Special areas planned for public smoking

You're going to have to watch where you're at when you light up a cigarette in the future.

The new Oregon Indoor Clean Air Act, signed by Gov. Vic Atiyeh July 20, prohibits smoking in certain enclosed public places, except in designated smoking areas. It becomes effective July 1, 1983.

According to Sen. Rod Monroe, a major sponsor of the bill, "This is a successful conclusion to a long and difficult battle. The passage and signing of this bill is a very significant step in the continuing story of Oregon's sensitive and responsive government and is a great step forward for the health and comfort of Oregonians."

The Oregon Indoor Clean Air Act defines "public places" as any enclosed indoor area open to and frequented by the public, including but not limited to restaurants, with a capacity of 30 or more. Bowling centers, retail stores, banks, commercial establishments, educational facilities, nursing homes, auditoriums, arenas, meeting rooms and grocery stores are also covered by the Act.

"For many considerate smokers the Act will mean freedom to smoke in the smoking sections of public places, comfortable in the knowledge that they are not harming the lungs and eyes of non-smokers," Monroe said.

Although the Act doesn't become effective until 1983, many businesses have already implemented some of the practices required by the bill.

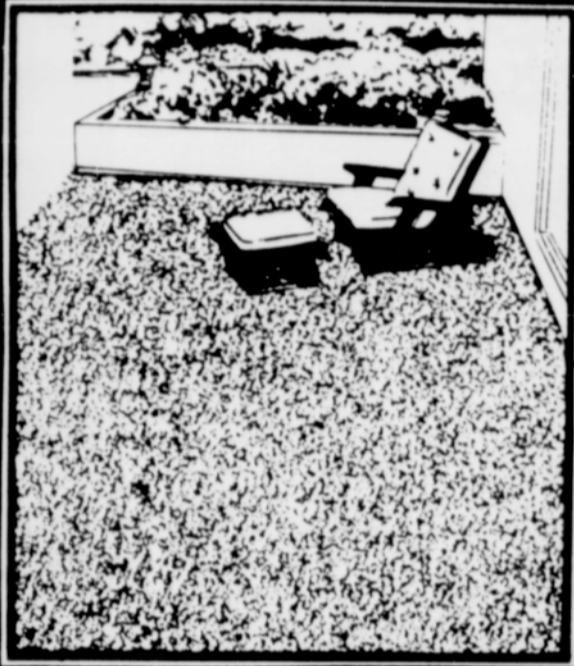

According to Lamont Smith, vice president of the Red Lion-Thunderbird Motor Inns, non-smoking areas have been available for more than two years in all 43 locations. As an extra consideration, the chain also has non-smoking guest rooms, as well as restricted areas in restaurants.
