Mattheisens married in double ring ceremony

Tanya Lynn Hergert and Stephen L. Mattheisen were married in a double ring ceremony, on Saturday, Aug. 26 at St. John's Catholic Church in Wemme.

The bride, who attended the University of Oregon, and Mt. Hood Community College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Hergert of Brightwood. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Mattheisen of Eugene, attended Lane Community College.

The church was decorated with yellow gladioli, and white baby's breath, for the afternoon ceremony, which was performed by Father Frank Wilks. Seed pearls and Alencon lace trimmed the bride's gown, which was fashioned of peadeu soie, with a chapel length train. Her headpiece was a seed pearl cap, with a tulle mist veil.

The former Tanya Lynn Hergert, who was given in marriage by her father, carried a bouquet of white roses and spider mums.

A friend of the bride, Deborah Dunlap, acted as maid of honor. She wore a mint green princess-style gown, with a daisy headpiece. Her bouquet was of green carnations and yellow daisies.

The bridesmaids who wore similar gowns, had smaller daisy headpieces, and carried daisy carnations and green daisies.

A niece of the groom, Niki Rose, wore an empire style gown of green dotted Swiss. She carried white daisies.

The bride's brother, Tod Hergert, acted as ring-bearer. Greg Buhr, of Portland, was best man for the groom. Ushering were Scott Hergert, and Casey McCormick.

Following the ceremony was a reception at Bowmans Golf Club which the 100 wedding guests attended.

Assisting at the reception were Day Rose, Virginia McHenry, Nancy Dougherty, Barbara Rix, and Bev. Lintner. Special guests were Mrs. C.A. Lintner, and Mrs. Theodore Hergert, grandparents.

For her wedding trip to Hawaii, the bride wore a long white pique gown, with butterfly trim.

The couple is at home now in Portland.

You guessed it. This is a new column. It may ramble quite a bit, but there will be one slim thread of continuity. It won't always be about plants. It won't be a garden column, but occasionally it will wander about the garden. It won't be a nature column, but occasionally it will wander down a woodland trail.

And, just as occasionally, it may be botanical or ecological, or fastened to any other aspect of the plant kingdom. Right now is a good time to say something about the September blooming of the Hybrid Tea roses.

The September bloom of these roses is second only to their June display. Some varieties, such as Tropicana, Crimson Glory, and the old La France try to outdo their previous performances. Some of the newer highly touted varieties aren't showing much peace is another that has a good Autumn showing.

McGredy's Sunset is as usual, the most dependable rose in the garden in yellow. This is a hard rose to beat in many ways. Its color is intense, it is exceptionally free blooming all season long, and the stems are long, making it a good variety for cutting.

In a lighter yellow, King's Ransom and McGredy's Yellow are just fair roses. The former is prey to mildew, and the latter is not a vigorous grower. A huge flowered yellow introduced in 1970 is Old Timer. So deep a gold is this one, it seems almost bronze. It isn't as free flowering as McGredy's Sunset, but what flowers. Some approach seven inches in diameter. The toughest and one of the more vigorous yellows is Lowell Thomas. I have seen one large old bush of this grown in utter neglect—no fertilizing, no watering, no weeding, no pruning, and no spraying—yet it just grew and flourished season after season as if it were the most pampered rose in a test garden.

Do not fertilize your roses again this fall and do not prune them too severely before February or March. As soon as they receive their early spring severe pruning is time enough to feed them again.

Sandy Public Library

Junice Barnum, Librarian

The time for the children's Story Hour at the Sandy Public Library has been changed from 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday to 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday of each week.

The new "Story Hour Lady" will be Mrs. Agnes Wise. Mrs. Jan Neuenfeldt, who generously gave her time to this project for several years, is busy with kindergarten classes this year and unable to continue.

All mothers with pre-school children from 3 to 6 are invited to bring them to the library Wednesday's at 2:30 to listen to stories from our many fascinating story books. This is a way to give children an early interest in reading and books.

