

Bonsai demonstration held at center

Visitors to the Western Forestry Center on Sunday, March 24 will be treated to a demonstration of Bonsai, the art of training dwarfed potted trees. Mr. Timothy Boyle, past president of the Bonsai Society of Portland, will explain the art of Bonsai beginning at 2:30 p.m. in the Forestry Center's auditorium.

The techniques of artistic size-control of trees and shrubs, and pruning by asymmetry, will be skillfully applied to ordinary living trees.

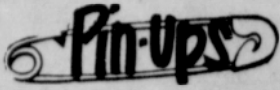

The cult of "the small" has long been a part of the Japanese cultural heritage, partly because of demands placed upon space by the mountainous terrain of a small and heavily populated island country. The Western world is privileged to share in this resultant cultural "export" from Japan.

Mr. Boyle will visit with interested observers, answer specific questions and suggest references for additional Bonsai study.

The Western Forestry Center located next to the Portland Zoo and OMSI is open from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. daily.

The regular admission fee to the Forestry Center (75 cents for adults, 50 cents for senior citizens and 25 cents for students) will admit visitors to the Bonsai demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale N. Price, South Carolina, welcomed a son, Bryan Nelson, born March 18. Mrs. Price is the former Dee Ann Rader. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Rader, Sandy, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Price, Georgetown, S.C. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Clapp, Sandy.

Camp Fire

Local Camp Fire leaders held their monthly meeting last week in the Sandy Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Plans were made for several future events, including an area day camp to be held here late this summer. Other topics of discussion were the sing ring to be held in the gym of the Sandy Intermediate School on March 28, Grand Council Fire on Tuesday, April 23 in the gym at Sandy High School and the trip to West Linn to be held this Saturday.

Girls who have made reservations with their leaders will meet in front of the Sandy Intermediate School at 11:30 a.m. and take a bus to Mary S. Young Park where they will participate in a hike and birthday part in honor of Camp Fire Girls 54th birthday.

Each group is taking a birthday cake to be put in with others for one large, giant cake. The festivities will be from 1 to 3 p.m. and Camp Fire officials are still hopeful that the event will be televised.

For further information please phone 668-5674, 663-4937, or 663-4066.

SANDY AREA Bluebirds, Dawn Miller, left, and Kristie Markwell, are using this poster to herald the National Birthday Week of the Campfire Girls from March 17 to 23.
