

Cottrell Community club hosts program

Although Cottrell School is unable to have a student-sponsored Christmas program, the Community Club has planned an outstanding program for their December meeting scheduled for this tonight, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

The Sandy High Symphonic Choir under the direction of John Bowman will present some Christmas songs after which the film, "The Little Drummer Boy" will be shown.

All the students in grades one through eight who are winners in the label contest are asked to be sure and be present at this meeting so they may be presented with their money awards.

Following a short business meeting, refreshments will be served by the fifth grade mothers. The annual ham and turkey drawing will follow the meeting.

Beverly Jean Annis wed at Lynch Baptist Church

MRS. FRANK R. PHILLIPS (Beverly Jean Annis)

Four sets of grandparents attended the wedding of Beverly Jean Annis and Sgt. Frank R. Phillips Nov. 3 at Lynch Baptist Church.

Attending the 2 p.m. ceremony performed by the Rev. Alton Kinter were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Deming, Sandy, and Mrs. and Mrs. I.W. Annis, Mollala, and the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Morgan, Sacramento, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, Eugene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Wesley Annis, 1311 NE 181st Ave., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Phillips, Olympia, Wash.

Mrs. James Moffit was organist and Martha Durkee accompanied Robert Finsaas, soloist.

The bride wore a white satin empire gown with stand-up collar which was trimmed with cotton border lace on the cuffs, collar and down the center.

A pillbox crown headpiece borrowed from the bride's aunt held her veil. She carried a nosegay of spider mums, roses, baby's-breath and carnations in shades of pink, lavender and white.

The bride had sixpence in her shoe and wore a pearl and cross necklace given to her by her parents.

Mari Annis was her sister's maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Darcy Kahler, Portland, and Peggy Young, Olympia, the bridegroom's sister. The maid of honor wore a purple crepe empire gown trimmed in white cotton lace at the neckline, waistline and cuffs. She carried mums, straw mum, carnations and baby's-breath with lavender ribbons in lavender, pink and white.

The bridesmaids wore lavender crepe gowns with flowers that had purple ribbons.

Paul Dole, the bridegroom's uncle, served as best man. Ushers were Ernie Young, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Olympia, Wash.; and Ken Phillips, the bridegroom's brother.

Tom Phillips, another brother, lighted candles.

Assisting at the reception for 150 guests were Mrs. Ken Lake, Darlene Hoffert, Diane Bretton, Mary Jo Conibear and Mrs. Carol Hutchison.

The bride's aunts, Mrs. Carl Hutchison and Mrs. Pat Blasen, supervised the reception. The wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Thelma Annis, the bride's aunt.

Patty Martin was in charge of the guest book.

Following a honeymoon to the Washington Coast, the couple is at home in Honolulu, Hawaii, where the bridegroom is serving in the Marines. He is a 1970 graduate of Tumwater, Wash., High School.

The new Mrs. Phillips is a 1972 Centennial High School graduate and worked for U.S. Bank of Oregon.

Community choir slates Handel's Messiah

Interested in getting into the true Christmas spirit? ... Then be sure to attend the presentation of Handel's Messiah next Sunday, Dec. 16, at 3:30 p.m. in the Sandy Assembly of God Church.

This is one of the last events commemorating the Centennial Year in Sandy and a community choir made of interested singers in the Sandy area will participate in the presentation of the most famous and one of the greatest oratorios, the Messiah.

It was written between Aug. 22 and Sept. 12, 1741 by Handel and the text was selected from the scriptures by Charles Jennens. It was first produced in Dublin, Ireland, April 13, 1742, under the direction of Handel; the audience was so thrilled by the music that they stood spontaneously on the Hallelujah chorus which has remained a tradition since.

The Sandy Community Choir is under the direction of Dr. Carl Hjortsvang, currently choir director of the Community Presbyterian Church in Sandy. He has wide experience as a church choir director and as music department head and instructor in a number of colleges in the East, including director of college choirs in Indiana and North Carolina. He has done extensive work as a soloist himself.

Pianist is Mrs. Dorothy Hanson of Wemme who is well known in the area here as a music instructor, pianist and organist.

Dogwood Club sets Yule party

The fireplace will be glowing and the Christmas tree trimmed Monday, Dec. 17, for the annual Christmas dinner party of Dogwood Garden Club.

Club East Estates is the place. Each member should bring an exchange gift to the 7 p.m. party.

