Colt, Proctor wed

Julie Ann Colt of Boring and Royal Dean Proctor of Sandy were married July 25 at the Sandy Assembly of God Church.

A reception was also held at the church.

The bride is the daughter of Stephen and Virginia Colt of Boring. She was a 1979 Sandy Union High School graduate and is employed at the Gresham Community Hospital.

The groom is the son of Will and Evelyn Proctor of Sandy, and is also a 1979 graduate of SUHS. He is employed by the Portland Excavating and Maintenance Company.

The bride wore a diamond and pearl necklace that was given to the bride's mother by her father as a wedding present.

The honor attendant was Jeanne Duff of Portland.

The best man was Bob Rathke of Sandy.

The bridesmaids were Karen Hashagen of Woodburn, Robin Dodson of Sandy, and Teri Wright of Rhododendron.

The ushers were Steve Veley of Boring, Jim Bolander of Sandy, Rayth Buswell of Sandy, Mike Martin of Sandy, Tom Grandy of Wemme, Jeff Colt, the bride's brother, from Boring, and Floyd Proctor, the groom's brother, from Sandy.

The flower girl was Emily Proctor of Gresham.

The couple are making their home in Sandy.

Sixty attend reunion

Sixty members of the Richey clan, descendants of Stuart, Caleb and Eliza Richey Akin, who crossed the plains from Iowa to Oregon in 1852, gathered for their annual meeting at the Pleasant Valley School Aug. 8.

The land was donated to the school by Stuart Richey.

Although a dozen or so came from Seattle, it was determined that the one coming from the greatest distance was Vera Kersterson Baimbridge, who came from Elkton, Ore.

Olive Richey, age 92, of Milwaukie, was the oldest member present, while Lucy Lewis, 18 months, was the youngest. Recognition and mementoes were given to those who were attending the meeting for the first time.

Loreta Richey Moore, the group's historian, gave a genealogical report. Alice Richey Rypczynski gave an interesting history of the area as it relates to the family's ancestors, and before lunch took a group to see the sites of the first settlements.

Boring group sets meeting

The Boring Neighborhood Advisory Committee will hold its next meeting Aug. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Boring Fire Station.

Final decisions on a three-year list of neighborhood improvement projects include street and sidewalk improvements, storm drainage improvements, traffic lights, and a community center.

The committee meetings are open to the public.

SUHS senior in USAF

Randy Kubitz, a 1981 graduate of Sandy High School, has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program, according to SSgt. Dan Baker, the local Air Force recruiter.

Kubitz, son of Wayne and Barbara Kubitz of Gresham, is scheduled for enlistment in the regular Air Force on April 5, 1982. Upon successfully completing the Air Force's six-week basic training course, he will receive further training in his career field as an airlift bombardment maintenance specialist.

He will earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force while attending basic and other Air Force technical training schools.

Wall returns after serving in Germany

Staff Sgt. Joseph Wall, a 1973 graduate of Sandy High School, has just returned from three years in Germany where he served as Redeye Air Defense section leader with 1st Battalion 4th Infantry.

Wall has completed eight years with the military, six in Germany.

His wife, Susan, joined him in Germany. On coming home, they bring with them their first child, Mishelle, 2. Grandparents are Joseph (Carl) Wall of Milwaukie, Doris Kelley of Boring and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DaNune of Tacoma, Wash.

The Wall family will be stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., for the next 16 to 18 months.

Good rodeo stock expected at county fair

Some "mighty mean critters" are expected to be testing the 300 cowboys from all parts of the nation that will be competing at the annual rodeo at Canby as part of the Clackamas County Fair.

Twenty of the feisty animals that the Sombrero Stock Company brought to the fair this year from its ranch in central Oregon were selected for use at the bruising International Rodeo Association (IRA) national finals at Tulsa, Okla., last fall.

"This," said Ken Marts, rodeo superintendent of the Clackamas County Fair, "should tell us something about the quality of stock being made available for this year's rodeo. A cowboy has to have both skill and gumption when he tackles one of these beasts."

The Raleigh Lights Clackamas County Fair IRA world championship rodeo is a nightly event at the fair, which continues through Saturday.

The rodeo performances start each evening at 7:30 p.m. Admission to the rodeo is free to all general admission ticket holders.

Major events at the rodeo include both bareback and saddle-back bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, girl's barrel racing, calf riding for kids, and a new feature this year, kid's bull riding, open to youngsters 13 to 15 years of age.

Two new sets of bleachers have been added to the rodeo arena facilities at the fairgrounds this year, adding considerable new seating capacity, according to Marts. About 6,000 can be seated now for each performance.

New steel chutes were installed last year and fair officials expect to update rodeo arena facilities even more in the next two years.

A variety of foods available at county fair

From corn-on-the-cob to barbecue dinners, there'll be no dearth of food selection at the Clackamas County Fair at Canby.

"The fair is always a gourmand's delight, but this year I think our concessionaires have really outdone themselves," said Jerry Mickelsen, fair manager. Never before, she adds, have so many people commented on the variety and the excellence of the food.

Specialized delicacies being offered at the fair this week, in addition to corn-on-the-cob and the traditional hot dogs and hamburgers, include egg rolls and teriyaki, fried dough taste-pleasers, tacos, pizzas, candied apples, German sausage, french fries, and a variety of ice creams and other dairy products.

Some of the booths offer complete breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners in addition to short orders. The 4-H Kitchen will again be open as will the three permanent main lawn booths operated by Carol and Fred Riedel, the Canby American Legion, and the Canby Jaycees.

This year, as in the past, barbecue dinners will be served each evening in the grove. The Canby Rotary Club has scheduled a chicken barbecue Wednesday evening. The Clackamas Broiler Growers chicken will be served Thursday evening.

The Canby Lions Club will provide a beef barbecue Friday evening, and the Oregon City Elks Auxiliary will serve another chicken barbecue Saturday evening.
