New professional services are continually becoming available in Gresham.

Many think that they must go to Portland for such services as blue printing, photo copying, drafting and designing.

The truth is, all that needs to be done is to call Irene at 666-5566 and she will explain the many useful services available to those in the construction industry.

Or if you have a vague plan for a building in mind, you need only call Irene to get in contact with a professional designer who can produce drawings that will meet every need.

Irene is the wife of Don Epperson of Sonco, Inc., 1385 SE Orient Drive, Gresham. Epperson has purchased this expensive equipment for use in his own substantial, contracting business.

Because other services are only available at great distances, Sonco decided to make the equipment available to local people.

Epperson takes pride in providing another local professional service that helps make Gresham a place where every service can be obtained.

Irene says she knows the cost of the service is reasonable because she has never had a complaint on the charges.

Furthermore, work can be turned out on the same day brought in. In fact, many jobs can be done while the customer waits.

Don and Irene advertise their business with a steadily running classified ad in the Business Service Directory of the Peachy Classified Section of the Outlook and Sandy Post.