In the spirit of Christmas, cash donations will be sent to Edgefield Manor and the Veteran's Hospital.

Everyone had fun learning to make apple dolls.

Mrs. J. Neeley of Weeders Garden Club was the speaker and instructor. She also showed some of her apple doll creations.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Dorothy Rohde.

History group sets Yule fete

A Christmas reception in the Troutdale Historical Society museum is set for Monday, Dec. 17, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the park.

Historical Society members will display old Christmas cards and recall their first school recitations.

The public is invited. The museum is located in the Troutdale City Park on the Columbia River Highway near the Sandy River.

Garden give

Members of Columbian Garden Club brought Christmas toys for a girl or boy to their Dec. 12 party with Mrs. Ernest Kirby as hostess.

The gifts, in lieu of a gift exchange among members, will be distributed at children's hospitals.

Mrs. Frank Mackaness was co-hostess.

Mrs. Detrick will be hostess for the Jan. 9 meeting which begins at 10:30 a.m.

Fire safety begins at home

Recent flammability standards for mattresses and mattress pads are set in an attempt to help families prevent fires in their homes. It is helpful to know that a new mattress or pad will not flame from a cigarette or other source of fire, says Marilyn Lunner, Oregon State University Extension home economist for Clackamas County.

It also is comforting to know that new carpets must also meet flammability standards. Probably other home furnishing items will be covered by legislation in the future, but carelessness can still cause a fire, Mrs. Lunner points out.

Blankets and sheets on the bed are flammable, so smoking in bed can be hazardous. Carelessness with an electric blanket can cause problems, especially if the electric cord has been placed between the springs and mattress, or the wired end of the blanket is tucked under. Care must always be taken that the electric control is turned off, that the blanket is not left in folds, or heavy weights put on the blanket.

Most families do not have new carpet purchased since the flammability standards were imposed. As more wood is burned this winter to help stretch heating fuels, it is important to consider the hazards of sparks getting onto the rug. A fireplace screen or doors should be used for protection. One of the comforts of glass fireplace doors, comments the specialist, is the knowledge that a fire can be left burning without any chance of accident when the family goes off to bed.

Wiring should not be overloaded by plugging in more appliances than the wire size can accommodate. If the house has fuses, be sure the right size fuse is used, or the overload will result in a fire rather than blowing the fuse. Especially vulnerable to fire, Mrs. Lunner cautions, is the house with lots of wood paneling.

Susan Hartley to marry

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hartley Jr., Rt. 2, Box 234, Gresham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Camille, to Michael Joseph Coates.

Miss Hartley will be graduated from Sam Barlow High School in January and works part-time at Fred Meyers.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Karlen Jr., Rt. 1, Box 975, Boring, is a 1973 Barlow graduate. He is in Texas for basic training in the Air Force National Guard.

The couple will marry March 23 at Pleasant Home Baptist Church.

Christian Women slate luncheon

Gresham Christian Women's Club will meet for lunch at noon Thursday, Dec. 20, at Garden Village Restaurant.

Odessa Nield, world traveler, will show slides of this year's trip. Music will be by Pat Brennan, soloist.

For reservations call Cynthia Hubbard, 663-3173, or Arabel Meier, 663-5229.

THESE FOUR soloists will be featured in the Sandy Community Choir presentation of Handel's Messiah to be presented Dec. 16, 3:30 p.m. From left are Mrs. Joan Koepke, Les Connell, Howard Berger and Mrs. Carolyn Haneberg Alcorn. The presentation will be given at the Sandy Assembly of God Church.

Organist for the Messiah will be Mrs. Frances Boring who serves the Sandy Community Presbyterian Church in this capacity.

Soloists are soprano, Mrs. Joan Koepke; alto, Mrs. Carolyn (Haneberg) Alcorn; tenor, Less Connell and bass, Howard Berger.

Mrs. Koepke, wife of Reverend Frank Koepke of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Sandy, is a regular member of the Portland Symphonic Choir and has done solo work. Mrs. Alcorn is active in music and was a district winner in high school competition on the particular solo she has been chosen to do. Les Connell of Sandy has toured the country with a special Youth For Christ choir, was a member of the Portland State choir when he attended there and is currently singing regularly with Inspiration Corporation, a singing group which performs on Sunday night. Howard Berger, member of the Community Presbyterian Church choir, has sung on many occasions in the Sandy area over the years he has been here and is well known by many.