Some 50 newly purchased fiction books are on our shelves, among them "The Word" by Irving Wallace, "The Blue Knight" by Joseph Wambaugh, and "The Zoo Gang" by Paul Gallico.

The following is a continuation of a list of books added to the library in past months.

Golden Age club hunts meeting place

Another meeting of the Golden Age Club was held Thursday, Sept. 14. Visitors included the Vance Hewitt's relatives.

Welcomed back from vacations were Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Amstad from Switzerland, and Ida Reinholz from South Dakota.

Plans are being made to obtain a permanent meeting place for the club.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 28, in the Oddfellows Hall, starting at noon with a potluck dinner.

Church sets special service

The Sandy Adventist Church will conduct the services of the Last Supper during the regular worship service Saturday at 11 a.m.

Pastor Larry Kurtz will give a brief sermon followed by a footwashing service, the Ordinance of Humility.

Communion will conclude the morning worship service. Guests are invited to participate in the services as the church practices open communion. These services are held four times a year in the Adventist Churches throughout the world.

New agent appointed for youth programs

Mrs. Laurel Stulken has been appointed Clackamas County Extension agent to work with the 4-H and youth program, reports Lee Kolmer, Director, Oregon State University Extension Service.

Mrs. Stulken, who will also have some area-wide responsibilities for 4-H leader training, comes to Oregon from Colorado where she received her master's degree in nutrition last year from Colorado State University.

In her new position, Mrs. Stulken will have major responsibilities in the Clackamas County 4-H and youth program, one of the largest programs in Oregon. She is filling the position left vacant several months ago by the resignation of Mrs. Georgene Southwell.

Raised in Minnesota, the new Extension agent was an active 4-H member in her youth and attended National 4-H Congress. She is a member of Omicron Nu, national home economics honorary.

Mrs. Stulken and her husband have two small sons. As an OSU faculty member, Mrs. Stulken's appointment is subject to approval by the Oregon State Board of Higher Education.

Tractor contest calls Lundeen

The Oklahoma State Fairgrounds in Tulsa will be the scene for the 1972 Western States 4-H Tractor Operators contest with Eric Lundeen, Sandy, representing Oregon.

The contest, which is expected to draw participants from 22 western states, will be held Oct. 1 through 3. The event is a public demonstration of the skills and knowledge acquired by 4-H members participating in the tractor program.

Lundeen won the right to represent Oregon at the 1972 Oregon State Fair when he was named champion of the 4-H senior tractor driving contest. Accompanying him to Tulsa will be his mother, Mrs. Josephine Lundeen; his 4-H leader, Glen Carmony, and Mrs. Carmony. The young tractor drivers, all between 14 and 19, will have an opportunity for brief tours of the Tulsa area during the three days.

The contest itself consists of five parts. One is a written examination. A second is tractor safety. In addition, they will be asked to inspect a tractor for maintenance and faulty safety equipment. Finally, they will be asked to show their driving skill while pulling a two wheel manure spreader and while pulling a four wheel trailer.

Lundeen, 16, is a junior at Sandy high school. He has been in 4-H for six years, with projects in tractor safety, gardening and bachelor clothing.

The regional contest is sponsored by the National 4-H Service Committee and the American Oil Foundation which offers a travel assistance grant to each state winner.

Fall good to spray Tansy

These calm, dry, warm fall days is a good time to spray the Tansy Ragwort seedling plants and the Tansy Ragwort plants that are reaching the rosette stage since 2, 4-D can do a good job of controlling them, states Clive W. Cook, Clackamas County Extension Agent.

Tansy Ragwort is the poisonous annual, biennial or short time perennial plant that is causing such a problem in the county.

Complete instructions on how to spray with 2, 4-D can be obtained from the County Extension Office at 256 Warner-Milne Road, Oregon City.

UGN campaign starts in county

United Good Neighbors volunteers began their quest for $6,691,351 Tuesday, Sept. 12.

