

Men swimmers win district, girls finish second

The Sandy High School men swimmers won the District IV swimming championships last weekend easily splashing the competition gathered from eight other schools, and the women swam to second. The team now sends eight boys and five girls on to the state competition in Eugene this weekend.

Sandy sends seven men to district mat meet

Seven wrestlers will be representing the Sandy Pioneers at the district meet this weekend in Newberg. Preliminary matches begin at 7 p.m. on Friday night and again on Saturday at noon, followed by the championship matches at 6:30 p.m.

The seven—four seniors, two juniors and one sophomore—all qualified at the sub-district meet last weekend, helping their team earn a fifth place position.

Eric Lundeen, senior, at 191 pounds, along with fellow teammate Mark Shearman, 168 pound senior, placed first in the sub-district competition at Silverton last weekend.

Senior Martin Richards lost one costly take-down and subsequently finished second at Silverton, still assuring him a trip to Newberg. Juniors Mark Tuttle, 141 pounds, and Geoff Richards at 191 pounds, each placed third in last week's competition. Terry Smith, senior, 157 pounds, placed fourth, as did sophomore heavyweight Tony Castro.

If these individual top Sandy wrestlers win two matches this weekend, they will go on to the state tournament. Coach Calhoun said he was pleased with his wrestlers' performances last weekend and believes that as individuals representing Sandy, his seven men will place higher than the team as a whole faired at sub-district.

"The kids are healthy, and they've been working hard. I'm optimistic about their performances this weekend," said Calhoun.

Swim coach to speak

Carl von Tagen will present a slide lecture of the Sandy High School swimming team's successes of the present season at the Dad's Club meeting, Monday night, Feb. 25 at the high school library at 8 p.m. The group will also plan the activities for the remainder of the year. All dads of present, past and future students who are interested in the activities at the high school are invited to attend.

successful." Von Tagen said he is both happy and proud of his swimmers and their performances last weekend.

The boys, who lost the championship last year to McMinnville by a matter of points, tasted sweet revenge by drowning Mac this year, the second place finisher, 301-247.

Von Tagen said Virginia Hewgley and Annelde Oldenburg had especially outstanding swims. Melanie LeRoy beat the old girls' district diving record by 27 points. She was 50 points ahead of the second place diver and is now rated among the top six women divers in the state.

The Sandy girls finished the meet last Saturday with a total score of 214, behind Forest Grove with 249.

The boys 200 yard medley relay team set a new record at district and are now rated fourth in state. Sandy's boys 400 yard free relay team, who placed first last weekend, are rated fifth in state. Both teams will be travelling to Eugene this weekend.

Sandy High holds open gym

In line with Sandy high's policy of making its campus more accessible to the community, special "Open Gym" is held on Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons. On Wednesday, from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 4 p.m., SUHS hosts co-educational activities in basketball and volleyball, with the emphasis on boys' and girls' activities.

Comments Mike Kostrba, Sandy High's athletic director, "We're hoping to attract more girls to our Open Gym events. If enough show up, we may open both of our gymnasiums. We're interested in reaching out to the community and providing youngsters with those physical experiences that not only are healthy for them, but which build community spirit and pride in our school. We have had about 40 on Wednesday and between 60 and 80 on Sunday, but we can accommodate many more.

"I'd like to emphasize that one of the major high school priorities is extending its athletic program to involve more and more boys and girls. Already, SUHS offers programs in football, track, basketball, baseball, volleyball, swimming, tennis, golf, cross country, even water polo. The future depends to a large extent upon the interest generated in the community by activities such as Open Gym."

Cascade skiers keeping on top

Cascade ski team's three entries on the Can-Am racing circuit have been turning in impressive results. At Snowbasin, Utah, on a 12,025 ft. downhill course with a vertical drop of 2,500 ft., Charles Rowles was 25th (starting 59th), Mike Durtschi 43rd (starting 72nd) and Lee Englesby finished 44th (starting 76th). At Aspen, Englesby finished 18th from an 86th placed start, and Rowles placed 42nd from a 70th start. Durtschi was hurt in training and couldn't start at Aspen.

In the second Mite ski racing meet of the season on Mt. Hood, Jimmy Greenslade won the 11-12 year division with a 31.6 second time, the fastest of the day. Matt Robison and Derek Hanna tied for second. Peter Perrin won the boys 13 year division and Tony Hedges finished third. In 8 year and under, Sara Ringle was second among girls, and Peter Dodd, Cascader racing for Alpine-Nordic was first.

Cross-country ski racers from Cascade picked off the junior novice team title at the Kongsberger X-C Relays in Washington. The team of Dan Kavet, Tim Gibbons and Steve Gibbons finished first over a 5 kilometer course. In the second day's junior novice individual event, S. Gibbons placed second, T. Gibbons third, and Kavet finished fourth in a tight race that had only a 40 second spread between first and sixth place. John Anderson, despite a pulled leg muscle, finished fifth in the junior expert class over a 10-km. course.

The club's junior racers dominated the top finishes at the Jere Gillis Memorial Downhill held recently at Mt. Bachelor. In girls intermediate, Joyce Woodring placed second the first day, and third the following day. In girls novice, Deanne Woodring had back-to-back firsts, and Cindi Greenslade took two seconds. Bill Polits placed third and Tom Dodd fourth in the field of 42 intermediate boys. Novice boys found Jeff Jarmer with a second, and Phil Roth with a sixth.

In the Anderson Cup races at Hoodoo Bow, Mark Antis placed second, Mike Greenslade fourth and sixth, Jim Durtschi sixth and eighth, and Polits seventh in the I-boys division. In N-boys, Carl Durkheimer placed fifth. Joyce Woodring placed first and fourth, and Pam Ausman seventh in the girls novice.

Tom Dodd's fourth at Mt. Bachelor advanced him into Class A racer ranks, and Joyce Woodring moved into Intermediate following the Anderson Cup.
