

They've named me 'up'n' at 'em here at the shelter - but it's almost Christmas and I still don't have a home ..

These dogs are up for adoption this week at the Multnomah County Animal Shelter.

Go East of Wood Village on Halsey, watch for sign:

visitors are always welcome - we want homes for ALL the animals - But we are glad to say the response has been so terrific that we are unable to give information about animals over the telephone. If you think one of these is your dog, please drive out and see, as we haven't the staff to answer all the calls.

We are pleased to announce that this week's Pets for adoption page is being paid for by:

Oh, please, won't somebody come ...

Maybe I can unlock it and run away...

There are no Christmas trees ...

In a jail cell ...

Not even if you're man's best friend ...
