A Parade Weekend Every Year?

One of the most often heard comments this past weekend was, "Sandy should hold a parade weekend like this every year."

And we agree with this thought. A special "Pioneer Weekend" or "Barlow Road Days" weekend each year in August would be a fantastic event for bringing the residents of the area together each summer for a fun time.

This weekend combined with the already successful July 4 celebration would give the Sandy area two major events to look forward to each summer.

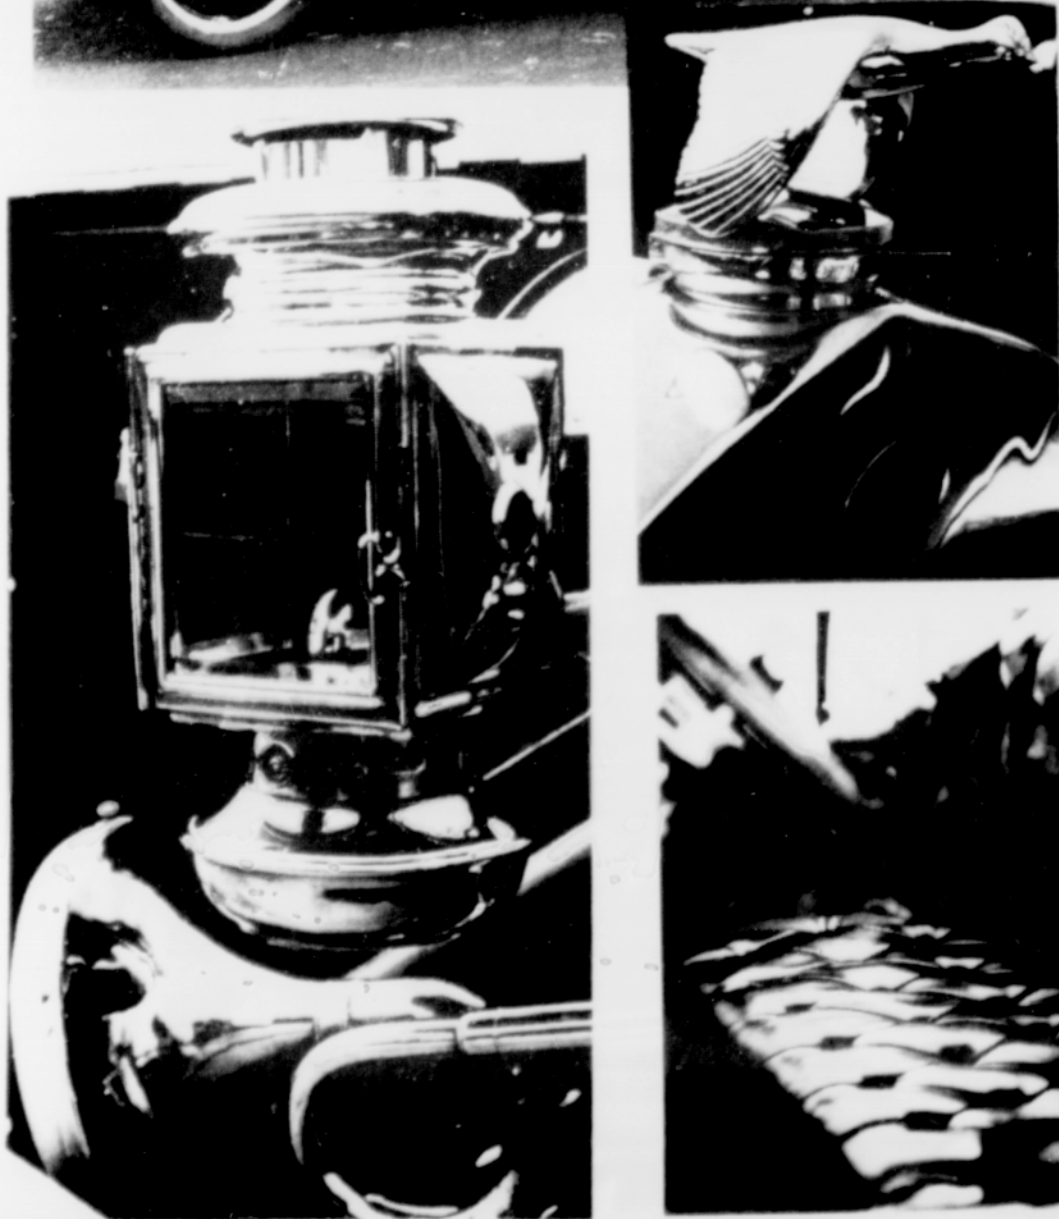

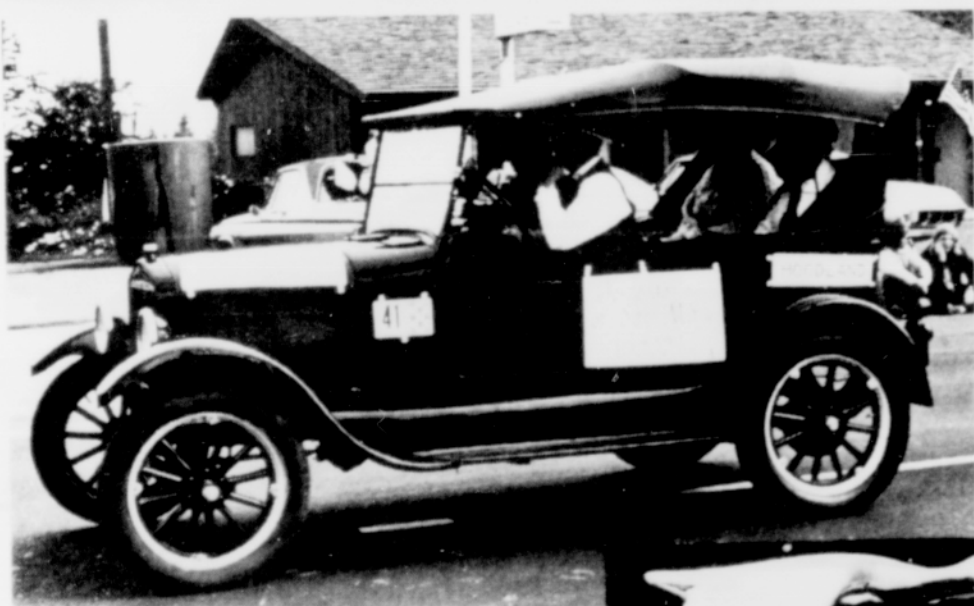

One of the first questions to answer is: "Who will run and organize this new weekend?"

This question could easily be answered by expanding the Sandy Civic Services, Inc. This organization is formed by the many civic and social clubs and organizations of the area. Currently it is only responsible for the July 4 celebration.

This year the organization proved its worth by staging the successful Centennial parade besides the July 4 event.

Why not double the membership of this organization with one half the members working to coordinate the July 4 events as usual, and the other half of the organization responsible for coordinating the new weekend of activities.

This Centennial year has proven the Sandy area residents enjoy getting together for a fun time.
