basic Engine Tune-up & Diagnosis, Basic Welding I, Woodshop, Basic Electronics —, Developmental Reading, Landscaping, Basic Bishop Sewing I, Quilting I, Women's Fitness, Scuba Diving, and Refresher Typing.

Perhaps you are working toward a college degree. These courses will be offered for transfer credit: Introduction to Literature, History of Western Civilization, General Psychology, English Composition, and Intermediate Algebra.

Eagle Creek man killed

A 21-year-old Eagle Creek man was killed last week when his motorcycle struck the side of a pickup near Boring.

According to Clackamas County sheriff's reports, Michael J. Hunt, Rt. 1, Eagle Creek, was dead when Boring Fire Department crews arrived to administer first aid. Hunt was taken to Gresham General Hospital by Estacada Ambulance Service.

Driver of the pickup, Orville E. Olson, 44, Rt. 1, Eagle Creek, told deputies he was westbound on Judd Road when he had stopped prior to turning into his driveway. Olson said he waited for a car to pass, then seeing no other eastbound traffic, he began his turn.

He was partially into the driveway when he heard the motorcycle strike the pickup. The report estimated Olson was going about five miles per hour.

The deputies reported Hunt apparently attempted to miss Olson by swerving across the driveway, but hit the pickup's front fender. No citations were issued.

Police have busy day

Saturday, Sept. 16, was a busy day for the Sandy police as they reported four incidents.

David C. Korbe, 19, Sandy, was lodged in the Clackamas County jail on a warrant from Justice Court for a traffic offense.

Andrew B. Hartman, 25, Sandy was arrested and charged with making alcohol available to a minor. He was lodged in the county jail.

A 1969 VW bug was reported stolen from the Triple X parking lot. The car belongs to Leslie E. Jordan, Sandy. The car was reportedly stolen when the keys were left in the ignition. It had not been recovered at press time.

The Trail Cafe was broken into at approximately 9:30 p.m. According to the police report, a small amount of food, cigarettes, candy and pennies were reported taken. The police took a 15 year-old former resident of Sandy into custody in this case and lodged him with the county juvenile authorities.

One other incident the Sandy police reported last week was at Sandy grade school. On Monday a window was broken at the school and entrance into six classrooms made. No damage was reported in the classrooms. The police are currently questioning two juveniles in the case.

Backyard burning scheduled

There will be a "Backyard Burning Period" allowed in a month. The Columbia-Willamette Air Pollution Authority has set the dates as follows: starting Oct. 27 thru Nov. 30.

Permits will be issued starting this Monday, Sept. 25, for this period. Only materials consisting of tree and shrub clippings, dried plants, etc. may be burned.

The permits will be only for those days allowed by the DEQ and can be obtained at the Sandy Rural Fire Dept. Station in Sandy.

Sandy high enrollment swells

The population of Sandy High School moved toward the 1,000 figure during the first few weeks of the school year.

District superintendent Joe DeMarsh told the Post, the district now has an enrollment of 960 students. This is an increase of 128 students over last year's ending figure.

County Republicans hold fair

Ski tickets, a weekend at the beach, golf at Bowman's and a steel engraving from the White House, sent by President Nixon, are among the items to be auctioned during the County Fair sponsored by the Clackamas County Republican

Central Committee. The fair will be held at Lake Oswego Armory, 1915 S. Shore Blvd., Lake Oswego, Saturday, Sept. 23, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. The White House engraving, with its gray matting, measures about 11 by 9 inches. The auction, to be conducted beginning at 2 o'clock by Gary Day of Canby, will also offer a color pictorial book, "Oregon", by Akeson & Gohs, sent by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall and contains his autograph and comment.

Vice-President Agnew has sent a vice-presidential signing pen. Other items are being donated.

The fair will open at 10 o'clock with sale booths featuring fresh farm produce, nursery stock, white elephants and baked goods. The auction at 2 o'clock will have new and used items. At 4 p.m. a spaghetti dinner will be served, with tickets available in advance, $1.50 adults, $1 age 7-14. Candidates will have booths at the fair and will be on hand to meet the public.

Those wishing contribute to the fair may call Republican Central Committee Headquarters in Oregon City, 655-7432 or Ginny Brewster, Sandy area chairman, 668-6286.

★ Letters to the Editor ★

To the Editor:

A very nice, sensitive person upon seeing "Ol' Bill's" cartoon in the September 14th Sandy Post said she could cry.

And it is to cry! But to me it would be crying in a different form. I should like to cry, loud and clear, shame! This cartoon clearly depicts what is happening to the once lovely Mt. Hood area. Why doesn't the State or Federal Government step in and save what is left from the continual encroachment? Certainly this area is equally as important as Cascade Head and as beautiful. One thing I should have liked to add to the cartoon is "and even on a smoggy day they can see the First National Bank Building."

To the Editor

A Sandy police officer harrassing a kid? What's new about that? It's my opinion they have been doing that for years. It seemed to me on several occasions they have provoked juveniles into trouble just in order to have something to do.

I'm sure if the city council wants to make a serious investigation, they will find harrassment is a way of life for the Sandy Police Force.

Damascus shopping center set

Construction of a new shopping center in Damascus started Monday.

The 53,000 square foot center will be located on the south side of Highway 212 at the juncture of Foster Road and Sunnyside Road.

It is being built by Parker-Northwest Construction Company for Damascus Square Development Co. owned by two partners, George LoPiparo who plans a Thriftway Supermarket and Louis Zimel of the Portland Fixture Co.

Other tenants will include a Ben Franklin Variety store, Jeri's Women's Wear, Decker's Men's Clothing, a health food store and a clothing service.

A bank in a separate building also is planned. The leasing agent is Zimel Realty, Inc., Portland, who say a small amount of space is available.

Assessments authorized

Preliminary assessment hearings for utilities lines on Frontage Road and Beaver Creek in Troutdale have been set for Monday evening, Sept. 25, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Troutdale city hall.

Assessments to property owners for both sewer and water on Frontage Road south of I-80N are set for hearing at 7:30 p.m. The Beaver Creek sewer assessments will be on the agenda at 8:30 p.m.

Forestry building sought

The federal government is still looking for a building in Gresham to house the Mt. Hood National Forest office.

Today's issue of The Outlook carries an advertisement from the General Services Administration, space management division, saying the government wants to lease 25,000 square feet of office, storage and laboratory space together with parking sites for 68 vehicles and three trailers in Gresham.

The Mt. Hood office is now at 340 NE 122nd. The facilities have been outgrown. GSA published a similar advertising more than a year ago. The original bidders have been invited to resubmit their bids.
