MHCC golfers take match

For the second week in a row, Mt. Hood's golf team dominated the other teams in the coastal division of the NWAACC League by more than 10 strokes. The Saint team had a combined team score of 304 Friday in Longview to easily top Clark with 316. Lower Columbia with 318 and Centralia with 323. A week prior to that, they shot a 307 in Vancouver, compared to Clark's 332, Centralia's 338 and Lower Columbia's 342. Their next match is Monday in Aberdeen.

Barlow shuts out The Dalles, 4-0

Their 4-0 baseball triumph at The Dalles Thursday was possibly the turning point in the season for Sam Barlow's baseball team.

It kept them on top of the Columbia Division standings, where no one really expected them to be halfway through the Wilco League season.

It also proved just how competitive they can be when they need to be. Bruin coach Dale Stebbins summed it up well by saying, "When you beat The Dalles in The Dalles you've really done something, but when you shut them out you've accomplished something super!"

The games, originally scheduled for 4 p.m. at Barlow, was moved to The Dalles because Barlow's field was wet and started at 5:30 p.m. The loss dropped The Dalles to

The Bruins scored two runs in the fourth inning on three consecutive singles by Kelly Ferris, Wolters and Tim Fitz. They produced another in the fifth frame on back-to-back doubles by Walt Stockfleth and Dan Nettleton.

Their final tally came in the sixth when Tim Fitz singled, moved to second on an error, to third on a wild pitch and scored on Greg Phillips's sacrifice fly.

Nettleton and Kelly Ferris each had two singles and a double in the game and Tim Fitz supplemented his pitching performance with two singles.

Barlow ended the games with a beautiful double play that went from shortstop Greg Phillips to second baseman Kelly Ferris to first baseman Jeff Hinshaw.

Breakfast to benefit Barlow team

Sam Barlow's American Legion baseball team will hold a pancake breakfast in the Barlow cafeteria 7:30-11 a.m. Saturday, April 26.

Money raised from the breakfast will go toward the team's trip to Hawaii this summer.

Rose Festival meet in trouble

From a planning standpoint, the annual Rose Festival track meet at Mt. Hood Community College has been a great success, Larry Campbell, vice-president of the Portland Rose Festival Association, said last week.

But unless the financial end of the meet improves this year, it will be dropped in the future, Campbell told members of the Greater Gresham Chamber of Commerce.

The annual track meet includes top prep stars from the Northwest.

Campbell also said the Rose Festival will host one of the two Transam car races scheduled for the West Coast this year.

Gresham nine rallies for win

Gresham's 8-7 loss at Oregon City Thursday was a real believe-it-or-not affair.

The Gophers hammered the ball for all their scores, but gave Oregon City six unearned runs on amazing errors, according to coach Bob Wellnitz.

It was 5-0 in favor of Gresham at the top of the fourth inning. The roof caved in. Oregon City came up with three runs in their half of the fourth on three infield errors and two hits. The Pioneers tied it, 5-5, in the fifth on two more Gresham errors, a walk and a single.

The score see-sawed with Gresham typing it 7-7 in the seventh. With Oregon City runners on second and third with one out in the ninth, however, a Gresham infielder dropped a routine fly ball and that was the ball game.

"I don't know what that and the 15-0 Lakeridge game will do to us," said Wellnitz. "It sure didn't help me. We have the toughest part of our schedule left."

On the bright side, senior Mike Childs went 3-3 at the plate and drove in three runs against Oregon City. Dave Tarilton went the distance, walked two and struck out 11.

Gresham bounced back behind the pitching of Tim Pflaum to stop The Dalles, 4-1, Friday. The senior righthander gave up three hits to the first four batters to let one run in and load the bases in the first inning, but turned a ground ball to the mound into a double play to retire the side. After that, he allowed only two hits the rest of the game.

The Gophers rallied in the fifth inning, when sophomore Craig Campa led off with a single, Childs singled and Rick Lambert sacrificed them to third. Jack Farr then laid down a perfect squeeze bunt to score Campa with Chi-L coming in on a throwing error. Dale Normand and Tarilton singled to drive in two more insurance runs to complete the inning.

