

AWARD WINNERS DISPLAY

•Kevin D. Barry, Lake Oswego, award winning photographer, will be displaying his photographic work, June 4 thru 10th at the Eastport Plaza. Kevin is a 6 year Veteran in the photographic field, specializing in Family Home Portraits and individual portraits. The work he will display proves the mood and impact each photograph captures.

Kevin is owner and photographer at DYNAMIC PORTRAIT DESIGN, in Lake Oswego.

The satisfaction that comes from capturing some fine aspect of an interesting personality is a reward high on the list for most portrait photographers, according to Charles Hobart, of Classic Studios.

"I saved up for my first camera when I was still in grade school, and I was quickly fascinated by the possibilities photography had for making time and emotion stand still," he says. Mr. Hobart, whose studio is at 1005 N.E.

Broadway, near Lloyd Center, does both portrait and wedding photography.

Dave Spangler of McCall Photography sold his first photograph at the age of 12, taken with his Kodak Instamatic. After that, his interest in photography increased, until at the age of 24 he bought a studio and camera shop in Camas, with the support of his new bride, Teri. After five years, Dave wanted to spend more time as a photographer and less time as a camera salesman. That's when he heard of McCall Photography of Oregon City, situated three blocks from the McLoughlin House. Just one look, and Dave fell in love with the beautifully preserved 1914 home in which the studio is located. McCall was looking for a high caliber photographer to take over his business, and found that in Dave Spangler.

Dave specializes in senior photography and family portraiture. Almost requested photographers. Although the portraits of people in warmth of his work their homes or outdoors, speaks for itself, it's he is equally capable of good to know that fine studio photography. Jerry's experience as graphers of Washington, Oregon, and America. His education includes college photography courses and continued education from the finest photographers in the nation. Dave has just returned from Israel, fulfilling a life-time dream of photographing the Holy Lands. His award winning photography may be viewed at McCall Photography, 610 Jefferson, Oregon City.
