Sandy seniors get scholarships

A pair of Sandy High School seniors have been awarded scholarships through the Gresham Elks Club.

Paula Woster was named Most Valuable Student for the girls and Anna George was second. Students from Sandy, Centennial, Columbia, Corbett, Gresham, Lutheran, Reynolds and Sam Barlow participated in the contest.

Woster received a scholarship of $350; George, $225.

By winning the contest, Woster qualified for the district competition held at the Gateway Elks Lodge. She was awarded third place worth an additional $100.

Her application will now be sent to the state level to be judged. State will be held March 6-7 in Eugene.

Ron and Marilee Miller

Boring couple marries

Marilee Fox and Ron Miller, both of Boring, were married in November at the Sandy Assembly of God Church.

Marlys Fox, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Debi Young, Teresa Warner and Tracy Pierson.

Roz Rae Geren served as flower girl.

The best man was Steve Anderson, cousin of the groom. Other groomsmen were Denny Miller, the groom's brother, Dave Pursel and Bill Anderson.

Titus Fox, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fox of Boring. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Boring.

Both are graduates of Sandy Union High School.

Special guests at the wedding included Bertha Ellis of Rialto, Calif., aunt of the bride, and the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Hudson.

The Millers' honeymoon included a trip to Disneyland, as well as Mexico, Reno and Las Vegas. The couple now makes their home in the Big Valley Mobile Home park south of Sandy.

Women golfers sought for club

The Mt. View 9-Hole Golf Club opened its season last Tuesday at the Mountain View course in Boring.

The women's club meets every Tuesday morning. Six free lessons will be given new members by club pro Jack Beaudoin. Women interested in joining the club should call the pro shop at 663-4869.

Eileen Felton is president of the club, Wanda Schroder is vice president, Thelma Cody, secretary-treasurer and Aggie Barker, sergeant-at-arms.

Prime Cuts slate fundraisers

The Sandy Prime Cuts, a 4-H club whose projects include raising sheep, cows and swine, met last week to discuss fund-raising projects.

The group will be selling ink pens to raise money, according to club reporter Lisa

Read. Dean Powers also gave a talk on the feeding and nutrition of farm animals.

The next scheduled meeting of the Prime Cuts will be March 21 at Sandy High School. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m.

Thomas on Seattle Pacific list

A Sandy woman has been named to the Dean's list at Seattle Pacific University.

Ruth Thomas, a sophomore majoring in nursing, made the list for the fall quarter. Honored students are required to maintain a grade point average of at least 3.25.
