

MARY HILTON of Stretch and Sew will coordinate a fashion show at the luncheon meeting of the Sandy Christian Women's Club on Friday, April 21.

'Spring in Style' theme of Women's show

"Spring in Style" is the theme of the Sandy Christian Women's Club salad luncheon on Friday, April 21. The 11:45 a.m. meeting will be held at T.J.'s Restaurant in Sandy. Trish Lenihan from Medora, N.D., will be the guest speaker and singer. Trish is a former rodeo queen and a national representative for christian women's clubs. The special feature will be a Stretch and Sew supper style show by Mary Hilton and Kathy Deitz. Mary teaches the Stretch and Sew classes at Menlo Park and has combined her talent for sewing and modeling for the show. Babysitting for children under 6 will be provided at the Sandy Assembly of God Church. Reservations for the luncheon can be made by phoning Irene Blount at 668-4214. Women of all denominations who are interested in the Christian faith are invited to attend Christian Women's Club meetings.

Boring to review reading program

BORING—Superintendent Dave Gillespie has asked the school board here to pick up expenses for a summer reading program for students with reading difficulties. Cost of the program would be about $700, Gillespie said, which would pay a teacher's salary and fringe benefits. The board will decide on the request at its May session. "The program has been

Write-in bid falls short

Only one name was scribbled in April 4 as a write-in candidate from Clackamas County for the Mt. Hood Community College District and Gresham Union High School District board races. And it was the same person in each race. Dale R. Fraser, 21735 SE Bohna Park Road, Boring, was the only name to appear as a write-in candidate for either the Mt. Hood at-large position or the GUHS position 1 seat. In the Mt. Hood race, Fraser finished 2,289 votes behind the winner, Gladys Brooks. In the Gresham race, he trailed winner David Young by only 1,371 votes. But there's always next year.
