Hospital adds to emergency room facilities

Kaiser Sunnyside Medical Center in North Clackamas has completed a $1.7 million addition to its emergency department, tripling the size of the department to 7,600 square feet.

The hospital serves Kaiser Foundation Health Plan members and other patients in Clackamas County and southeast Portland.

Additions to the emergency department include a triage section, an X-ray/trauma room with film processing capabilities, a psychiatric holding room, five cardiactrauma treatment rooms, additional holding rooms and a conference room and nursing office.

Existing areas were also expanded, including the reception area, east room, physician offices and sleeping area, nursing station, treatment rooms, utility areas and medication areas.

A unique feature of the remodeled area is the capability of monitoring cardiac patients in the emergency area to determine whether admission is necessary. Monitor display and printout units at the nursing station allow nurses to be constantly aware of cardiac function for as many as five patients.

A late-season snowfall blanketed U.S. Highway 26 early this week and brought delight to local skiers. Many ski areas, including Mt. Hood Meadows, were reporting their highest snow total of the lean year.