Tarilton, Campa and Farr had two hits apiece against the Indians.

Lancers come close but lose again

Reynolds again came close but dropped two more Wilco League baseball games last week.

They lost a 1-0 decision at Hood River on Thursday and fell short in a 5-4 contest against Lake Oswego Friday.

Hood River's Jeff Lahti struck out 11 Reynolds batters and allowed just two hits to keep his team in first Thursday. Hood River lost Friday, however, to leave Sam Barlow alone at the top of the Columbia Division.

The Lancers played their eighth straight one-run game against Lake Oswego. Ron Sauer's home run and Brad Blyth's two-run single spotted the Lakers an early lead and a final Reynolds rally fell short.

Centennial rips Oswego, 12-7

Things have not gone well for Centennial's baseball team this season, but they put it together for a 12-7 victory Thursday against Lake Oswego.

The win came after two tough losses last week for the Eagles. They lost a frightening 25-1 contest at The Dalles Monday and were whipped 7-1 by Barlow Tuesday.

But after losing to the league leaders, the young Eagle squad produced three runs in the fifth and sixth innings to insure their edge over the Lakers.

They combined five walks and a single by Brent Dickerson to push across three runs in the first inning Thursday. Senior Steve Hettum led off the second frame with a single and Greg Kirchem ripped a double on a perfect hit-and-run play. Hettum scored all the way from first and Kirchem came in when they overthrew third base.

Centennial had 12 stolen bases in the game and four thefts of third base.

A Laker rally and Brian Torkelson's home run tied it at 5-5 in the top of the third, but Centennial came back to take the final lead with a four-run rally in their half of the inning. Mick Tarsia, Kirchem, Dave Crawford and Rich Core drew walks and Mark Hettum and Gordon Vavrek drove them in with singles.

Steve Hettum was 3-5 in the game, extending his hitting streak to four games. He and Kirchem each scored three runs against Lake Oswego. Mark Hettum was 2-4 at the plate.

"We are beginning to hit the ball a lot better," said Centennial coach Bob Daggett. "We have had a few bad breaks; lost several one-run games. It is a very well-balanced division this year."

Girls athletics increase at all levels

Seventy per cent of Oregon's elementary and secondary schools reported an increase in the number of girls participating in interschool athletics over the last three years. State School Supt. Verne A. Duncan announced last week.

Forty-three per cent said participation by boys increased over the same period. About one of every four students takes part in interschool sports. Sixty-three per cent are boys.

Duncan said a recent State Department of Education survey of athletic programs at Oregon's 1,283 public schools shows men coaches are paid more than women at all levels.

For instance, the average extra pay a man head coach at a high school receives yearly is $951. A woman at the same level makes $766.

At the junior high level, men head coaches average $590; women get $498. In the elementary schools, men average $381 while women are paid $298.

The salary difference between sexes is less if pay for football and wrestling coaches is excluded.

Three-fourths of Oregon's 6,400 coaches are men. The survey shows the percentage of coaches who are men is highest in the larger schools.

Fifty-six per cent of the schools reported that their facilities do not adequately meet the needs of existing programs. But less than one-third anticipate adding new facilities.

Three of every four schools said their facilities do not adequately meet the needs of existing programs. But less than one-third anticipate adding new facilities.

Three of every four schools said their athletic budgets are sufficient, but two of three expect budget increases.

Duncan said the survey results will be used by a committee reviewing girls' athletic programs in Oregon schools.

Even pros do it

The fellow in this picture is number one in Chile and number two in all of South America. He won over $60,000 in prize money last year on the pro tour. Yet in this picture he violates the most important fundamental in tennis—WATCHING THE BALL HIT THE STRINGS.

Golfers are smart. They just keep the head down for a count or two after the stroke. With the action in tennis, it is hard to hold your eyes on the ball all the way into the racket.

Curiosity killed the cat, but it has killed many more shots in tennis and golf than cats. Ask Jaime Fillol. It's hard to watch the ball in any language!
