

Nell's Notes

By NELL HOWE

The Bob Freeman's had what you might call a Texas invasion. Doris's sister, Phyllis Wilkes, Mike and Wally Mitchell and their two daughters Marcy and Michelle, Warren Wilkes and his daughter, Wendy, and Randy Mitchell all of Dallas, Tex. were all visitors.

Mike had brought some magnificent barbecued beef with him and from what I have gathered it was quite a contest to see if anyone but Bob got any of it.

There one chance was when Bob was at the Water Board meeting, and he was on pins and needles all evening worrying about that food.

I had the opportunity of meeting all these charming people, and if that is a sample of Texans, I am all for them.

Diane Bennett (Blaisdell) home from San Francisco for Fathers' Day looking as lovely as ever. Kent Blaisdell home from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. on leave, and will report back to Fort Carson, Colo. A move which has made him most pleased. He looks great.

Dorothy and Elmer Hanson have been on cloud nine. Daughter, Ruth and husband Stanley Deach with son Douglas, have been here from Yorktown, Vir. It was the first time Elmer had seen his young grandson and he was taking full advantage of the occasion. The week before, Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Corlett (Faye) had the entire family together for a barbecue. It was the first time since all the children have been married that they have had the opportunity of being together. Dan and Marie Hanson of Portland, Paul and Rena and their six children of Portland, Mardy and Hal Dyal and son Bryce of Myrtle Point and Stanley and Ruth Deach and son Douglas.

Needless to say, Elmer had a Father's Day to end all Father's Days.

Speaking of Father's Day, we spread ours out over a couple of days. Jan and her family were here on Friday night, and George and Leslie were here on Saturday night. The reason we did it this way was so we could leave Sunday morning for the Oregon Volunteer Fireman's Association Convention in Seaside. Ed Cooke and the Howe's represented the Hoodland Volunteer Fire Department. More about that later.
