Election set for budget, board seats

Voters in the Sandy Elementary District will elect two members to the board of education next Tuesday and have an opportunity to voice their opinion on the budget some of the candidates worked on.

After the smoke had cleared at budget preparation time, the levy was $2,264,428. That is the amount that voters will see on the ballot.

However, the district hadn't budgeted above last year's state support because of the uncertainty of what the Oregon Legislature would do with its budget-cutting knife during the special session early this year.

As a result, Superintendent Clark Lund has said he will recommend to the board of education that they cut taxes accordingly after voter approval of the operating levy.

Board Position 4 expires June 30, 1983. It is for the final year on a term to which Sherry Lawson was elected. She stepped down last year to return to teaching.

Position 5 is a four-year term, expiring June 30, 1986.

POSITION 4

Incumbent Sharron Cox was appointed to the board of education in October 1981 to fill the vacancy left when Lawson returned to teaching.

"I came on the board with the position of a child advocate," she said, "stressing everything we do we should ask 'Is this of benefit to the children.'"

"I'd like to continue that. It has to be blended with good fiscal concerns, but still that's the ultimate goal."

The mother of two district students and a preschooler, Cox has been a Sandy resident for 11 1/2 years. She has been involved in PTA and Scouting and is a Firwood area resident.

Geraldine Richardson is opposing Cox for Position 4. Five of her children have attended Sandy Elementary District schools and she attended the schools herself.

"I've been interested in education because of the effect it has on our young people," she said, "and because of my interest in my children."

Richardson served on the budget committee and is a Firwood resident.

She said the financial situation is "utmost in everybody's mind."

"I would work to maintain a quality education at a price everybody can afford," she said.

POSITION 5

Paul Hayball is a member of the budget committee from the Keiso area.

The father of children from 2 to 13 years of age, Hayball said, "The school board needs people who can make good, solid business decisions." He works in the corporate purchasing department for the Hyster Company and thinks that experience would serve him well on the board.

"The bottom line is you have to have affordable education," he said. "I don't want a washed down program for my kids, but at the same time, I think you have to hold back."

A writer and small timber farmer, William Lenon believes the board has to look at the "economic ability of the community" to support the school district.

With one child attending Firwood School and another who will, Lenon is interested in the education process for the next several years and, like most parents, has ideas of programs he'd like to see implemented.

"Looking down the line, I think I'd like to see reinstating some sort of talented and gifted program in a couple years," he said, "or look at some alternative to that."

He would also like to see some consideration given to teaching students how a community and the real world operates.

Dorothy Mills, a retired educator living in the Firwood district, sees her experience as an asset on the board.

"I'd like to see education as a priority in our area and would like to give representation to the people who agree," she said.

A member of the budget committee for four years, Mills said, "There is so much more to education than just dollars and cents."

She is interested in curriculum and the interests of the children.

"I've lived here 20 years and I think I understand the things people in this area consider unique," Mills said.

Longtime resident dies

Word has been received in the past week of the death of Agnes Gunderson Nelson, a longtime Sandy resident.

Born in the Sandy Ridge-Kelso area in 1896 to the Arnie Gundersons, an early and prominent pioneer family, she attended Sandy Ridge School and as a young woman married Milton Nelson.

After his death in 1952, Mrs. Nelson sold the family home and moved to Lodi, Calif., to be near her son.

She is survived by her son, Everett of California; two brothers, Alfred Gunderson and Harold Gunderson, both of Sandy, and a sister, Olga Miller of Long Beach, Calif.

Ashes have been forwarded to the Sandy Funeral Home for interment beside her husband, Milton, in the Scandinavian section of Firhill Cemetery.

CCB names Hoodland manager

Steve Simonsen, who recently joined Clackamas County Bank, has been named manager of the bank's Hoodland office in Welches, according to Kent Hall, chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

Simonsen was raised and educated in the Grants Pass area. He has been active in the American Institute of Banking and has taken many banking courses.

Simonsen came to Clackamas County Bank from an independent bank in Southern Oregon where he spent three years as a loan and investment officer. His previous experience includes 15 years with a statewide bank, with assignments in operations, lending and branch management.

SPECIAL LEVY FOR COLLEGE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS		22
QUESTION: Shall Mt. Hood Community College District be authorized a $1,640,598 operating levy for 1982-83 outside constitutional limits?		21
PURPOSE: Mt. Hood Community College offers vocational, lower division transfer and adult education courses to more than 20,000 individual students at a cost per student less than the state average for community colleges and public schools. These programs are financed by state aid, student tuition and fees, local property taxes and other sources. The college's current property tax authority is not sufficient to meet current program needs primarily because of reduced state aid and despite significant increases in tuition and fees. With this operating levy, local support for operations of the college in 1982-83 will be $8,372,305. The college's current tax base will authorize $6,731,707, all of which is eligible for partial state funding. The remaining need of $1,640,598 will be authorized by this operating levy.		20
If the measure is approved, $590,612 of the operating levy in the 1982-83 fiscal year are eligible for partial state funding. However, $1,049,986 of the taxes will be totally financed by local taxpayers without any partial state payment.		19
