THE 1976 EPA GAS MILEAGE CHAMP IS HERE

The Datsun B-210 is the top gas-saver. Again. In EPA tests of 1976 models, it averaged a whopping 41 MPG on the highway (the best of all cars tested), 29 in the city.* Three gas-saving B-210 models to choose from. All with fully reclining bucket seats, power-assist front disc brakes, tinted glass, carpeting, rear window defogger and a spunky 1400cc high cam engine.

Nice thing is, all these high standards are included in Datsun's low price. EPA dynamometer estimate. Manual transmission. Actual MPG may be more or less, depending on the condition of your car and how you drive.
