SEVENTH AVENUE

At the close of the Depression, a young man from New York's lower east side applies all of his instincts for survival toward achieving wealth and power in the garment district in "NBC's Best Seller," Seventh Avenue, beginning a three-night encore run on NBC-TV's "The Big Event," Sunday, July 16.

Jay Blackman (Steven Keats), in his late 20s, has been unsuccessful in finding steady employment and becomes an expert at crashing banquets to feed himself and his family. Though his stealing is the subject of heated discussions between his sympathetic mother (Anna Berger) and his proud father (Mike Kellin), he is determined to support them.

Jay's life changes when he attends a wedding reception and meets Rhoda Gold (Dori Brenner, pictured with Keats), a clerk in a Brooklyn dress shop. When he learns that the women's clothing market has been highly profitable even during the Depression, he decides to pursue a career in the fast-paced and often ruthless business.