The $6,691,351 is the goal for the 1972 campaign that will continue through Nov. 16 in Clackamas, Clark, Multnomah, and Washington Counties.

Tuesday was the official beginning of the campaign, and saw most of the UGN's divisions, including Clackamas County, begin working. Also, UGN's 60 loaned executives began their portion of the drive by making calls on business firms throughout the four counties.

Clackamas County volunteers began with a 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting Tuesday morning in Oregon City, where guest speaker, Hillman Luettmann, Jr., assistant to the vice president of Portland, General Electric Company, told them that the 1972 goal is attainable, but only if workers begin immediately, and make every attempt to reach potential contributors.

The business portion of the Clackamas County campaign is divided into two sections. Business section area chair-

Commune life slides slated

The Community Presbyterian Church in Sandy will hold a special Praise Service Sunday, Sept. 24, at 7. Pamela Barr, who lived for four months in a commune in Israel, will show slides, and answer questions about her experiences.

Following the service, coffee and cookies will be served, for those wishing to stay.

Trail hiking fun in fall

Fall is a perfect time for hiking—with all the leaves changing color—and the freshness of dew in the early mornings—also the trails are not over-crowded. Try a new one or an old favorite before the first snowflake falls.

Mirror Lake trail has been reconstructed making it slightly longer but an easier trail to hike, with several good viewpoints along the way.

The upper trail to Paradise Park is now for "hikers only"; the new lower trail may be used by both hikers and horses.

The new Yocum Ridge extension is scheduled for completion next week. The extension gives you an additional 3½ miles of hiking and at one point gives you the feeling that you can reach out and touch the mountain.

CAMPGROUNDS Will be maintained until Oct.

Fitness class slated here

Swim exercises will be included in the Women's Fitness Class, REC 2M, which is a Mt. Hood Community College "after six" class. It will be held in the Sandy High School gym, Mondays, at 7 p.m., starting Sept. 25. The fee is $15.

There will be no swimming the first time.

Those interested may register by mail, or in person

Some of the activities will include aerobics, jogging, yoga, and group sports. A posture analysis, and testing for fitness of each member at the beginning, will be used to note progress.

Those interested may register by mail, or in person

Mt. View club sets dinner

The Mt. View Chapter social club will hold its annual Turkey Dinner on Sept. 23.

The dinner will start at 5 p.m. at the Sandy high school cafeteria and will run until 7.

Adult dinners will cost $1.75 and children under 12 years can eat for only 75 cents.

Would you like your child to feel close to God?

GOD

The simplicity of children makes them very receptive to love. And to God.

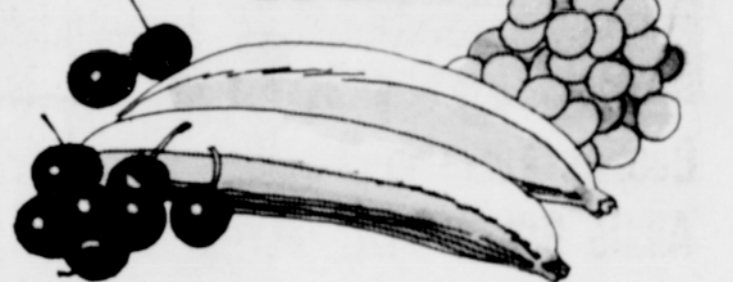

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn that God is Father and Mother to us all. They learn that all mankind belongs to one spiritual family—and how this truth draws members of an individual family closer together.

We would love to meet you and your family this Sunday.

(Q) What funeral benefits are available to the survivors of a deceased worker who qualifies under Social Security?

(A) A lump sum death payment based upon the Social Security record of a worker who dies either fully or currently insured may be payable to his survivors. This may be as much as three times the worker's primary insurance amount, but not more than $255.

If there is no eligible spouse, the lump sum benefit may be paid to the person who paid the funeral expenses, or it may be assigned to us as a credit toward funeral expenses.
