

Summer came back (at least for one day!)

SOME HEARTY hikers took advantage of the sun this Tuesday to take the scenic route up the slopes of Mt. Hood (above), while others decided that their feet and-or hearts couldn't stand the strain, so they took the Magical Mile chairlift (below left). And what better way to cool off than a plunge into Roslyn Lake, as Kevin Plumlee, and Kenny and Rusty Pearson will gladly attest.

photos by Mark Floyd

GLASS BUTTERFLY

SMART PARTS

Fashion at the bottom . . . from the gathered and dimpled waists to the narrowed leg openings and tiny cuffs everything about the shape looks new. Fuller, softer and roomier pants in the most-favored fabrics . . . all ready to be topped with newsy shirts, blouses, vests and sweaters. This season's silhouette at its best with pants by Smart Parts in junior sizes. 24.00 to 30.00

