to those in the life insurance field. Experts in areas such as estate planning, taxes, inflation and law will share their knowledge in the series of seminars.

Local salesman cited for marketing record

Sandy resident Lee Bryant was recently named to Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company's President's Club for outstanding performance in marketing.

Bryant sells telephone systems and services to businesses in the electrical and electronics industry as an account executive for PNB in Portland.

Being a top producer in revenue and product sales qualified him for the honor. He's in the top 6 percent of PNB's sales force.

PNB President A.V. Smith honored Bryant at a recent marketing seminar at Salishan Lodge on the Oregon Coast.

PNB serves telephone customers in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Lumber business drops

The western lumber industry operated at 77.5 percent of its practical operating capacity during February, according to the Western Wood Products Association (WWPA).

That performance was a drop from January's revised capacity figure of 84 percent. During February 1980, the industry operated at 90 percent of capacity.

Year-to-date figures for the first two months of 1981 show the industry operating at 80.7 percent of capacity.

"Our story really hasn't changed since the western lumber industry started the decline in production about a year ago," said Economic Services Director Fred Reseburg of WWPA.

"While the industry has improved moderately from its record-breaking low levels set last spring, it's still tied to the high interest rates. As long as most of the consumers are priced out of the home-buying market, the industry will maintain its slow course," he added.

Because it requires time to assemble and compile data, the industry's capacity performance is always published the second month after the month reported.

Annual lumber production in the 12 Western states normally totals approximately 18 billion board feet. That is approximately 60 percent of the total U.S. softwood lumber output.

Proctor leaves bank

Randy Proctor, loan officer at Clackamas County Bank, has left the bank to enter a new business called Northwest Stepping Stone Company.

The company manufactures and sells ornamental concrete products for gardens and patios. The business is located on Baty Road in Sandy.

Proctor joined the bank in 1974 and will still be associated with the bank as a director.

The bank also announced this week that James Morgan, a longtime resident of rural Gresham, has been elected director of the bank. Morgan was educated locally and is vice president of Glendale Farms, Inc., a nursery and trucking business. Morgan is a member of the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee.

He replaces Howard Berger who recently retired as director of the bank.

The Second Coming of Christ

"The purpose of the second coming"

1 TIM. 4:6-8

He comes to give life to those who have accepted HIM and who gave their lives in service for HIM. Those who love the APPEARING of the LORD will prepare for THIS GLORIOUS event. They also will delight in meditating and conversing about the SECOND ADVENT OF JESUS.

"When Christ comes"

1 THESS. 4:16-17 CHRIST will come with "a shout," the "voice of the archangel," and a "trump." There is nothing stealthy connected with the coming of the LORD. Those who have died in CHRIST will be called forth from the graves. Righteous living will be TRANSLATED without experiencing death.

REV. 20:5 The WICKED are not resurrected at this time, but sleep on for 1,000 years.

1 THESS. 4:17 CHRIST's feet do not touch the earth; the righteous are CAUGHT UP TO MEET HIM IN THE AIR. The righteous then are taken to HEAVEN.

1 COR. 15:51-53 The LIVING RIGHTEOUS are changed in a moment when the LAST TRUMPET SOUNDS. Immortality is bestowed when the saints are resurrected and the living are translated.
