Woman relives satanic ritual days

by BARBARA WATERHOUSE
For The Post

"Michelle Remembers," by Michelle Smith and Lawrence Pazder, is the true story of a 5-year-old girl who was used by a group of Satanists in their most important rituals.

These Satanists used sophisticated techniques of psychological manipulation to inhibit Michelle—not merely to make her forget, but, if she should remember, to make her not tell.

At the age of 27, the forgotten 14 months of torture and terror had to be relived and eradicated before she could get on with her life. It was a terrifying contest with the cruelest of adversaries across of void of 22 months.

Her psychiatrist, Pazder, wrote, "It was my privilege to witness as she risked the abyss, venturing far beyond her normal memory pool to somewhere at the very core of her being. Perhaps it was what Jungians call the 'base of the psyche,' the meeting ground of our ancestral past and our present, the source of myth and symbol, the juncture of mind and body, heart and soul.

"Most have touched it only for fleeting moments; Michelle visited it for hundreds of hours. There, acting with the courage that Rollo May says allows us to move in spite of despair, she grappled with the polarities of life and death, love and hate, light and dark, good and evil."

Her achievement—the psychological tenacity of a 5-year-old child in the face of sheer madness—will confront and inform many generations.

Smith taught art at Camouson College in Victoria, B.C., and is now finishing her degree at the University of Victoria.

Pazder, after two years as a doctor in West Africa, took a graduate degree in psychological medicine from McGill University. He is a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and is in private practice in Victoria, B.C.

This is among many new books now available at Sandy Public Library.

New Library Policy
The Sandy Library Board approved a change in the Sandy Public Library's policy concerning the time a book may be checked out.

The new policy will allow for a three-week check-out period with one week grace. The new-patron book limit was also liberalized slightly, from two books on the first visit to three books on the first visit.

The Sharks are ready to rumble in Sandy High School's "West Side Story" and they will have a special guest. Miss Ann Sothern will attend the Nov. 20 presentation.

Sothern slates Sandy stop

Motion picture and television actress Ann Sothern will make a Sandy appearance to benefit the Mt. Hood Hospice Nov. 20 when she attends the Sandy High School production, "West Side Story."

Miss Sothern, who is making a number of appearances in the Portland area for the hospice's benefit, will arrive by limousine for the 8 p.m. performance at the Sandy Community Theater to greet local dignitaries and meet with the student actors prior to their performance.

This will mark Miss Sothern's only Sandy appearance while she is visiting Oregon to do the hospice benefits.

Mt. Hood Hospice of Sandy provides supportive care for persons with life-threatening illnesses and their families.

Tickets for this special performance will be $5 for adults, with $1.50 going to the hospice. Senior citizen and children's tickets will remain the same price.

Benefit tickets are on sale at Sandy Union High School, beginning this week. Tickets for all other performances are also available.

Miss Ann Sothern

Obituary

Eugene Davis

Memorial service for Eugene Davis were held Oct. 29 at the Gresham United Methodist Church. He died Oct. 24 in a Portland hospital at the age of 71.

Mr. Davis, born March 27, 1910, lived in Boring. He was a homebuilder for 25 years and owned the Superior Saw Shop in Gresham prior to his retirement.

He is survived by his wife, Beatrice; two sons, Richard of Beaverton and William of Anacortes, Wash.; two daughters, Shirley Fox of Gresham and Susan Shaull of Hood River; one brother, Lynn of Guam; two sisters, Mildred Graves of Sandy and Louise Hundley of Gresham, and 10 grandchildren.

The family suggests remembrances be contributed to the Gresham United Methodist Church.

Mr. Goodwrench has 5 ways to get better mileage

1. tune up $38.40
If your car is properly tuned, it may go 3 to 9% farther on a tankful of gas.

2. align up $24.00
A front-end alignment can reduce drag and save gas!

3. clean up $25.90
Dirty filters waste gas! If your car needs a clean oil filter, get one with an oil change and lube job. Ask to have your air and fuel filters checked, too!

4. air up
You can lose 2% on gas mileage for every pound your tires are under-inflated.

5. slow up
Your car runs efficiently on the highway at 50 miles per hour.

For most 4-cylinder GM cars without air conditioning. Check your maintenance schedule for recommended maintenance intervals.

For an oil change, lube and clean oil filter. Check your maintenance schedule for recommended maintenance intervals.
